

NEWS NOTES

Speeder Fined—William J. Gale this morning contributed $5 to the city treasury, at the solicitation of Motorcycle Patrolman Tom Crofton. Gale was arrested by Crofton and charged with piloting his automobile on Ninth street at a faster rate than the law allows.

May Paint Steeple—A contract for painting the steeple of the Catholic church, will probably be secured by E. J. Eckton, steeplejack, in The Dalles for several days practicing "high calling." Eckton has already painted several flag poles standing in various parts of the city. He painted the pole on the Williams store yesterday.

To Act As Judge—A. E. Gronewald, county school superintendent, will leave tomorrow for Redmond, where he will act as judge of a tri-county track meet, between high school teams from Deschutes, Crook and Jefferson counties. He will also judge declamatory and oratorical contests between the various schools represented at the meet.

Why People Go Wrong—A series of sermons on "Why People Go Wrong," will be delivered by Rev. G. K. Hartman at the United Brethren church each Sunday evening for the next three Sundays. The subject for next Sunday evening is "Why Men Go Wrong." Sunday, May 22, Mr. Hartman will preach upon "Why Boys Go Wrong," and Sunday, May 29, on "Why Girls Go Wrong."

Final School Examinations—Final eighth grade examinations are today being given in nearly all county grade schools, according to A. E. Gronewald, county school superintendent. The completed examination papers will be corrected by an examining board of four teachers, in the county school superintendent's office. It is expected that all of the papers will have been corrected and sent back to the pupils by May 20.

Securing Payroll Data—For the purpose of having available information concerning the monthly payroll in The Dalles, for use by companies and individuals desiring information about the city, The Dalles-Wasco County Chamber of Commerce has asked all business houses, manufacturing plants and employers of labor, to turn in such statistics to the chamber office as soon as possible. Many inquiries are received each month concerning the amount of business transacted in The Dalles, the persons writing generally also asking how much the monthly payroll totals.

New Bus Line Planned—Regular automobile bus line service between Hood River and The Dalles is to begin Monday, May 16, with two trips daily each way between the cities. At Hood River, the busses will connect with those running to Portland. Cars will leave Hotel Dalles at 8 a. m. and 2:45 p. m. and they will leave Hood River for The Dalles at 12:40 and 6 p. m. The route over Seven Mile hill will probably be followed for a while until the highway is in good condition. The line will be maintained by the Fashion stables, Hood River.

Punished For Drunkenness—John McMullen held lone communion with the "spirits" yesterday, securing a very "exalted" feeling as a result. The spirits were material, however, having been purchased at a local drug store in a bottle labeled "denatured alcohol." With about half of the bottle consumed, McMullen became possessed of a feeling of moral uplift, and a desire to lick a policeman. Patrolman Densmore objected to this procedure, however, lodging the "spiritualist" in the city jail, after a slight set-to. McMullen paid a fine of $5 in the police court this morning.

Preparing Community Booklet—A list of 101 different things which The Dalles has, embodying all of the industries, schools, amusement places, natural resources, scenery and transportation facilities, has been prepared by The Dalles-Wasco County Chamber of Commerce. The list will be sent to persons inquiring for literature about The Dalles. Chamber Secretary Van Scholck will leave for White River tomorrow, where he will take photographs of the power plant and points of interest along the river, the pictures to be reproduced in The Dalles-Wasco county booklet which will be issued soon by the chamber.

Lincoln's Story in Films—On Sunday evening, May 15, in the Congregational church a program of moving pictures consisting of four reels will be shown. It will be a continuation of "The Son of Democracy." One subject will be "My Father." Abe's ability to read saved Tom Lincoln, his father, from losing his farm. The chapter is full of action and humorous incidents. The other subject, "Down the River," describes Mississippi in the olden days when infested by bands of slave-stealers. While floating down the river Lincoln becomes the central figure. The antics and pranks of Rastus, a little black urchin, furnishes much fun for this picturesque romance of the Mississippi.

Athletic Committee Planning—A meeting of the newly organized Community athletic committee was held at the public library last evening. Robert Murray, chairman, presiding. By unanimous vote it was determined to organize an indoor-outdoor twilight base ball league, and to take steps at once to provide facilities for volley ball activities. At the present time the Community Service has but one volley ball net and ball. It is planned to provide opportunities for both volley ball and indoor-outdoor baseball activities on the Third street lot, at joining the First National bank building, and this playfield will be ready for baseball, volley ball, quoit pitching and hand ball early next week.

Government Gets Cigarette Thief—Special Agent Malson, representing the railroad police of the O. W. R. & N., arrived in The Dalles last night for the purpose of taking Cecil Wishart, in jail here, to Portland to face a federal charge. Wishart was arrested last Tuesday by Sheriff Chrisman, charged with breaking into a freight car enroute from Portland to Walla Walla and stealing 22,000 cigarettes. He threw the cigarettes from the freight car east of The Dalles, and then jumped off himself. He then hid the major portion of the cigarettes in a cache in the underbrush. The cigarettes were recovered. Wishart, who is still in his 'teens, will probably be charged of grand larceny in the Portland federal court.

Will Be Tried in California—A deputy sheriff from San Jose, Santa Clara county, Cal., will arrive in The Dalles tomorrow, armed with extradition papers, to take Charles Geary, in jail here, back to California for trial upon a charge of automobile theft, according to a telegram received by Chief of Police Frank Heater today. Arrested last Saturday by Patrolman McClaskey, nominally upon a charge of having incorrect license plates upon the car which he was driving, the police found upon getting into telegraphic communication with San Jose officials that Geary is badly wanted in the California city, Geary could be held in The Dalles upon a charge of using stolen license plates, according to D. L. Cates, city recorder. The maximum penalty under this law is a fine of $400, however, while the California law upon an automobile theft charge is considerably more severe. Geary is also wanted in Portland upon a bootlegging charge, it is understood.

SEARCH FOR MISSING NAVAL TUG ABANDONED

By United Press
SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 13.—Search for the missing naval tug Conestoga, lost with 30 officers and men, was today abandoned by the navy department, it was announced by Admiral Welles. For 10 days destroyers and seaplanes have patrolled unfrequented lanes of the Pacific ocean, in hope of finding some trace of the missing vessel, which was enroute from San Diego to Honolulu.
The Conestoga had just arrived from the Atlantic coast. It is now 30 days overdue in Honolulu. Virtually all men from the Atlantic coast believe that the ship has gone down.

FRIDAY, THE THIRTEENTH IS HOTTEST DAY OF YEAR

Black Friday seemed intent for a while today of stirring up a "hot time" in the old town of The Dalles. Starting as soon as the dew had dried, the mercury steadily climbed in the recording thermometer at the chamber of commerce until it had reached the high mark of 81 degrees.

This is the highest mark recorded this year, making Friday, the 13th, dreaded throughout the ages as a day of bad luck and ill omen, a "record breaker." The hottest previous day this year was May 11, when the mercury rested on the 75 degree mark at mid-day.

Aside from a few wilted collars and a general rush on the soda parlors, no serious damage is reported as resulting from heat.
