AMERICAN ATTITUDE IS PEACE MENACE

D.A.C. HONORED FOR MILITARY SHOWING

By United News
CHICAGO, June 22—America is cherishing a badly mistaken idea of Japan's attitude toward this country which is making the situation "dangerous," according to Professor Frederick Starr, of the University of Chicago, who has just returned from a six month stay in the Far East.

Professor Starr is one of the best informed authorities in the United States on Japan and the Far East and has spent years at different times on the other side of the Pacific.

"There is absolutely and most emphatically no widespread or serious anti-American feeling in Japan today," he said. "It is a grave mistake for America to think differently. I never heard an unpleasant word about America while I was there this trip, but the Japanese newspapers are reacting to the stuff our papers are publishing. The Japanese papers naturally reply editorially to some of the things published in this country."

Japan feels hurt at our California policy, of course, but she is making no effort to open the question. Expansionism Japan must have, but expansion eastward is not a live policy.

"There is a restless feeling in Japan that she will have trouble in 1924, because of the fact that her wars came in 1894, 1904 and 1914.

"If we go to war with Japan it will be because of the attitude of unthanking Americans, due to a prejudiced viewpoint of the Japanese attitude."

We have no quarrel with any firm that uses every available opportunity to bring its service before its customers. We do it ourselves. But it is a pleasure for us to occasionally reverse the order of things and let our customers know that we appreciate their steady patronage and that we value it highly. And as we value it we shall certainly use every effort to give the service that will keep it.

The sailing ships might be accounted for by the hazards of the sea but even so it would be strange that the hulls should disappear and the crews perish to the last man. The freighters are the real mystery ships. They survive terrible buffeting by the seas. That so many foundered in so short a time, without a chance to send out a wireless call, seems uncanny to the sailors loafing in the shadows of the big boats tied to their piers in New York.

and back the estimates of the departments, which previously have not been subjected to scientific scrutiny. Each department, of course, seeks to broaden its activities, and make itself more important.

Dawes, as director, has authority to perfect his own organization, for congress did not define the makeup of the bureau except in general detail.

He will receive from all establishments estimates of expenditures for the ensuing fiscal year, and will have authority to assemble, advise, or increase the estimates of the several departments or establishments. The budget thus prepared will be sent by the president to congress with estimates of receipts. Econ-

for your Battery

Water is as necessary to battery life as it is to plant life.

The water should be pure—and it should be put into the battery regularly, at least once every two weeks.

You can easily put this water in, but we will gladly do it if you prefer.

We are also equipped to recharge and repair batteries. We carry a complete line of Willard battery parts, rental batteries and Willard Threaded Rubber Batteries.
