

WILL ALLOW CHAMP TO SHOW SYSTEM

CARPENTIER'S MANAGER DE-CLARES EARLY STRATEGY WILL WIN BELT.

By United Press
OAKLAND, Cal., May 12—Willie Meahan, California heavyweight, who holds a decision over Jack Dempsey: "Dempsey is the greatest in-fighter ever developed among the heavies. I fought him five times and should know. I saw the Frenchman fight Levinsky. He hasn't a thing that Dempsey should fear. Dempsey will break Carpentier in half before he has gone two rounds.

By Francois Descamps
(Written for United Press)
LA GUERCHERE, France (By Mail)—Carpentier will let Dempsey take the lead during the early stages of the fight on July 2.

He will try to feel out the champion during the first round, drawing him out to uncover as many of his boxing tricks as possible. He will fight a purely defensive battle until he gets a line on Dempsey's style. Between rounds we will decide upon our own plan of attack to meet the champion's game.

We have never seen Dempsey fight but we have a fair idea of his methods from the pictures of his contest with Jess Willard and Bill Brennan. Of course, we know that the pictures are not the best means of drawing conclusions.

We have heard a lot that the champion was off form in his bout with Brennan and have taken most of our suggestions of his style from his fight against Willard.

We figure that he is a rushing aggressive fighter and that is just what we want. We know that Carpentier has enough endurance and skill to hold off the champion for a few rounds and within that time we feel sure that Carpentier can learn what to do to beat him. Dempsey didn't train properly for Brennan and made a bad showing. Perhaps it was a little bit of strategy carried out to make us think that he was through. But if that was the purpose it failed.

Dempsey will train for this fight, we know, and he'll be in better condition.

If he is not, he surely will lose the championship.

SCHAEFER LEADS BELGIAN IN BILLIARD TOURNAY

By United Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 12—With Jake Schaefer far in the lead, hopes were considerably dampened today for Edouard Horemans, Belgian billiardist, who is playing a four-block match with Schaefer here. The first block was won by Schaefer yesterday afternoon, 100 to 49, and in the second block last night Schaefer made the score stand 800 to 328. Schaefer ran out last night in five innings, although Horemans had the high run of 189.

AROUND COAST BASES

By United Press
SAN FRANCISCO, May 12—The Seals had another field day yesterday, the coast league leaders winning from Salt Lake, 11 to 7. Thirteen Seal hits were responsible.

Sacramento treated Los Angeles still more cruelly. Eleven to two was the score by which the Solons won. Sacramento made five of its runs in the sixth inning and Los Angeles never had a chance.

Portland shook itself a bit and beat Vernon, 5 to 2. The Beavers seemed to have the number of Slim Love, Tiger pitcher. They hit safely ten times.

Seattle pulled its game with Oakland out of the fire in the fifth inning when, with Oakland three runs ahead, the Rainiers drove four men across the plate. The final score was Seattle 8, Oakland 6.

The Polish "irregulars" in action are for the most part war veterans well armed, well organized and already in control of a greater part of the disputed territory.

Austen Churchill, speaking in the house of commons Wednesday, admitted the strength of the Polish forces, and declared that the movement constituted a deliberate attempt to frustrate the operation of the Versailles treaty and added that the event would in no way influence the entente to depart from "a just execution of the document, although a difficult and delicate situation has been created."

He admitted that "practical proposals" were under consideration.

The British generally regard the Korfanty coup as an established fact and, repudiating the French attitude, consider the Germans as innocent victims of unwarranted aggression.

HOPE FOR RATE CUT IS BRIGHTER

UNION PACIFIC EXECUTIVE SAYS RATES WILL LOWER WHEN WAGES ARE CUT.

By United Press
YAKIMA, May 12—Hopes for reduction of freight rates on perishable fruits and vegetables from the Pacific coast today brightened with the statement of H. M. Adams, vice-president of the Union Pacific system, that "the railroads fully appreciate the situation."

Adams testified before Henry J. Ford, representative of the interstate commerce commission, admitting that the country could not prosper under advanced rates. He said, however, that the roads are even now unable to meet operating costs. If labor is reduced, the roads will voluntarily adjust the rates, he said.

LIBRARY IS LOVELY BOWER OF FLOWERS FROM CHILDREN'S HANDS

A little bulletin in the Public Library tabulates some of the many services given the library recently. It is labelled "Library Service Bulletin" and running down the list of "good deeds" and reading between the lines the observer sees good will and interest in the library on the part of young and old.

The library has been made lovely by the many gifts of garden and wild flowers which have called forth many expressions of delight and commendation from library patrons. Wild flowers that are not so commonly seen here as trilliums, adder tongue, whortled rice root and cammas, have been brought in by children and older people who have found them on rides or hikes. One boy and his sister kept one large jar of blue iris supplied for a week by bringing in a few fresh blossoms every few days. One small boy came in and divided flowers that had been given to him, leaving the larger half for the library.

There is a record of a book saved from a watery end by having been rescued by a boy who had seen it thrown from the window of a burning house. He turned it in to the librarian saying "I brought it because I didn't like to see it getting kicked around and water soaked." Some other gifts that have been much appreciated are some copies of several recent books, as they help to supply the present demand and save some of the library's book fund for other purchases. The donor said "I have read them; and I might as well give them over to the library than have them stand on my book shelves."
