GARDNER MAY BE SURROUNDED IN KELSO SWAMP

UNITED STATES MARSHAL FROM SAN FRANCISCO AIDS IN SEARCH FOR BANDIT.

DEPUTIES TELL STORY

DESPERADO'S ACCOMPLICE SURRENDERS TAMELY TO POSSE SUNDAY.

By United Press
PORTLAND, June 13.—United States Marshal Hollahan of San Francisco today reached Kelso to take charge of the posse conducting the search for Roy Gardner.
Norris Pyron, captured yesterday, left for McNell's island today.
Posse believe that Gardner is entrapped in a swamp near Kelso, and are closing in on where the bandit is supposed to be. He may not be there, but it is predicted that there will be a gun fight if he is.
Following the capture of Norris Pyron, Gardner's pal late yesterday, hunt is still vigorous for the mail bandit. It is believed that he is still near Castle Rock.
Pyron's lack of resistance was pitiful. He was more afraid of Gardner than he was of the law.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Deputy United States Marshal Thomas Mulhall and D. W. Rinckel, guard, from whom Roy Gardner made his sensational escape Saturday morning, were back in San Francisco today with their account of how Gardner got away.
Gardner had asked to wash his hands, according to Mulhall, and his handcuffs were removed from one hand as he was taken to the wash basin in the corner of the compartment.

"Quick as lightning, he swung around and whipped a pistol from beneath his clothing and had me covered," Mulhall said.
"Rinckel made a rush at him. With the cleverest move you ever saw, Gardner grabbed my gun and bucked into a corner where he had both of us covered."
Pyron, Gardner's temporary companion, jumped from a berth and Gardner made him go through the officers' pockets, taking their keys, guns and money, Mulhall said.
Then Gardner and Pyron, working together, shackled the two officers together and then locked them to an iron pipe in the room. Gardner gave Pyron Mulhall's gun.

For twenty minutes Gardner "kidded" the officers, Mulhall said. He gave them $5 "to buy breakfast."
When Castle Rock was reached Gardner dropped out of the window, tossing back an empty gun to Mulhall "as a souvenir."
"I'll get over the line all right," he shouted back. "You'll hear from me pretty soon. I'll pull a big job you'll all talk about."
Pyron followed him and the two were gone.
"They certainly were artists," said Mulhall. "They didn't leave a thing undone."

B. A. D. RHODES BURIED SATURDAY WITH DUE POMP

MOURNING FOR LONG TIME RESIDENT MANIFESTS ITSELF IN DANCING.

With citizens from virtually every part of Wasco county in attendance funeral services for B. A. D. Rhodes, aged resident of the county who died Tuesday, June 7, after an extended illness, were held Saturday evening in the middle of Second street, between Federal and Washington. The funeral was the largest attended in any ever held in Wasco county.
N. G. Hedlin, secretary of the Wapinitia Plains Commercial club, delivered the funeral address, from the top of the hearse. He told in simple language the life history of the pioneer resident of Wasco county. As he talked, County Judge J. T. Adkisson and members of the county court with heads uncovered, slowly and solemnly opened the doors of the hearse and took one last long look at the familiar remains.
Short talks were also made by Judge Adkisson and Chamber Secretary E. F. Van Schoick.
Funeral services over, the mourners then proceeded to prove their grief is short-lived by clearing the street and enjoyed a "pavement" dance until 12 o'clock, to the strains of music furnished by a six-piece orchestra.
It is estimated that nearly 100 persons from Maupin attended the last rites for their well-known neighbor. Delegations were also in from Tygh, Valley, Dufur, Antelope, Crater, Wapinitia, Shaniko and Wamie. The Prineville "Irrigators," returning from the Portland Rose Festival, were introduced to the crowd.
Members of the state highway commission were unable to attend, although invited. The following telegram of regret was received by Secretary Van Schoick from John B. Yeon, expressing regret that the commissioners could not "celebrate" with Wasco county:
"I regret my inability to accept your cordial invitation to join with you in the celebration of the splendid victory achieved in the carrying of the road bond issue. The people of Wasco county have again given evidence of foresight, enterprise and progressive-ness, and every effort will be made to bring to successful accomplishment the hope and ambition that inspired them to roll up the tremendous majority they did, as an expression of faith and confidence in Oregon's bright future.
"It is imperative to help those who show such willingness to aid themselves. My sincere congratulations for the victory achieved and a sincere hope for the realization of the purpose of the event is the sincere wish of JOHN B. YEON."

SIX MEN PERISH IN FIRE AT SALT LAKE

By United News
SALT LAKE CITY, June 13.—Six men are believed to have perished here and 25 are known to have been injured when a 500-gallon tank of gasoline at the plant of the Utah Oil and Refining company was struck by lightning Sunday.
The tank at first caught fire and a huge spurt of flame shot up approximately 100 feet in the air. The fire department rushed to the scene and from trenches about the tank, up to their necks in water to protect them from the terrific heat, poured chemical oils and water on the flames in an attempt to check the blaze.
After about an hour of futile efforts to check the blaze the big tank burst and sprayed boiling oil over about 15 company firemen. Some of them managed to struggle from the pit, but others fell back and were incinerated so badly it was impossible to identify the bodies. A number of other firemen were badly burned and bruised.
The fire was highly spectacular and thousands of people flocked to the scene despite efforts of the police to keep them at a safe distance.
The fire is the worst in the history of Salt Lake City. The damage is estimated at about $1,600,000. Late today the fire was brought under control.
Three other smaller tanks were ruined by the blaze, and one collapsed.
All the patients at St. Mark's hospital, which is within two blocks of the scene, were moved to other hospital, which is within two blocks of which would spread the flames.

NURSE GRILLED IN KABER CASE

FOURTH WOMAN IMPLICATED IN KILLING OF CLEVELAND PUBLISHER.

By United Press
CLEVELAND, June 13.—Marian McArdle, a nurse, is being grilled today in an effort to substantiate the confession of Mrs. Emma Colavito, "Sandusky" midwife, the fourth woman to be charged with the murder of Daniel Kaber in July 1919.
This confession, Prosecutor Stanton says, accuses Marian of taking an active part in the planning of the murder plot, instead of being merely a victim of circumstances, heretofore believed to be the case. Marian was only 17 when the murder was committed. Mrs. Colavito confessed to securing the two assassins for Mrs. Kaber, and to visiting the house accompanied by them to "get the lay of the land." Marian played the piano to drown the noise while the party went through the house to the room where Kaber lay, sick.

MELLON OPPOSES BONUS; UNSAFE ECONOMICALLY

SECRETARY OF TREASURY BELIEVES SOLDIERS' AID MEASURE UNFEASIBLE NOW.

TO HOLD CONFERENCE

FAVORABLE REPORT ON BILL FROM SENATE COMMITTEE EXPECTED THIS WEEK.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 13.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will oppose the granting of a soldier bonus at this session of congress, it was learned today.
Mellon's opposition to the plan developed after it was announced that Senator Penrose and other senators leaders were to confer with him preparatory to taking up the soldier bonus bill.
Mellon's position is understood to be about the same as that of former Secretary Houston, who held that the payment of a bonus to ex-service men would disarrange the nation's finances to a dangerous extent. A sub-committee of the senate finance committee has prepared a bonus bill, although the framers of the measure object to that name and refer to it as an adjusted compensation measure. The sub-committee is to report the full finance committee this week and a favorable report on the bill is expected.
The bill has five features, but Mellon is understood to oppose particularly the features which call for an outlay of money or issuance of securities by the government for ex-service men.

SIX KILLED IN BELFAST RIOTING

By United Press
BELFAST, June 13.—Fierce factional disturbances continued here today, threatening to increase the week-end death list of six.
Fighting here over Saturday and Sunday developed more savagely than at any time previous. Intense Sinn Fein activity led to the fear that King George might be influenced to postpone his proposed trip here June 22 to open the Ulster parliament.
The "execution" of three Sinn Feiners Saturday night led to the disturbances which occurred in every section of the city.

NEW DISTURBANCES GROW FROM KILLING OF THREE SEIN FEINERS.

By United Press
LONDON, June 13.—Admiral Sims will tell Secretary of the Navy Denby that he attempted humor when referring to Sinn Fein sympathies in the United States as "baser" with votes "close friends of the admiral believe."
Sims is preparing to return to the United States and face reprimand on the exchange of messages between Denby and himself.
It is believed that he will place the blame for the controversy on the press interpretation of certain passages of his speech, claiming that it was garbled further in cable transmission.
It is quite evident, however, that the admiral is not going to retract what he actually said before the English speaking union.

MRS. ORTHWEIN SNAPS UNDER ATTACK OF PROSECUTION

TRIAL OF WOMAN CHARGED WITH ZEIGLER MURDER OPENS IN CHICAGO.

By United Press
CHICAGO, June 13.—Mrs. Orthwein became hysterical in court today, when Prosecutor Heth accused her of shooting her lover in the back.
The defendant, charged with murdering Herbert Zeigler, squirmed under the bitter arraignment made by the state in its opening argument that the woman's eyes were bloodshot from crying.
Heth declared:
"When the police raided Mrs. Orthwein's apartment they found her sitting and crying 'I shot him.'"
"Zeigler was on the bed, shot through the back. A partly filled bottle of whiskey was on the desk, white tin bottles, empty and full, were all over the place. A case of gin was in an closet.
"The defendant claims to have shot the man when he attempted to break into her apartment, Zeigler's clothes were there and he had lived there for five years.
"Mrs. Orthwein, intoxicated when called, was still crying 'I shot him. He was the only man I ever loved.'"
Heth charged that Mrs. Orthwein killed Zeigler because she was jealous of Mrs. Charlotte Lewinsky, the "kissing blonde," and because she was obsessed with the idea that Zeigler intended to return to his family, leaving her.
The wild night of revelry preceded Zeigler's death, was related by Heth.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION AWAITS MEETING OF COMMISSION

DALLES-CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY PLANS WILL BE LAID JUNE 28.

No further steps toward the starting of actual construction work on the Dalles-California highway will be taken until after the next meeting of the state highway commission, which will probably be held on June 8, County Judge J. T. Adkisson announced this morning.
The Wasco county court will probably confer with the highway commissioners at that time and arrange a definite plan to be followed in the sale of bonds voted in the recent special election, the Wasco county money to be matched dollar for dollar by the state and the whole to be used for the building of the great north and south highway.
An effort will be made to have contracts for grading and surfacing of the highway let at the same time, according to Judge Adkisson. This plan, if followed, will greatly facilitate rapid work, especially in places where there is very little grading to be done, the judge believes.

BURIED UNDER STONE PLACED FOR HIM 50 YEARS AGO

By United News
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 13.—The body of W. H. Hoover, gray haired veteran of the Civil War, was buried here Friday under the tombstone erected for him more than 50 years ago.
Hoover was a private in the 19th infantry. He was reported killed in the battle of Resaca, while marching with Sherman to the sea.
A body, said to be his, was shipped here by the war department and buried with ceremony. His relatives and sweetheart went into mourning.
Later Hoover returned from the war and saw the monument erected to his memory. Every year he visited his grave in the cemetery and Friday the body was brought here from the soldiers' home at Dayton, Ohio, for burial.

FIGHT AMERICAN PLAN

JOMPERS FACES CONTEST FOR REELECTION TO PRESIDENCY.

By United Press DENVER, June 13.—The labor union movement has been tried, but it faces the world with unbroken rank. Samuel Compers declared this afternoon, in addressing the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

Members gave resounding endorsement to a statement by C. P. Oplinger, temporary chairman, that labor "would fight to the finish" against the open shop campaign.

By United Press DENVER, June 13.—Leaders of organized labor today sent out the message to nearly 4,000,000 workers he "organized labor has been victorious against those seeking to destroy unionism."

The message was contained in a report of the executive committee, which presided over the convention. The report claims that labor "passed through the year with an unexampled struggle and difficulty," and demanded that union labor take the offensive and rally its forces to "repel all attacks against it."

"Although the report showed a decrease in membership during the last year, union leaders claim an actual increase, the deficiency being explained by unemployment and failure to receive reports, together with the suspension of 200,000 maintenance of way railroad men."

Discussing wage cutting, the report declared: "The practice of fixing wages upon the basis of the cost of living is a violation of the whole philosophy and progress of civilization."

The council demanded a repeal of the excess profits tax and the substitution of a general sales tax. It condemned the Kansas industrial court law.

25 PERCENT OF 1920 CROP IS STILL UNSOLD

MUCH WHEAT REMAINS WITH GROWERS ON EVE OF NEW HARVEST

HAYING PREVALENT

NEW YIELD, IT IS BELIEVED, WILL BE 80 PERCENT OF LAST YEAR.

From 15 to 25 percent of the 1920 wheat crop in Wasco county remains unsold on the eve of the 1921 harvest, according to estimates made today by local grain men.
At Boyd, of the 112,000 bushels of wheat passing through the elevator from the fields, approximately 41,000 bushels are still in storage. While this is a greater holdover than 25 percent, other localities are almost completely sold out, and the county average will probably not exceed 20 percent.
Wheat over the county, maturing under almost ideal conditions, is beginning to turn, and the first harvesting operations will be started in the northern part of the county about July 4. The harvest on the high lands will not start for a week or ten days, later.
Already a good deal of hay is being cut and haying will become general this week.
Farmers over the county do not entirely agree with the forecast of County Agent Jackman that the new crop will be a record one. Around Boyd and Dufur, for instance, some of the estimates place the harvest as low as 60 percent of the 1920 production. Much of the wheat is said to be spotty because of the late frosts.
The condition of so much wheat being left unsold at this time is unusual, and is due very largely to the slump that occurred last fall, and which induced growers to hang on in hope that the market would revive. Ordinarily this late in the season, practically none of the previous year's production would be in storage.
Weather conditions since last fall, barring the frosts, have been exceptionally good. A little rain right now would help in filling out the heads, but even without rain, an excellent crop will be harvested. Hot east winds, continued for several days, present the only serious menace, it is said.
