

NEWS NOTES

Mrs. Marden Leaves—Mrs. Victor Marden went to Portland today. While there she will take a special course in the Dunning system of music. About the middle of July, Mrs. Marden will go to Chicago to study under Fanny Bloomfield-Zeissler.

Railroad Officials Here—J. E. Zorbet, assistant superintendent of the Portland division of the O.W. R. & N. company, B. C. Wilson, general claim agent, and James Doran, road foreman of engines, are in The Dalles today on company business.

Will Admitted to Probate—The will of Mrs. S. E. Klein, deceased, was admitted to probate by County Judge J. T. Adkisson this morning. The biggest part of her estate, valued at $3,500, is left to her son, Frank R. Klein of Portland. She bequeaths to her husband, S. E. Klein, $10 in cash.

Damage Suit Filed—Suit to secure $481.20, together with court and attorney's fees totaling $127.75, was filed against Horace P. Bolknap in the circuit court today by G. E. McClure. McClure alleges that the above mentioned sums are due him for repairs upon an automobile owned by Bolknap.

Girl Struck By Auto—Era Belle Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hodges, was slightly injured Wednesday afternoon when she was hit by the delivery car of the Model laundry, as the automobile was backing up after having been parked at the curb on Second street. No bones were broken. She was attended by Dr. Fred Thompson.

Cooperation of Farmers Sought—With reorganization details incident to the transformation of The Dalles chamber of commerce into The Dalles-Wasco County Chamber of Commerce now completed, E. P. Van Schoick, chamber secretary, is planning to get into intimate touch with county members. With this object in view, Van Schoick in the future expects to attend all public farmers' meetings held in the county, as well as meetings of the various county commercial clubs.

War Film To Be Shown—Pictures of American troops in actual battle, filmed by the signal corps of the United States army, will be shown at the Empress theater next Wednesday night, under the auspices of The Dalles post of the American Legion. The film shows battle scenes taken at Chateau-Thierry, Alsace, Marne, Soissons, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne. Money taken in at Wednesday's performance will go to the local post of the Legion.

Nurses' Conference—Registered nurses of The Dalles are planning to attend the northwestern sectional conference of the Graduate Nurses' association for the states of Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon, to be held in Portland June 22, 23, and 24. Leaders in the nursing profession, physicians and educators of the northwest will participate in a comprehensive program touching upon all phases of the social and business lives of the nurses.

Offer Reward for Murderers—Roy Marshall, local agent for the O.W. R. & N., was notified today that the company has offered a reward of $1000 for the apprehension and conviction of the persons who killed J. H. Phillips, special officer, when the latter attempted to arrest them while in the act of pilfering from freight cars in Portland. The shooting occurred Tuesday evening. Two men are believed to have participated in the murder, from accounts given by other men found on the train.

Columbia Continues to Drop—With reports indicating a substantial fall in the Snake and upper Columbia rivers and the Columbia at The Dalles registering the biggest 24-hour drop since the water started receding, residents of this city are breathing easier today in the belief that virtually all danger of a bad flood is now over. The official government reading taken here this morning showed the river standing at 32.8 feet, a drop of 3.8 feet during the last 24 hours. A report from the Snake river this morning said that that river has dropped a foot during the last 24 hours.

To Decide on Fair—Decision as to whether or not a county fair will be held in The Dalles this year, will probably be made either tomorrow or Monday, when the county fair board is expected to meet. E. P. Van Schoick, J. C. Johnston and N. G. Holm comprise the membership of the fair board. At this meeting, the question of a site for this year's county fair, if one is held in The Dalles, will be brought up and discussed, together with the proposition of allowing Tygh Valley half of the state fair appropriation, to assist that town in putting on the annual Tygh Valley fair. At least one member of the fair board, Van Schoick, has declared himself as being opposed to using the city streets as a site for this year's county fair.

The Dalles After Legion Convention—The Dalles post of the American Legion is going to make a determined attempt at the state American Legion convention to be held in Eugene on July 1 and 2, to secure the 1922 state convention for The Dalles. Commanding Pat Foley announced this morning. The Dalles post will be officially represented by two delegates, Edgar Harrison and Harold Sexton. Foley plans to have at least 100 American Legion members from this city in attendance at the convention, however, in addition to the local post's request that The Dalles be selected as the site for the 1922 convention. The local post is sending out circular letters to all other posts in the state, asking them to help secure next year's convention for The Dalles.

Auditorium Plans Accepted—Plans for the new $114,000 municipal auditorium, drawn by Houghtaling & Doogan, Portland architects, have been accepted by the city council, acting on the advice of the auditorium plans committee. Bids for the construction of the auditorium have been advertised for and will be opened June 25. Actual construction work will probably start soon after that date. Not a single offer has been received by the city for the old Wiley barn, which stands upon the site purchased for the auditorium. The old barn is now closed for the first time in 50 years. During the last 50 years, the barn has seen The Dalles grow from a straggling village to the modern city which it is today. The advent of the automobile did much to destroy the popularity of the once-always-sure stables. The barn will probably be torn down and the lumber used, whenever possible, in the construction of the new auditorium which will take its place.

Coal Scarcity Threatens—Because of the high freight tariffs on coal, and the national agreement with miners which prevents the drawing of new wage scales before next year, there will be no reduction in the prices of coal this year, according to E. H. Shea, northwestern representative of Utah and Wyoming mines, who was in the city yesterday calling upon local dealers. Shea had a telegram from Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce in which the latter, replying to a query, declared he had no information which would lead him to believe that there would be any reduction in coal rates this season. Because of the decline in demand, due to rates, the production of the mines is greatly curtailed just now, and if consumers wait until fall to buy their winter supplies, Shea said, there will be a serious scarcity. A campaign is now being run by dealers all over the country to induce ordering of winter supplies now, so that deliveries may be spread over the summer, and congestion may be avoided during the rush season next fall and winter.

It's pure in the baking. Calumet never fails to produce the sweetest and most palatable of nourishing foods.
It has more than the ordinary leavening strength. You use less of it. That's one reason it is the most economical of all leaveners.
Another reason is—it is sold at a moderate price—you save when you buy it.
A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.
