

PARALYSIS GRIPS ENGLISH INDUSTRY

4,000,000 OUT OF WORK IN CRISIS—COMPLETE DISASTER FEARED.

By United News
LONDON, May 6.—Paralysis and stagnation are gradually overwhelming British industry as the coal strike enters its sixth week. Leading businessmen are now frankly afraid of complete disaster, which now seems only around the corner, unless some manner of settlement with the strikers is agreed upon and the men go back to work.

Four million workmen, including the miners, are now either without jobs or temporarily out of work, according to official figures.

The general business depression is reflected in the stock market, where all textile and majority of industrial shares have slumped fearfully this week.

The business power of at least half the nation is seriously curtailed, and the retailers are feeling the depression far more than at any time since the piping times of war.

From the highest social circles in England down to the slums, all Britons are curtailing on their amusements. The nobility and society folks generally have rigidly cancelled all functions such as dinners and dances.

The routine notices in the social columns of London newspapers read something after this fashion:

"The Countess So-and-So's dance, which had been arranged for tonight has been postponed on account of the coal crisis."

Fraternal lodge meetings and dinners are not held and the utmost economy, enforced by law, is being observed in the use of fuel in the homes.

him she was nervous and very much run down and expecting to become a mother again. Beauvais' name was said to have figured in the story which the defendant imparted to Dr. Russell. One letter, alleged to have been addressed to Mrs. Stillman by Beauvais was admitted to the evidence, declaring that "her image was ever before him."

Mrs. Stillman, buoyant, but with a resolute set to her beautiful features, declined to speak a word for publication when the session was over. Instead, she hustled out through a side door of the building and into the glistening limousine that stood by the curb with a chauffeur of military trim waiting to slam the door on her.

MONTREAL, May 6.—"Where the devil did they get that?" Fred Beauvais exclaimed today when shown a copy of the alleged "Dearest Honey" letter which he is charged with writing to Mrs. James A. Stillman.

Beauvais' face turned scarlet with anger as he read the alleged letter and was informed by the United Press correspondent that it had been published in New York as having been used in the Stillman divorce case.

"I never addressed Mrs. Stillman in such terms," the alleged co-respondent asserted, after a moment. "Someone has doctored a letter of mine, but this writing is not mine. They have made a great love letter writer out of me."

UNION MARKET IS WRECKED BY RATES

FARMERS WILL SOON FACE BANKRUPTCY SAYS LAND COMPANY MANAGER.

By United Press
SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Four thousand carloads of California onions, out of a normal production of 5,000 carloads, remain unsold because of high freight rates, which makes it impossible to ship them. Rosco Zeuckerman, onion and potato grower, today testified before the interstate commerce commission of Pacific coast freight rates.

Carsons Cook, manager of the Rindge land company of Stockton, declared that the farmers will soon be bankrupt unless a reduction in freight rates is forthcoming.

Casper, 42, mechanic, arrested here this afternoon. The arrest of Casper, who has been using the name of George P. White, came as a distinct shock to his pseudo-bride. When detectives forced him to admit that he was the father of eight children, she swooned.

TWO CHILD BRIDES ATTEMPT SUICIDE

GIRLS DURING INVESTIGATION OF MARRIAGES SWALLOW IODINE—WILL RECOVER.

By United News
CHICAGO, May 6.—Two child brides, 14 and 15 years old, held to juvenile court while their marriages were being investigated, attempted suicide late Thursday by swallowing a small quantity of iodine.

They were found in a rest room of the county building, clasped in each other's arms, sobbing that they wished to die.

Mary Todd, 14, was married to Russell Pfeister, 21, here Wednesday. Leona Pfeister, 15, sister of Russell, married George Talmadge, 17, at Crown Point, Indiana, last week.

The Todd girl's father did not learn of the marriage until Thursday and demanded an investigation. While he was talking to court workers, the girls slipped away and Todd found them in the rest room.

They will recover.

ALLIES ASK

in the allied supreme council, the reparations commission and the council of ambassadors.

It was stated at the White House Thursday that the proposal was receiving "official consideration."

While it has not been indicated when America will make answer, it is understood that President Harding and Secretary Hughes are considering the invitation mainly from three angles:

1.—Numerous European questions, particularly the German reparations settlement, are of such vital interest to the United States that he administration believes this country should have more direct representation in pending negotiations than it possesses at present.

2.—It is recognized, however, that many of the European issues are of purely foreign interest and suggest the necessity of carefully defining the extent of American participation.

3.—The attitude of congress toward American participation in European affairs is a factor expected to bear closely upon the president's action.

While the president could name an unofficial observer without the consent of congress, he might ask such approval, in the same way that former President Wilson requested congressional endorsement for the appointment of an American representative to the reparations committee. The request was not granted.

RUTH REFUSES TO GET INTO PLAYING CONDITION

By Henry L. Farrell
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 6.—Babe Ruth, the king of swat, is now in the bad graces of Miller Huggins, the sawed-off manager of the Yankees.

The New York club owners deny that the home run king has been threatened with suspension, but all the baseball writers know that Huggins is displeased with the way the Bambino is acting.

Huggins wants his boys in early at night and the Babe loves the rush of wind against his face as he speeds around under the moon in his high-power car.

Huggins claims he can't insist upon some of the lesser lights following the mandates of training if he permits any exceptions.

Ruth is still greatly overweight, and, while his condition hasn't taken the edge off his batting eye, his work in the field has been anything but that required of a major league gardener.

Managers have various ideas of training rules. McGraw makes the Giants follow the straight and narrow path. Johnny Evers, a pupil of the Frank Chance school, is a strict disciplinarian. Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, the noted playing managers, have different ideas.

Cobb refused to lay down a set of training rules when he took hold of the Tigers this spring. He said he would leave it up to the boys to keep in condition according to their own ideas.

Speaker succeeds very well with the "brotherly" line of leadership. He pals and runs around with his players and when he's ready to turn in they turn in with him.

Perhaps Speaker is right. At least none of the Indians was suspended last year.
