

GOLDENDALE LICKED BY 6 TO 1 SCORE

THE DALLES PLAYS AIR TIGHT BALL; WANTED—A NAME.

Members of The Dalles independent baseball team experienced a reversal of form at Goldendale Sunday afternoon and soundly walloped the nine there by a score of 6 to 1.

Perfect weather and a big crowd encouraged the visiting team to display exceptional form, and it made only two errors. Woolsey held the Goldendale bunch to four scattered hits, and Whitten at third displayed big league quality. Cullins, playing shortstop, accepted nine very hard chances without an error, and made three hits out of four times up. J. H. Wilson was in the game for the first time as a player with The Dalles, and covered center field in a discouraging manner for the Washington crowd.

Those playing with The Dalles were Hoffman, catcher; Woolsey, pitcher; Ganger, first; Ford, second; Cullins, short; Whitten, third; Carlson, right; Wilson, center and Gardner, left.

Goldendale plays a return game in The Dalles next Sunday afternoon, and the team here is looking for a large turnout.

Incidentally the 1921 independent aggregation of The Dalles is without a name and Manager Fitzgerald is scratching his head for a suitable cognomen. If someone will kindly come forward with a handle for a bunch of fighting baseball players, one of the teams' principal problems will have been settled.

MAY CRACK MOTORCYCLE RECORDS MEMORIAL DAY

By United Press
PORTLAND, May 16.—World records are due to be broken at the motorcycle races to be held May 29 and 30 on the newly-constructed Rose City Speedway. Holders of all records from one to fifty miles will be on hand to take part in the competition. Sanction for the races has been received by the Daddies' club, which is staging the meet, from the Motorcycle and Allied Trades association, making the events official. Records established will stand.

The track at the Speedway is said to be in the best shape since 1913. R. E. Dickerson, builder of the Salem track, has supervised reconstruction.

A total of $2000 in purses has already been posted, in addition to special prizes, according to Paul Schneidermann, Portland newspaperman who is managing the events for the Daddies' club.

Official entries are on file from motorcycle clubs at Medford, Eugene, Grants Pass, Albany, Salem and Oregon City, Ore., and Vancouver and Seattle, Wash. In addition, independent riders from all over the west will be entered in the various events.

"Red" Cogburn of Denver, with his "mystery cycle," is one of the interesting entries in the races. "Red" is the subject of much "kidding" by other riders, who claim that his queer-looking machine with all parts encased from view was made with more of an eye to publicity than to speed. Cogburn, however, says he will have a little surprise for the "show me" lads when the starter's pistol is fired in the first race.

CARPENTIER ARRIVES FROM FRANCE FOR BIG FIGHT

By Henry L. Farrell
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 16.—Georges Carpentier set eyes today on the land where he is to play a little two-handed game July 2nd for the biggest stake of his life.

The French liner Savoie on which Carpentier and his party made their second trip from Paris arrived last night in the lower bay, but did not move up toward the docks until this morning.

The same big gathering of scribes and photographers that went down on revenue cutters just about a year ago to have a look at the European marvel who wanted to fight the great Dempsey, went down again early this morning to see the man who is going to fight the great Dempsey.

Tox Rickard, promoter of the championship fight, Captain Thierry Mallett, personal friend and New York representative of the Frenchman, and Gus Wilson, his trainer, had to wait on the docks until the liner was tied up to send a welcome to the challenger and his party.

The pier was crowded with a big delegation from New York's French colony who were waiting to give Georges assurance by a big demonstration that he was not to fight in a country without friends.

JOHNSON'S OPINION OF THE BIG FIGHT

By United Press
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., May 16.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion of the world:

"I firmly believe that Jack Dempsey will beat Georges Carpentier. Dempsey is much stronger than the Frenchman and is a faster puncher. It will take a strong defensive fighter to beat Dempsey. Dempsey will win the fight with Carpentier hands down between the eighth and tenth rounds."

part in the making. And now that this history is to be brought into living, the Indians should share with the whites in the picturization, he said.

Following Arbury's brief address, some of the older Indians addressed the council in the native tongue, apparently arguing in favor of participation in the pageant. At the conclusion of this argument, the leaders agreed to be in The Dalles on the day specified, with the required number of followers, to "act in the picture with the white brothers."

The Indians stipulated that they be allowed to bring along their baseball team, however. Arrangements were made for a game on the afternoon of the 27th, preceding the pageant, between the Indian and local baseball teams.

Following the council, Mrs. Williams gave a short address to the Indians, through an interpreter, in a small church which stands on the reservation.

"I don't believe that I have ever heard such simple eloquence as flowed from Mrs. Williams' lips while she was talking to the Indians," Arbury said this morning. "She seemed to talk to them as if she understood and loved them. At the conclusion of her talk, the little church auditorium was filled with a veritable uproar of grunts, such as I had never before heard. Rev. Mr. Matthew, the white minister, told us that that was the customary manner in which the Indians registered delight and approval."

According to present plans, the pageant will be held in the early evening. The Indians will arrive in The Dalles the day before and rehearse their parts. A place has been provided at the city auto park for them to camp.

FEMALE AVIATOR LOOPS THE LOOP 199 TIMES

By United Press
MINEOLA, L. I., May 16.—Miss Laura Bromwell, 23, petite and attractive, looped the loop 199 times without mishap but was nearly mobbed by a huge crowd of aviation fans who smashed the police lines at Curtiss field here Sunday afternoon to congratulate her on her remarkable feat, accomplished in an aerial circus.

An attacking party walked right into a home in Cottford, shot a man and woman and escaped. A house destroyed by an incendiary fire in looting and another attempt at arson in Batter-saw was unsuccessful. Fifty rebels attacked people in their homes and set fire to buildings in widely separated sections of Liverpool and escaped in autos.

Cork reports that the Blackpool police station was bombed. Constable Coughlin being killed and three others wounded. Raiders of unidentified sympathizers called at the home of an alderman and not finding him there shot and seriously wounded Father O'Callaghan, a guest. Sergeant Coleman was shot and killed and shortly after four policemen going for a priest were waylaid and attacked, two being killed. One of the others was wounded.

As a separate incident Patrick Sheehan, a republican, was killed.

Machine gun fire and forays by military raiding parties struck terror into the homes of Youghal as they went from house to house, searching for fugitives and carrying their pistols. The home of a priest, Father Azeme, was badly damaged.

Constable McKenna stepped outside the barracks at Innishannon and was dropped dead by a rebel bullet. A rebel party attacked a detachment of marines in Clonakilly, killing one and wounding several others. Constable Bridges was killed in Limerick.

fancy line, anarchy will follow."

Korfanty's trail led the correspondent a long chase through the mountainous Silesian country. His followers everywhere gave misleading directions. Some said he was at the front, actively commanding the Polish insurgents. Others said he had gone to Paris to negotiate directly with the allies.

He finally was located in this city in his headquarters—a mere shack.

Korfanty himself was far from being the corpulent, content man who represented Poland prior to the plebiscite. He was nervous and thin, clearly worried by the attitude of Great Britain as made plain last Friday by Premier Lloyd George.

"We don't intend to fight the allies," he said. "We will demobilize at Pless and Rybnik if they want us to. But the Germans will be slaughtered if they attempt to counter-attack on us."

Korfanty complained that the allied troops had not aided him. The Italian and British forces could clear the situation immediately if they would side with the Poles, he said.

Korfanty's shabby aide-de-camp, General Doliva, echoed his chief's words.

"We'll stand for nothing less than a just decision," he said. "We won't consider the award of this little southeastern section of Upper Silesia as a just decision. If they try that—His threat was not completed."

PARIS, May 16.—Premier Briand will threaten France's withdrawal if Great Britain persists in her "anti-Polish" attitude, it was predicted in official circles today.

Briand refused to meet Premier Lloyd George until he has obtained a vote of confidence from the chamber of deputies, permitting him to exert the utmost pressure.

Briand and Lloyd George probably will hold a private interview at Boulogne after the chamber meets Thursday. Lloyd George asked for the conference to settle the differences of the two countries in the Upper Silesian controversy.

It was predicted here that the meeting will be of the stormiest nature. Briand being thoroughly aroused over Lloyd George's statement before the house of commons, a statement made without consulting French interests.

Briand, it was predicted, will demand that France be supported in her plan to keep the rich coal lands of Silesia away from the Germans. He will go further, it is believed, and demand that France have the determining voice in settling all continental matters involved in the Versailles treaty.

I will return to the United States without question. If I cannot return before my bond is cancelled, the government may have its equivalent of a pound of flesh which friends deposited for my appearance.

But my bondsmen will not suffer financial loss from the cancellation of the bond.

I was awakened by the thunderous pealing of church bells on March 24 and informed that I was in Moscow, capital of the worker's republic. The dream of my life had come true.

Here children do not toil their lives away, but are sent to school. People do not receive penny meals, but the largest and best food supplies in the nation. Women are absolutely free—not nationalized, as claimed in bitter lies told in the United States.

Each worker receives a month's vacation annually. Industrially, Russia is making wonderful progress. It is the hope of the world.

OPPOSITION TO

Pendleton, where he is said to have made it plain in a meeting Saturday that the Umatilla organization, if one is formed, could not possibly expect membership in the national body for at least three years, unless it was aligned with the Oregon association.

Umatilla ranchers, it is now said, have decided to offer no organized opposition to workers for the state association in their efforts to sign up members among the growers of that county. Whether or not they are opposed to the plan of the state association, they will not run a counter-campaign to the one proposed by the association, which is to start this week.

Forces of the state association will be marshaled in Umatilla county this week. Six meetings are scheduled. George C. Jewett of Spokane, representing the national association as a member of the board of directors, will be in charge.

Meetings will be held at Pendleton and Pilot Rock, Thursday, at Helix and Freewater on Friday and at Weston and Milton on Saturday. At the present time, the state association has six growers signed up on contracts aggregating 23,400 bushels of the 1921 crop.

The campaign in the Willamette valley, which opened last week, is said to be progressing in good shape. Workers are signing members in Clackamas and Washington counties.
