

THE FORUM

Editor, The Chronicle:—Referring to your editorial in recent issue of Chronicle on the baseball game last Sunday, and the unjustified fighting which took place, it is true that this is a case where the individual player responsible failed to hold himself in hand, and the Maupin player involved was guilty of some unfairness, which resulted later in the encounter, and in nearly all amateur games, as well as some professional games there will be found some of this unfair playing. What makes a good team therefore, is fair playing and good playing.

I do not believe that because of one mistake, the entire season for The Dalles ball team should be spoiled. The player who caused the disturbance, in a moment of exasperation, now realizes his error, and his past record shows that his future actions will not again be subject to criticism. The rest of the team cannot be criticized for the occurrence, as the fight was an individual one and not general. It is wrong to say that the game was a boxing exhibition only, as the entire team were not fighting and because the game was poorly played, is no reason to assume that all future games are going to be similarly played.

The team needs improvement, and what the citizens of this city want is a good baseball team. We want to see good games with good teams. We want our team to play good ball, and to play against good teams, so that we will see some good games, and we don't mind losing some of the games, if the opposing team earns its victory, and if our team played a good game.

Let us give our team another trial, to show us what it can do. Shall we condemn it for one failure? Is it fair not to give it a chance to redeem itself?

A FAN.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop Eating Meat For a While If Your Bladder is Troubling You.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become scot of paralyzed and leggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

factory bands, giving concerts in our plants, playing for our factory dances, and putting pep into our industrial baseball activities is doing more to instill good spirit than any other one thing.

"America is only now finding out the value of community music; something the older countries and our Mexican neighbors long ago appreciated. Proof of the growing interest our country is taking in community bands, orchestras and amateur performances is shown in the fact that in 1920 when manufacturers were feeling economic depression, that band, orchestra and instruments that can be played in the home did not fall off in sales."

Alexander MacDonald, New York, pointed out that American cities are now taking more interest in the performances of amateur musicians than ever before.

"What we want to teach our people is to be performers and not listeners of music," he said. "It may be singing, piano or violin, or some band instrument, but whatever it is we must listen to and encourage every kind of musical development. Everybody likes to appear in public and we must not give so much time to professional sympathons but to the people in our own midst who are interested in becoming musicians. Eventually it will highly develop the musical tendency that is apparent in Americans as in any other race."

body that will confine him to his home for several weeks.

Chaplin, working a dual role in "Vanity Fair," was attired in a Prince Albert coat, high silk hat, and doing the part of a "swell." Part of the comedian's work in the picture was a comic stunt with a flaming blow torch. He suddenly stumbled and pitched headlong into the torch. The white-hot blaze ignited the comedian's coat and he was immediately a blazing torch himself, Miss Purviance quickly sensed the critical situation, and tearing a coat from her shoulders she risked her own life in flinging the garment about Chaplin's clothing to smother the flames. Studio workers and property men dashed for blankets and aided Miss Purviance in stifling the fire. Chaplin was rushed into the studio where first aid treatment was administered. Miss Purviance suffered slight burns about the hands. The cause of the dangerous feat he had to perform with the blow torch. an undergarment of asbestos, probably saved him from more serious burns. He had donned the garment because of the dangerous feat he had to
