Sermon Series Continued—"Why Girls Go Wrong," one of the series of sermons on "Why People Go Wrong," will be the sermon subject Sunday evening at the United Brethren church.

East Hill School Wins—A series of interesting ball games have been played between the three largest grade schools of the city. The pennant goes to the East Hill school as it has lost only one game of the series.

Schools Hold Services—Memorial services were held in all local schools this morning, under the direction of the American Legion and members of the G. A. R. Special music and speeches were featured, on the programs put on by the various schools. High school Memorial services are being held this afternoon.

Memorial Speakers—Special Memorial day speakers were at the different schools of the city today at 11 o'clock. Rev. Carroll C. Roberts spoke at the high school; Rev. John L. Bogue at the Union street school; and Rev. W. H. H. Forsyth at the Whittier school. They were accompanied by American Legion members.

Chinese Funeral Held—Funeral services for Seid Jew Jack, aged Chinese killed Wednesday when he was struck by an automobile driven by P. H. Root of Pendleton, were held this morning from the Burget-Mogan company's funeral home. A number of local and Portland Chinese were in attendance. Burial was in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Lincoln Series Continued—The pleasant Sunday evening service in the Congregational church will consist of a sermonette by the pastor which will be followed by a program in motion pictures. The subject is "My First Jury," the story of Abe's defense of a little colored boy accused of stealing chickens. Abe forgets his promise to his mother not to fight, and a battle royal ensues.

Refrigeration Not Included—The Oregon Growers' Cooperative association has decided not to add refrigeration facilities at its new warehouse. M. O. Evans, field manager, announced this morning. The local branch organization will make use of the storage plant of the Stadelman Ice company, which is the largest and best equipped unit of its kind in any district where the association operates in the state, Evans explained.

Dalles High Defeats Indians—The Dalles high school baseball team completed its 1921 season yesterday afternoon by administering a sound lacing to the Indian team from the Warm Springs reservation. After the smoke of battle had cleared, the high school warriors emerged with the long end of a 11 to 4 score. The Indian team was crippled, however, some of its players having not yet arrived from the reservation. A number of the better players were also saved for use in today's game against the local town team. The Indian players pointed out Deardorf pitched a good game for the high school nine.

S. S. Missionary Returns—Clark M. Smith, missionary for the American Sunday School union, returned yesterday from an extended trip in Vasto and Sherman counties. He reports increasing interest in Sunday school activities at Oak Knoll, Emigrant and Upper Mill Creek. Rev. Dr. Smith addressed an attendance of 8 last Sunday at Emigrant. While here, he made arrangements for regular services, to be preached by the pastor of the Wasco Methodist church at Oak Knoll, a special meeting was held last night in the school house. G. T. Howell was elected Sunday school superintendent and Miss Sarah Paisy secretary at this meeting.

Sheriff G. L. Coleman returned from Salem this morning, where he turned over two prisoners, Henry Willis and Joe Rose, to the warden of the state penitentiary. Willis and Rose were sentenced to serve two years each, following their pleas of guilty to a charge of grand larceny, following the holdup of the Glenwood hotel. While being held in the county jail here, Willis and Rose attempted a daring jail break which almost resulted in their gaining freedom. No trouble was experienced by Coleman in taking the desperados to prison.

Contesting Divorce—Tom Mukaida, Portland Japanese, is not going to lose his white wife without a fight. Several days ago, Lily Mukaida filed suit in the local circuit court, asking for a divorce from her Japanese husband upon grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Attorney John H. Blitner of Portland, representing the husband, today filed a demurrer to Mrs. Mukaida's complaint, stating that the "complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute cause of suit." Attorneys Wilson and Bradshaw of this city are representing Mrs. Mukaida in her divorce action.

Blasting Endangers Road—Travel on the Columbia River highway between Five Mile and Celilo will not be permitted for the next several weeks, owing to blasting of overhanging cliffs, J. H. Scott, division engineer in charge of the work, announced this morning. Men will be stationed at Five Mile to stop all cars attempting to get through. Scott explained. The road is open from The Dalles to Five Mile, however, and from the Deschutes river, on the other side, back to Celilo. Scott said. Many automobiles filled with local people have been making trips from The Dalles to Big Eddy during the last several days, huge waves and dizzy whirlpools in the flooded Columbia river at this point presenting a wonderful sight.

Champion Typist Performs—The world's champion typist, William F. Oswald, gave an exhibition of his progress yesterday at The Dalles high school, before a large audience of high school students and local business men. A standard Underwood typewriter, taken from the machines in regular use by the typewriting pupils in the school, was used by Oswald in the speed demonstration. On new copy, which he had never seen before, Oswald made at speed of 127 words a minute, without a single mistake. Using copy with which he was familiar, he typed at a speed of 235 words a minute, also without a mistake. The terrific speed necessary to turn out work at this rate, may be judged by the fact the typewriter made 123 strokes a second in the 235 word test. In winning his title of world's champion typist, Oswald wrote at the rate of 131 words a minute for an hour, without making a single mistake in copy. The Dalles high school is the only school in the state outside of Portland to have the opportunity of witnessing the champion typist in action.

HEMI, THE CHEF, TEACHES HOW HE Feeds Georges For The Fight

By Henri Marcot
(Chef de Cuisine for Georges Carpentier)
(Copyright 1921 by United Press)
MANHASSET, L. I., May 27.—To prepare the meals for my friend Georges Carpentier when he is training to knock out Monsieur Dempsey is not the job for the artist. Georges does not require the delicate, artistically prepared creations of a Parisian chef. He demands only bourgeois food—the same that any working man desires.

I, Henri Marcot, have prepared the viands and the pastry for the wealthiest and the most critical people in Europe, as chef in the big Paris hotels. But I have much more pleasure in going down to the ocean with my friend Georges early in the morning, helping him to catch the flounder and then cooking these flounders for him, because I know that he then enjoys his food. And if he does enjoy it, his good health is certain for the great fight.

I like very much the old fashioned cuisine here in this present house in Manhasset. I am king in this kitchen among my pots and pans, with my knife stuck in the belt of my apron. For breakfast, I make Georges the omelette. Sometimes I give him four eggs and some times five. It is not the French breakfast. In France we have only coffee and bread for petit déjeuner. Georges is an American at breakfast time. He also demands black coffee and fruit.

For lunch I provide hors d'oeuvres, boiled vegetables, soups, chops, oranges, tea and cheese.

If we have had good luck fishing, I have fish again for supper, and a roast as well. Sometimes I make soup. We have no coffee in the evening, as it might keep Georges awake.

It is all very simple, except the ice cream macrot. That is very artistic. I can not tell how it is made. It is my secret.

Eh bien, when Georges is about to say goodnight, he comes to me and says: "Henri Marcot, my good friend, perhaps you have in the kitchen something for Georges, n'est ce pas?"

This is secret, Francois Descamps doesn't know. He would be annoyed. But I know that ice cream macrot is patisserie macrot will not harm Georges Carpentier.

Tonight it is a tart with cream. Tomorrow night, maybe, cake with strawberries.

Georges will be strong when he has the combat with Monsieur Dempsey. I, Henri Marcot, shall make him so.

ASK CONTRIBUTIONS FOR SOLDIERS IN HOSPITALS

Under the auspices of the two men's auxiliary of the American Legion, boxes containing home made candy and cookies are to be sent as Memorial Day gifts to soldiers who are in the hospitals in Portland, recuperating from wounds and illnesses contracted in the service. Mrs. Margaret Massey, secretary of the auxiliary, asked that contributions be sent to the Y. W. C. A. rooms before noon Saturday, so the boxes may be sent the same afternoon.

The auxiliary last week nominated Mrs. R. W. French and Mrs. Thompson Corbett as its representatives at the state convention of the auxiliaries, to be held in Eugene in July, coincident with the department convention of the legion.

BUYERS' STRIKE MAY FORCE COAL FAMINE

By United Press
CHICAGO, May 27.—A buyers' strike, now prevalent in precipitating the country into a coal famine similar to that of last year, according to Amedeo J. Casey, editor of a coal magazine here today.

So serious is the condition that Chicago loan banks are devising sumers in an effort to encourage purchase of coal at the reasonable rates said to be existing at this time. Unless coal is purchased now, Casey said an inevitable famine will take place during the fall and winter. The railroads now are in a position to handle coal shipments, he added. In the fall and winter months, shipments from the mine will be more infrequent because of the lack of coal at the mines, shut down due to the lack of demand.

"The possibilities of trouble are greater this year than they ever have been," Casey declared. "The mines are capable of storing a small amount of coal. But this amount will not be sufficient to meet the needs during the cold spell."

Coal production since the first of the year has been 115,258,000 tons compared with 153,553,000 last year, Casey said. This is due to lack of demand.

"I do not see anything now that can avert a serious shortage of coal next winter unless the consumer wakes up to the appeal of the operators to buy now, so as to keep the mines in operation," Casey concluded. "Those who have hoarded the repeated warnings and have obtained coal will have every reason to congratulate themselves when the cold weather comes."
