SEA GULLS

If you take a lake or ocean trip on your vacation, you'll notice that the sea gulls will follow your ship. They do this in order to get food which is thrown out by the passengers or crews. Thus they have come to depend on their food supply by following ships across the water. These gulls could easily get their food, if they had to.

So many people get to be like sea gulls. They become parasites and are dependent upon others. BE INDEPENDENT! EARN your money—SAVE all you can—deposit it with us.

Get the moral of this story—DON'T BE A SEA GULL.
