

NEWS NOTES

Bible Study Hour—A Bible study of "what a man may become," will be held at the Calvary Baptist church tonight.

Scout's Weiner Supper—The members of Boy Scout, Troop No. 3, enjoyed a weiner supper last evening at the Baptist church.

Committee of Safety to Meet—A meeting of The Dalles committee of safety will be held Saturday, May 9, in the room adjacent to the yardmaster's office. All persons interested in the safety-first movement are invited to attend, it is announced.

Roof Fire Flares—Fire starting from an overheated flue yesterday evening slightly damaged the roof of the home of W. E. Ohleschlager, 304 East Eighth street. The fire department answered the call, quelling the flames with chemical extinguishers.

Contour Map of Park—The contour map of the automobile canyon park in the window of the Dalles Garage, is attracting a great deal of attention. The arrangement of trees, the drives and pools are shown, giving a definite picture of the completed park.

Local Orator, First—Word was received in The Dalles today that Everett Hazen, a local boy attending Philomath college, had won first place in the Sheak oratorical contest conducted by that college. The first prize is a gold watch. Judges were McKinley Helm of O. A. C., S. S. Harralson, editor of The Benton Courier, and Professor J. O. Erwin of Philomath.

Mrs. Emma Watkins Dies—Mrs. Emma May Watkins, 35 years old, died yesterday morning at the family home, 11 miles north of Wasco, following an extended illness. She is survived by her husband and three children. Two funeral services will be held, the first at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Wasco Methodist church and the second at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Grass Valley Methodist church. Burial will be in the Grass Valley cemetery. The Crandall Undertaking company of this city is handling the funeral arrangements.

Mrs. May Hendricks Dies—Mrs. May Cora Hendricks, 48 years old, died yesterday morning at the family home in St. Helens, Ore. Mrs. Hendricks was formerly a resident of The Dalles and is well known here. She is survived by three daughters; Mrs. Lynn Laughlin of Glenwood, Wash., Mrs. Myrtle Moon of St. Helens, and Mrs. Ollie Myers of Pendleton. She also leaves one son, Austin, of St. Helens, and a sister, Mrs. O. C. Spencer, of The Dalles. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from the Crandall Undertaking company's chapel, The Rev. W. H. H. Forsyth officiating.

Nine Schools, Standard—Standard school certificates, signifying that the school receiving a certificate has complied with the 14 points of standardization required by the state, have been prepared and are ready for issuance to Wasco county schools. A. E. Gronewald, county school superintendent announced this morning. The certificates bear a picture of the school and the names of the teachers, pupils and school board members. The following schools have met state requirements regarding standardization and will receive certificates: Lower Mill creek, Douglas Hollow, Dufur, Rail Hollow, Wapinitia, Antelope, Maupin, Lone Star and Rowena.

Thelma Ireland Has Best Garden—School garden competition, participated in by Wasco county rural schools, is being encouraged by A. E. Gronewald, county school superintendent. Yesterday Gronewald and County Agent Jackman judged 10 garden plots at the Big Eddy school, all planted and cultivated by the school children. Spinach, lettuce, radishes and onions were grown. Thelma Ireland was given first place for having the best garden plot. Carroll Saunders won second place. Garden plots in other rural schools will be judged in the near future, with the various schools competing for the honor of having the best school garden.

Hungarian Asks About Dalles—A letter of inquiry, from Debreczen, Hungary, in which the writer, St. Joo, asks as to orchard possibilities around The Dalles, was received this morning by The Dalles-Wasco County Chamber of Commerce. St. Joo explains that he can write and speak English and that he has in his possession some literature of the local chamber. It is evident that the information in question was issued eight or nine years ago. The letter was censored, showing that censorship still prevails in Hungary despite the war being over. Altogether 21 inquiries and requests for literature were received by the chamber in this morning's mail.

Lamborn's Nose Broken Again—Clarence "Babe" Lamborn today claims championship hard-luck honors for The Dalles and Wasco county. His nose was broken again Tuesday night in baseball practice at the local high school. "Babe," by the way, is an all-around athlete, and because of this fact participates in virtually all athletics carried on at the high school. He is cursed with an unusually sensitive nose, however; a nose which was not designed to stand punishment. Tuesday the nose and a baseball bat came into violent collision, considerably to the disadvantage of the former. This makes the fourth time Lamborn's nose has been broken as a result of participation in high school athletics.

Homeless Baby Tag Day—Tag day for the homeless babies of Wasco county now confined in the old Albertina Kerr nursery home will be observed next Saturday, say home officials. Support at this time is needed in order that the already completed building may be furnished in time for dedication on June 4. Unless $6,000 is raised the time of dedication must be postponed. Wasco county sends the sixth highest number of babies to this institution. All other counties have been under the burden in the construction of the building and it now remains for Wasco county to do its very best toward the furnishings. Bed endowments are $60 initial cost and $25 a year. An engraved name plate of the donor will be placed over each bed. Tag day headquarters at Bank hotel. Officers appointed from high school: Miss Lucille Grizzell, colonel; Hazel Brenton, Velma Brownlee, Artis Coleman, Mabel Williams, captains.

China's Famine Depleted—"Umatilla county has donated 1990 barrels of flour to the Near East and China Relief funds, and it was shipped from Portland to China last week, as their quota to alleviate the suffering of the famine area," said The Rev. Carol C. Roberts, in charge of the relief campaign here. "All the money donated in Wasco county will be spent for wheat or flour within the county. Many of the country people will find it more convenient to give wheat than money and it will be just as acceptable," he added. The Rev. Roberts made the following statement concerning the conditions in China: "The valley of the Yellow river in the Loess plain, comprising five provinces and known to many as 'China's sorrow,' is now the scene of a tragic catastrophe, the like of which the world has never known before. In 1918 the Yellow river burst its dykes, the water rising at the rate of 40 feet in as many hours, flooding the country, wrecking homes and destroying crops. Two seasons of drought followed. With no rainfall all crops of rice, millet and grain failed and the food supply of this densely populated region was completely exhausted many months ago. Forty-five million people there are facing starvation. Ten million of these are little children. Fifteen thousand a day are dying of starvation and the diseases that are always attendant upon undernourishment. Among the sufferers are 200,000 men who served in France with the allied armies. Unnumbered thousands are now subsisting on roots, bark and leaves. In some regions all vegetation has been consumed and the trees are dying because the bark has all been peeled off for food: Cholera, famine, fever and typhus are making appalling ravages. Missionaries and relief workers report heart-rending conditions."
