

NEW YORK DIPPY OVER PRIZE FIGHT

By Westbrook Pegler
(United News Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, June 22.—The mere business of nations will just about stop dead to leave the cables, the land lines and the air above the earth clear for the news of the Carpenter-Dempsey fight one week from Saturday afternoon. Airplanes and at least one seaplane will rest near the arena to leap off with the plates and films of the first fight pictures, the airplanes to carry them to American cities, the seaplane to drop a parachute onto the deck of an outbound steamer thus saving probably 24 hours in the forwarding of the pictures to French and English newspapers.

Robins, dicky birds and such fowl are requested to remain in their hangars and not block traffic or disturb the tranquility of the air so necessary to perfect wireless telephone and telegraph transmission if it isn't asking too much.

There were about 20 writers covering the battle of the Argonne, the greatest struggle America ever fought. Six hundred have been allotted seats and about half that number have spoken for wire accommodations at the ringside for the battle of Boyle's 30 acres, including some who covered the fighting in the Argonne forest—Fred Ferguson and Bill McNutt, of the United News, to mention two.

The Red Cross and the committee for the restoration of devastated France will have a wireless telephone set at the ringside and a man with a lyric basso to call the plays for the good people at stations within a radius of 50 miles gathered in their town halls and meeting houses at 50 cents a head. Miss Anne Morgan, who promoted the bloody scrap between Benny Leonard and Richie Mitchell at the Garden last winter, will have a ringside box for her party. Nicholas Longworth and John and Ethel Barrymore also have bought what the men of sporting blood are beginning to refer to as "precious pasteboards" or tickets, it's all the same.

Commander Pendleton, U. S. N., in command of the local navy communications office, says the navy will cut the working watches to a mere skeleton force during the fight so that the highest possible number of gods afloat on the seven seas—by flashes. The air is to be kept clear of unimportant messages so boats intending to ram into icebergs will kindly arrange to send their S. O. S. calls in advance.

There is only one way for motorists to cross the Hudson river, the tunnel being still in political stages, and that's by way of the ferries. On ordinary Saturdays it takes hours of waiting to get one's boiler affixed because of the congestion. Therefore, those expecting to high-tone the hot pot for riding in state on this important Saturday will have to start over some time Friday night. The sharp-headed, generous and incognito natives of Jersey City have decided not to charge more than $5 per horsepower for parking space on the adjacent salt marshes. Customers are still reserving seats at $40, $30, $25, $15, and $10 and there are plenty left. The $5 seats, set back in the yonder counties of Jersey, go on sale this morning before the fight.
