

NEWS NOTES

Sorosis Club to Meet—The Sorosis club will hold a social meeting tomorrow afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. rooms at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting will be in the nature of a silver tea. A musical program will be rendered.

Royal Barber Shop Sold—Sale of the Royal barber shop by C. A. Burney to R. A. Marcum of Pilot Rock, was announced this morning. The new owner took possession of the shop this morning. Burney expects to leave for California within several days, to make his home.

School Terms Close This Week—The majority of county grade and high schools will close their school term this week, according to A. E. Gronewald, county school superintendent. In several instances where schools are continuing their terms into June, school work was held up during the year by an epidemic of measles.

Community Sing—Another of the popular community sings will be held tonight, under the direction of Community Service. It was originally planned to hold the sing in the Vogt school hall, but because this hall will be in use, the meeting place has been changed to the local Y. W. C. A. club rooms. Men's chorus practice will be held at 7:30 o'clock, community singing at 8 o'clock and the song leader's class will receive instruction at 8:40 o'clock.

Suffers Queer Delusion—Brought to the county jail Saturday by Sheriff Chrisman, after local physicians had adjudged her insane, Mrs. Lolo I. Corson of Friend was this morning taken to Pendleton, where she will be cared for in the state hospital in that city. Mrs. Corson was under the queer delusion that everyone else living in her neighborhood was crazy and that they were bothering her with their troubles. An attendant from the state hospital escorted Mrs. Corson on the trip to Pendleton.

Water Rates Increased—Water rates in The Dalles took the annual jump yesterday, May 1, the first day of the summer irrigation season. Each year water rates are increased during May, June and July, because of the general increase in the amount of water used for irrigation purposes, which includes the watering of the family lawn as well as sprinkling the carefully-nursed garden. Persons living in houses without lawns or gardens will not be compelled to pay the increase, which varies, according to the amount of ground irrigated.

Anniversary Program—A large congregation at the United Brethren church yesterday evening listened to an address on "Young People's Needs" by P. K. Abrahamson. The address was the main feature of the anniversary program of the local United Brethren church, presented last night. An instrumental trio, made up of George French, Frank Heckman and Hazel Branch, rendered several delightful numbers. Miss Mary Smith entertained with a story and Miss Lela Meredith with a reading.

$10 for Famine Relief—The Rev. Carroll Roberts, who is in the city in the interest of the Near East and China famine relief, spoke at the Salvation Army hall Saturday evening. He addressed the Loyal Sons and Daughters of the Christian Sunday school yesterday morning. About 45 young people were present and after hearing of the conditions in the famine district, they pledged $60 to the work, which is the amount required to support an orphan for one year. In the evening he spoke before the Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church and received a pledge of $50 from them.

Car Stolen, Then Abandoned—Until last Saturday evening, W. T. Long, a local printer, was under the impression that nobody could start his "Henry" but himself. In fact, he reasoned, a good many times, even he couldn't get it started, and therefore there was no danger of anyone else trying to steal that useful as well as ornamental piece of machinery. Saturday morning he suddenly drove down town and parked his car on Second street, while he and Mrs. Long attended a motion picture show. When they came out of the show, the car was gone. True to tradition, however, the little automobile had balked at being driven any great distance, and was found yesterday morning near Rowena, where the thief had abandoned it in disgust and continued his journey on foot.

Almost Enough Signatures—Nearly enough signatures have already been secured on the new road bond petitions to insure the measure being placed upon the ballot at the statewide special election, June 7, County Judge J. T. Adkisson announced this morning. Very little opposition to the measure has been found by persons circulating petitions throughout the county. An intensive campaign from now until election day is planned by both the county court and The Dalles-Wasco County Chamber of Commerce, for the purpose of placing the proposed $800,000 bond issue squarely before the voters in its true light. An effort will be made to have speakers at all farmers' meetings held throughout the county during the next month. An intensive publicity and advertising campaign also will be inaugurated.
