By United Press
LOUISVILLE, Kentucky, May 7.—Spurred along by the wild cries from the throats of the biggest crowd which ever lined the race course at Churchill Downs, Behave Yourself, an entry of the E. E. Bradley stables won the classic Kentucky derby this afternoon in the fast time of 2.04 1-5. Black Servant of the same stables dashed across the finish line for second money while Prudery, the entry of Harry Payne Whitney was third.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Fifteen three-year-olds, the pick of America's best in thoroughbreds, were ready to go to the post this afternoon for the forty-seventh Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

The greatest and most notable crowd in history was pouring in on every train to attend this American turf classic which in period of survival, outlives the English Derby and the famous French Grand Prix de Paris.

Fair weather and the promise of a fast track made joyful the hearts of thousands of horse lovers gathered here from every big city in the United States.

Special trains arriving all day yesterday and early this morning deposited thousands of spectators. Hotel accommodations were hard to find and restaurants and public places were crowded.

Added interest was attached to the Derby this year because of the increased prizes offered by the Jockey club.

Forty thousand dollars to the winners, $10,000 for second, $5,000 for third and $2,500 for fourth makes it the richest track classic in America.

Harry Payne Whitney's entries, Tryster and Prudery, ruled the favorites in all the early betting and were the popular choices in the mutual sheds.

However, with such a high class field the Derby is considered the most open that has been run in years.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Derby day was fair and warm. A slight rain fell last night but was not sufficient to change track conditions. Unless more rain falls today the tracks will be lightning fast.

PRISON TERM IS MENTAL DEATH

JOHN McNAMARA AFTER 13 YEAR BIT WILL FACE RE-ADJUSTMENT.

By United Press
SAN QUENTIN PENITENTIARY, Cal., May 7.—One Tuesday, May 10, John McNamara, convicted of a felony in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times on October 1, 1910, will check out through the great doors of the San Quentin prison for the last time. On that day, his sentence will be completed.

Gray hair, blending with the gray prison uniform, was the chief mark years of imprisonment seemed to have left on McNamara. He was plainly in robust health, his manner alert, and his face carried but few new lines.

"The first thing I'll do when I get out of here will be to go to San Francisco, to see my friends and make arrangements to go to Ohio to visit the various members of my family who live in Cleveland and Cincinnati," he stated in an exclusive interview with the United Press today.

"Then comes the problem of re-adjustment after being out of the world for 10 years.

"At the time of my trial I was international secretary of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union. I am still a member of the union and in good standing.

"That I'll continue with that work is quite probable, though that is necessarily dependent on what conditions are, as I find them on my release.

"I have managed to keep more or less abreast of the times during my imprisonment, but I fear I won't know how to act when I step off the ferry in San Francisco.

"Though I have been out of the world for 10 years, I think I'm still

IMMEDIATE NEED OF CANTON REGIME IS FOREIGN RECOGNITION.

By United Press
CANTON, China, May 3 (Delayed)—Sun Yat Sen, president of the Canton Chinese government, today outlined his proposed policies in an exclusive interview with the United Press. It was the first interview he has given.

"My first move after my inauguration on Thursday," he said, "will be to seek foreign recognition.

"As a legally constituted parliament, my administration hopes to show the powers I am not a rebel but that Hsu Shin Chang, whose presidency is illegal, is the rebel.

"The second move will be the unification of China on a plan of local autonomy similar to that in force in America, giving far greater power to the communities.

"I will abolish military governorship and re-establish civil authority and will reduce to a minimum the army which now is considerably over one million.

"I will modernize China and start the building of railroads.

"I will restore China's position by denouncing Japan's 21 demands which still are the backbone of her policy.

"China's trouble during the last four years has been directly due to Japanese militarists who aim to 'Koreanize' China.

"America has aided Japan by recognizing Hsu (head of the Peking

DEMOCRATS, VOLKS, CENTRISTS, INDEPENDENT SOCIALISTS OPPOSE REPARATIONS.

By United Press
BERLIN, May 7.—Strong political elements in Germany have served notice that they will not accept the allied reparations ultimatum. The leaders of the democrats and Volks parties have declared that they would oppose any attempt to abide by the new terms.

This attitude has apparently been communicated to other political organizations, adding to the difficulty of forming a cabinet to replace the Feinbach ministry.

Centrists as well as the majority of independent socialists, are adopting the view that they do not want to become responsible for cabinet members who for years to come would be blamed for signing the reparations ultimatum.

Government officials hope that the political leaders' attitude may be altered later, so that by May 12, when the ultimatum expires, there will be a sufficient change of sentiment to permit signature of terms.

In the event the new cabinet is unorganized at that date, it will fall upon Chancellor Feinbach and his associates, despite their resignations, to act for Germany in accepting the ultimatum. They are responsible for all governmental actions until their successors are in office.

FAMILY SEVERED BY WAR, REUNITED AFTER LONG YEARS

CHILDREN COME FROM ITALY TO PARENTS RESIDING IN THE DALLES.

Mrs. God of War, is cruel beyond human conception, but every once in a while he forgets himself and smiles as he views some unusual quirk or coincident in this man-made world. And last Tuesday, for the first time in years, he lifted the corners of his gory lips in a sardonic grin as he witnessed the happiness of a The Dalles family, re-united after being separated by war for more than three years.

At the outbreak of the war Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Molinaro were living in Seattle, having come to this country to make their fortune. They had left their four children in Italy with a grandmother, intending to send for them as soon as they had made sufficient money to pay their passage.

Enough money finally saved, an effort was made to get the children from the old country. The war at this time had made fair to wreck the world. The Italian government would not permit the children to leave, the seas were regions of death.

Seven more children were born to the Molinaros, in Seattle, a pair of twins and triplets.

The family then moved to The Dalles and located on the J. H. Skelley ranch on Mill creek. Mrs. Molinaro became desperately anxious as the months and years went by, to be reunited with her children who were in Italy.

Last July she came to the local Red Cross office and applied for help. Mrs. Frances L. Saul tried to make the necessary arrangements through the Insular and Foreign division of the Red Cross. The Red Cross Home service offices were closed and they could recommend no other agency. Then Mrs. Sauls thought of Dorsey B.
