

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The senior play, "Nothing But the Truth," has been very successfully played in eastern cities. A great deal of talent rests in the senior class, and it will be able to put on the drama very successfully. The cast which has been selected is:

- Bob Bennett ... Kenneth Thompson. Mr. Ralston ... Norman Rossell Mrs. Ralston ... Eunice Bolton Bishop Doran ... Chester Phillips Clarence Van Dusen ... Chester Fritz Dick Donnelly ... Grant Kirk Owen Ralston ... Vivian Merrifield Ethel ... Charlotte Newhouse Mabel ... Odessa Malloy Sabel ... Dorothy Longmire Martha ... Katherine Carpenter Miss Owsley is dramatic coach.

The seniors have received their personal cards and invitations.

The Steelhead for the month of April will be put out entirely by the junior class. Short stories, sketches, poems, jokes, personals and pictures are some of the things which will make this number one of the most attractive Steelheads published so far this year.

Editor-in-chief ... Gertrude Fredden Poems ... Doris Bennett Sketches ... Sarah Hartman Personals ... Robert Saunders School News ... Leona Hardison Athletics ... Clarence Lamborn Jokes ... Clarence Allen

On senior flunk day, April 6, every senior went for a day's outing at Mill creek falls. Mr. Abramson, Miss Marsh and Miss Owsley accompanied the class on its picnic.

Dr. Clark of Pacific University at Forest Grove addressed the students of the high school April 6.

The sophomore class held a picnic last Saturday, April 9. Only 30 members of the class hiked up Mill creek, but those 30 certainly had a good time.

Several members of the senior high school featured in a little comedy, "A Romance of The Dalles." These movie stars were: Alan Woolley, the villain, Kenneth Thompson, the hero, in love with Geneva Schoren, the heroine, and Isabel Crofton, a friend of the heroine. This film will be presented at the Casino Theater next week.

Mrs. Kelly and Mr. Hoskins, both of Portland, delivered lectures to the high school students April 11.

A Y. W. C. A. circus will be given at the high school April 29. It will be one of the biggest events of the school year, the committee in charge announces.

MERMAID FROCK IS LATEST SPRING CREATION

By United Press LONDON, (By mail.)—The freak fashions which inevitably accompany springtime madness promise this season to surpass anything that has gone before in the way of daring and novelty.

Dame Fashion has been having a confab with Father Neptune and the net result is decidedly "fishy."

One of them is the mermaid frock, which is a close-fitting affair entirely composed of paillettes which overlap one another in the approved fish-scale style. These paillettes are of iridescent shades of silver, green and blue. No trimming or ornament of any kind is worn with the frock and corsets are doffed so that the sinuous mermaid effect is complete.

Another fishy tad is the kirtle composed of painted sea shells. With this is worn a head-dress of similar design, or, maybe, of tinted pearls.

For those whose systems cannot assimilate too much sea breeze, a few Hawaiian modes have been thrown in. The one which is likely to excite most comment is the Hawaiian skirt. This extends from the waist

ALWAYS REMEMBER—A CHAMP'S A CHAMP

Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion of the world, is enjoying a nice hearty laugh on sport critics as he counts over $42,500

Wilson won the title from Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul last year on a decision. The critics believed—and immediately dubbed Wilson a "cheese" champ and tried to force him into an immediate return bout.

Wilson seemed to evade the match—couldn't be cornered, and all the while promoters were raising the bid on the bout. Suddenly, ten days before St. Patrick's day, came word from Boston to Tex Rickard that Wilson would fight O'Dowd.

O'Dowd, overanxious and wild, was a target for the cool Wilson. Wilson laughed as he collected the winner's end

MAN-MADE DISEASES

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18—Many of the diseases that afflict man may almost be said to be made by man, says the U. S. Public Health service, for they are spread almost altogether by his disregard for the simplest rules of sanitary living.

Typhoid fever, for instance, is spread by the contamination of water, milk, and food by human filth which has been run into rivers or wells or left exposed for flies to carry to the kitchen or dining room, or which even more disgustingly, is carried to food directly from soiled hands.

Hookworm disease and other intestinal diseases are spread, to some extent at last, by the states which allow road-building gangs to work under conditions which too often compel them to scatter pollution to be carried by flies to their own kitchens or to be ground into the soil to be picked up by the bare feet of children. Practically all hookworm disease is due to soil pollution.

Malaria, too, is often spread by the ignorance and carelessness with which mosquito-breeding places are created or disregarded. Borrow-pits, dug to obtain stone for road work and other needs and left will fill with water, furnish homes for thousands of wigglers, culverts improperly placed will produce pools that are equally prolific; ditches that are clogged and never cleared out are popular and populous; railroad and other embankments that stop or check the flow of water create conditions that are ideal—from the mosquito point of view.

Dr. T. F. Abercrombie, health officer of Georgia, has suggested that the convict and other gangs who work along the roads be required to fill up borrow-pits, place culverts properly, clean ditches, and attend to other small but important details that any man can do and that will deprive the mosquito of many of its breeding places.

To accomplish this along the roads is more important than it may seem, for a mosquito hatched at the roadside does not have to wander in search of food; all it has to do is to wait for food to come to it. Moreover, if it is of the anopheline species, which spreads malaria, it has excellent chances both to acquire the malaria germs and to pass them along. Until it bites someone who has had the disease, its bite, though no more pleasant than that of any other mosquito, is not any more dangerous. But a single malaria patient, driving along a ditch-bordered, mosquito-infested road, may provide hundreds of the insects with germs which they may pass on to every traveller along that road.

Dr. Abercrombie, by making the roads of Georgia safe for man, may materially reduce the malaria hazard of the state, and, according to the Public Health service, his example deserves to be followed.

WEDDING BELLS

Frank R. Knox of Moro and Miss Velma Elizabeth Byers of Fifteen Mile, were quietly married Saturday afternoon at the residence of the Rev. John L. Bogue, pastor of Calvary Baptist church.

Friends in The Dalles today were greatly surprised to receive announcements telling of the marriage of Mrs. Myrta E. Morehead, until recently in charge of the women's clothing department of the local J. C. Penney company store, to William J. Stevenson of Kansas City, Mo. The wedding was solemnized last Friday at Denver.

Mrs. Morehead left The Dalles the first of this month, with the an-

MOVIE MOVES

Boy Star in "The Son of Tarzan"

Never Attended School in His Life Despite the stringent California school attendance laws, which are rigidly enforced, Gordon Griffith, the young boy-star, who plays the title role in "The Son of Tarzan" feature serial, never saw the inside of any kind of a public or private school in his life, except as a visitor.

There is a peculiar law in the Golden State which gives the juvenile cinema actors an opportunity to secure an elementary education while they are earning enormous salaries in the film studios of Southern California. Under this law, the producers of photoplays employing children not only pay the salaries of these screen lads and lassies, but they are also required to furnish each child with a tutor, or lady teacher, who is registered by the state, and who is paid $5 a day to teach the screen actors of school age their three R's. The central bureau in Los Angeles, Cal., provides these teachers and also registers the juvenile players.

Gordon Griffith began his photoplay career before he was ready for the primary grade and by the time he had attained the age other boys are learning their ABC's, Gordon was in such demand as a child actor that he did not enter school, nor did he later. However, a certified teacher is with him four hours every school day and he has her undivided attention, which is a service rich parents pay highly for and photoplay children receive in addition to their high pay, which is considerable, as there are few really good child actors. The great jungle picture, "The Son of Tarzan," will be exhibited at the Casino theater tomorrow.

Heat of Red Peppers Stops Rheumatic Pain

The penetrating heat of "Red Pepper Rub" will bring almost instant relief from the pains of rheumatism, pleurisy, colds, lumbago, neuritis, backache, strains, sprains, sore muscles and stiff, aching joints.

Penetrating heat immediately frees the blood circulation that carries off the congestion and pain is gone. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the congested spot through and through.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub made from red peppers. It casts little at any drug store. The quicker relief known awaits you. Use it all ways for cold in chest—Adv.
