THE ELECTION

Eight measures are submitted to the voters of Wasco county. Five propositions will be voted upon by the state at large.

In Wasco county, the additional measures are, in rank of importance, first; The Dalles-California highway bond issue for $800,000; second, the increasing of salaries of county officials and third; the fixing of the salary of the justice of peace for The Dalles district.

The five state measures as listed on the ballot are:

Establishing the duration of the legislative session at not more than 60 days, limiting extra sessions to 20 days, fixing compensation of members thereof at $5 a day, and giving mileage of $3 for each 20 miles traveled in going to and from Salem. This measure also prohibits introduction of any bills after the 40th day of the session, excepting appropriation bills and bills appertaining to the defense of the state or nation until the consent of four fifths of the members has been obtained on a roll call.

The second measure is a constitutional amendment providing a state aid fund for veterans of the world war, from which those entitled may be loaned not more than $3,000 on preferred security, or from which bonuses of not to exceed $15 for each month of service are to be paid. The recipient may elect either the loan or bonus. He cannot have both. An additional tax levy of two mills to pay principal and interest will be levied if the measure passes.

The third amendment submitted to the voters will give the governor the power to veto emergency clauses in bills without effecting other provisions of the bills. This power is to be in addition to the power of the governor to veto single items in appropriation bills.

Applicants for marriage will be required to pass physical examinations in regard to their health from a standpoint of contagious or communicable venereal disease and mentality, if the fourth measure carries. In case of failure to pass the examination, the applicants are prohibited from marrying unless one or both of the contracting parties are rendered sterile. An appeal from the order of the county clerk denying the license is provided for. This is commonly known as Dr. Owens-Adair's bill.

The fifth of the statewide measures will permit, if it passes, women to serve as jurors, and will require that at least one-half of the trial jurors in criminal actions involving a defendant under 18 years of age, or a minor complaining witness, be women.

The time for consideration of how one will vote at the election is short. In the next few days, The Chronicle proposes to discuss each measure in some detail.

Considering the importance of the bills to be passed upon, the apathy existing over the state is marked. A heavy vote will likely be polled in Wasco county because of the $800,000 road bill. Elsewhere it is not likely that anything approaching a normal vote will be cast, as there is little opposition to several of the proposed measures.

MARK THE WAY

In all the planning and construction of the new automobile camp grounds, the committees have done well. "The Dalles Illahee" is a monument to the foresight and communal effort of a group of business men in the city which has not been approached by anything previously undertaken.

One thing will complete the job.
The park has not yet been marked.
The fact that the location of the camping grounds is more or less of a mystery has been brought to the attention of The Chronicle in half a dozen ways recently. Specifically, in two instances, tourists have stopped in the office to inquire the way.
This appeal is no presumption that the detail of marking has been forgotten: Doubtless it is already planned. It may perhaps be worthy of suggestion that directions to the park be placed in conspicuous places on Second street, for information of tourists coming from the east.

Similarly, the tourist should be guided to the park along the Columbia river highway from the west.
The Dalles-California highway (if it is ever built), should be equipped with signs. It is reasonable to suppose that as many tourists may come into the city from the south as journey this way from the east.

In this connection it will not be amiss for the Chamber of Commerce literature being prepared to contain allusions to the automobile camping facilities here. The investment will be useless, if it is not advertised.
Tourists will come here, and stop for night and days, spending their money with merchants, if they know in advance there are facilities for their convenience. In a few years automobile tourists will pay for "The Dalles Illahee," if they come in sufficient numbers. Advertising the park and advertising the city will help to bring them.

LOOKING BACKWARD

(From The Chronicle, May 19, 1896.) Parties from Antelope speak in terms of the highest praise of the new Shearar grade from Bakeoven to Cross Hollow. The road avoids the former and much-dreaded Bakeoven hill, which was very bad. The road through to Antelope has been repaired and improved, and is in first class traveling condition.

Miss Florence Lewis of this city has been engaged as a primary teacher in the Antelope public school.
Prof. H. G. Lake of Wamic will be principal.

"Cyclone" Davis of Texas speaks Friday night at the court house under the auspices of the Populist state central committee.

About 100 Good Templars and their friends met at Fraternity hall Monday evening to take part in the lodge social that had been previously announced. The early part of the evening was spent in social converse, until the program committee was ready to proceed, and then a short but very fine program was presented. Walter Reavis acting as chairman. The first number was a piano solo by Mrs. Varney, rendered in that lady's best style.
Fred Sines' bass solo, "East Aside," was well received. Walter Reavis rendering the recitation, "Flying Jim's Last Leap," affected many in the audience to tears. Mrs. Briggs told an interesting romance in connection with the singing of "Coming Through the Rye." Mrs. Varney's vocal solo, "Murphy's Daughter, Nell," was a comic song which all enjoyed.

Mrs. Donnell went to White Salmon this morning.

Mrs. J. H. Mosler returned home today from a visit to her daughter, Mrs.
P. P. Taylor, who is quite ill.

WINDJAMMER ENTERS RIVER UNDER OWN POWER

By United Press
ASTORIA, Ore., May 18.—Astorians who were admiring the sunset across great harbor at the mouth of the Columbia river were recently treated to a rare sight when the schooner Edward R. West, with all sails drawing, came sailing out of the sunset, to drop anchor of the city.

Wholly unassisted, the windjammer accomplished what is considered impossible in most seaports, and came the whole distance into harbor under sail. Under ordinary circumstances a sailing vessel cannot enter a port without the aid of a tug, because few channels will permit the tacking necessary, and the wind is seldom exactly favorable.
