1920 OREGON-WASHINGTON LUMBER CUT LARGEST

PORTLAND, May 17.—The lumber cut of Oregon and Washington, according to reports just given out by the Portland office of the United States Forest Service, was larger than that for any preceding year, amounting to 8,842 million board feet. Oregon's cut was 3,317 million, while that of Washington was 5,525 million feet. These reports are based on statistics compiled by the forest service in cooperation with the lumber industry. Four species made up the bulk of the cut: Douglas fir, 6,622 million; western hemlock, 584 million; and Sitka spruce, 357 million. Shingle production amounted to 5,136 million shingles, which is less than the 1919 cut, more than the 1918, and not much more than half that for 1909.

For the past several years production of lumber in Oregon and Washington has shown a steady increase. These states produced about 8 percent more lumber in 1920 than in 1919; Oregon about 10 per cent more, Washington about 8 per cent more.

BATTLER'S TRAINING CAMP, OLD FARM

FRENCHMAN WILL WORK OUT
FOR FIGHT BEHIND BOARD FENCE.

By United News

NEW YORK, May 17.—Georges Carpentier, that foreign prize fighter, has moved into the old Matthews place just opposite Louis Sperry's place on the Manhasset turnpike, and raised Old Ned with the farmstead. The old Matthews south forty that was the finest pasturage within five miles of Manhasset has been surrounded by a high board fence and the cows have been chased out so that this Carpentier and his trainers can go through a lot of running and jumping and rassin' to get into good condition without folks lookin' on. The Frenchman starts right out being unneighborly.

Georges arrived in New York Monday and tarried around town long enough to have lunch with his American representative, Captain Mallett, and talk things over with Tex Rickard.

He seemed drawn pretty fine which may have been due to seasickness, and sober as a full bench of the supreme court which may have been the character part becoming an invading champion.

When he was asked who'd win the fight he astonished the world by replying, "I will."

The Matthews place on the Manhasset turnpike has been occupied by Gus Wilson, a Frenchman, who is Carpentier's trainer, for the last eight days, and Wilson has done things to the old homestead, the barn and the south forty.

There's one big new bed in the right front bedroom on the second floor. That's Carpentier's. It stands almost as high as an upper seven because Georgie likes high beds.

In the room directly behind Georges' there's a rough, wooden frame table covered with a thick, soft mattress. That's the rubbing table. Opposite the table is a stout shelf covered with bottles and pots—medicated alcohol, witchhazel, smelling salts, and court plaster, friction gloves, ointments, liniments, salve and society water. This is the challenger's drug store.

Gus Wilson sleeps in this room and across the hall from him sleeps Paul Journee, the lumbering French heavyweight who lost to Bob Martin at the Interallied games and who is now with Georges as a sparring partner. He is bunked with battling Marceet, a French middleweight, who is both chief and sparring partner to the French champion. Then there's a house boy, picked up in New York.

The house stands about 200 feet back from the road—a small, comfortable farm house about 30 years old. Carpentier will allow few people to watch him train and will make no charge to those he does admit. He will do little running on the road, but quite a lot of walking and, an unusual thing for a fighter, he will go in for high jumping, hurdling and rowing on the machine, as part of his routine. The gear for these collegiate purposes has all been arranged for by Gus Wilson.

The Frenchman does not look his best now but Wilson thought he looked far better than when he fought Levinsky.

The work will start in about a week.

CURLEY PICKS CARPENTIER

NEW YORK, May 17.—Jack Curley, wrestling impresario and close friend of the Frenchman:

"Carpentier will win the championship. His speed and skill will counteract what weight and strength advantage Dempsey will have over him. Carpentier has as much punch as Dempsey and can hit more accurately. The fight may not be long. The more rounds it goes the easier it will be for Carpentier."

WILL IT SHOW FRENCH IDOL THE STARS?

Here is Jack Dempsey's famous right as it looks coming head on. The fight fans of France say it will never reach its mark. That Carpentier is fast enough to keep out of its way. American ring fans know it can travel far and quick and hard and they are backing it to win. Dempsey is doing light training at Summit, N. J., for the defense of his title at Jersey City July 2.

five years ago, will try to make Ralph de Palma and other speed demons eat his dust on the Indianapolis motor speedway May 30.

The youth is Jules Ellingbee, whom a race promoter picked up from the farm and developed into king of the dirt tracks. Now Ellingbee is seeking to take the crown in the greatest automobile race of all time—the 500-mile international sweepstake—two weeks hence.

Flashing around the two and a half mile brick oval, he shaved the track record in a trial spin. He traveled 101½ miles an hour and his time for the 2½ mile trip was 1:29 flat. This is two-fifths of a second slower than the track record. Ellingbee drives a Frontenac.

INDICTED "BLACK SOX" PLAY BEFORE CAPACITY CROWDS

By James L. Kilgallen

(United News Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, May 17.—The Black Sox, togged out in new green and grey uniforms, are playing to capacity crowds every Sunday a mile or two from Comiskey park, where in 1919, it is alleged, they threw a world series.

It is an astounding fact that in Sunday's game they drew as many people as the undeniably clean White Sox, if not more.

Calling themselves the South Side Stars, the indicted players have obtained a ball field at East Seventy-fifth street and Greenwood avenue.

In Sunday's game they played to more than 7,000 paid admissions while 1,000 or more fans who could not get into the park, viewed the same from an embankment.

At Comiskey park, where the White Sox were playing the Athletics, the crowd was one of the smallest in the history of the park.

No one has yet had the temerity to shout language that might be used to a porch climber.

Joe Jackson is the team's clean-up hitter. He bats fourth, following "Swede" Risberg, "Hap" Felsch hits fifth, and "Chick" Gandil sixth. Felsch made two homers and was idolized by the crowd. Claude Williams did the pitching.

The success of the indicted players in staging games has brought forth agitation and counter-agitation which has gone to the extent of being of

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM IN SUN SPOT CONDITION

By United News
WASHINGTON, May 17.—We're now approaching a time of maximum sunspottedness says the United States weather bureau tonight. The public, says the weather bureau, need feel no concern as in spite of the persistent efforts of the most enthusiastic students it has been impossible to demonstrate more than the minutest possible connection and that quite uncertain, between sunspots and weather.

The sunspots may have something to do however, with the recent earth currents, which have tremendously disturbed all wire telegraphic, telephonic and signal services.

"Sun spottedness," says the weather bureau, "is more or less related to auroras, earth currents and magnetism but the nature of these relations is very complex, puzzling and more or less unknown."
