

CARPENTIER TRAINS WITH POLICE DOG

(By Henry L. Farrell)

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 26.—If you want to learn the best way to raise a baby girl, if you would like to take some lessons in teaching a dog tricks, if you want to take a good beating at any kind of a card game but poker, put Georges Carpenter on your list.

If you have a desire to talk boxing or get come inside first hand information on who'll win the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, consult any body but Carpenter.

The trim, fastidious young Frenchman who journeyed over here to meet Jack Dempsey for the world's championship will talk fluently about everything but his business.

Carpentier can speak fluently too. He picked up a lot of English from the Tommies and doughboys during the war but he was a little bit backward last year about using it.

The newspapermen who went down the bay to meet him on his recent arrival learned with some surprise that the European heavyweight champion can shake a wicked tongue on English.

Before boarding the liner, the scribes made the pleasant discovery that one of their number could speak French. After making a perilous ascent over the side of a rope ladder, the reporters swept Carpenter and his manager, Descomps, into the main saloon where all gathered around a big table and proceeded to cross examine Descomps through the interpreter.

Carpentier found the interviewing such a slow process that he hurried in and answered all the questions in perfect English.

"When did you pick the language, George?" one of the surprised scribes asked.

"I had it last year," he answered, "but I didn't have the nerve to use it."

The Frenchman didn't bring along the trunk full of fancy clothes that he had with him the last time.

"I came over to run over the roads and work on a farm, not to walk on your Fifth avenue. Perhaps after July 2nd I will put on what you call the glad rags," he said.

The police dog, "Flip," a big strong fellow who runs like a wolf, is Carpenter's best pal. Around the training quarters at Manhasset, "Flip" was the Frenchman's mascot during the war and saw a lot of action around Verdun.

"Flip" is very particular about the way his young master is treated. A strange hand laid ever so lightly on Carpenter's shoulder brings a threat.

"He'd be a good assistant at the ring side," one of the reporters remarked to Carpenter.

"Yes, he would—if I needed him," the Frenchman came back with one of his smiles.

FRANCE BARS GERMANS FROM OLYMPIC GAMES

By United Press

NEW YORK, May 26.—International politics may put the Olympic games in the scrap heap when the committees get together in Lausanne next month to select a site for the 1924 games.

Germany looms as the stumbling block. France, which seems to be the favorite in the race for the next world games, has made the unqualified assertion that she will not permit Germany to compete and will not allow her own athletes to enter games if the Germans are put back in the good graces of the committee.

The trim, fastidious young Frenchman who journeyed over here to meet Jack Dempsey for the world's championship will talk fluently about everything but his business.
