THAT SCHOOL ELECTION

In the report of the school election last Tuesday, The Chronicle misprinted a figure. L. J. Gates, one of the candidates for director, was credited with receiving 255 votes, when he in reality received 355 votes...

"I HAD IT COMING"

After quoting from Sims remarks the secretary continued: "The department insists on maintaining both the precedent and propriety which forbids a public servant of your position discussing such matters in a foreign country."

"In the reprint above mentioned, the duties and responsibilities of officers of the navy who speak in public were clearly and fully set forth. Your remarks on the occasion now under discussion, therefore, constitute a flagrant and deliberate disregard of specific instructions."

Secretary Denby added that the navy was not "unmindful of your record and achievements as an officer of the navy. But the conspicuous position you now hold, coupled with the fact that you have previously defamed in a similar manner, merely serves to add to the gravity of the present offense."

The department deplored that it was necessary to rebuke a flag officer in public, Denby said, adding "But you have made such action unavoidable."

Ranchers are making

Ranchers are making the trip today who, for various reasons, were unable to accompany the big party which went to Moro with Jackman several weeks ago. It is planned to return tonight.

Express Office Swamped—Because of unusually heavy shipments of fruit being handled through the local express office this year, the local express office will be closed each morning from 10 to 10:40 o'clock, in order to give employees time to get the fruit ready for shipment on train No. 2. It was announced this morning. The office will be closed at this time only during the heavy fruit shipping period. It is impossible to handle the business for train No. 2 if it is received later than 10 a. m. express company officials explained.

Cherries Sent to Invalids—About 70 pounds of Lambert and Bing cherries, the choicest fruit that could be procured, were packed by members of the Women's Auxiliary to the American Legion today and shipped to the ex-service men who are in the Portland hospitals. There are 20 men in the Pierce sanitarium and 180 at St. Vincent's hospital. Members of the Auxiliary have made it a monthly practice to send gifts of delicacies to the ex-service men in the Portland hospitals, helping make life a little brighter for men, who, as a result of the war, are invalids, many of whom will never leave the hospitals alive.

Vacation School Proves Attractive—The daily vacation Bible school at the Baptist church is proving attractive to many children. Attendance on opening day, last Monday, was 62 which had grown to 97 by Thursday when it was announced that no more children could be taken care of. The manual training class numbers 25 boys and keen interest is being taken in the medicine chest and bird houses which they are constructing. The set-up exercises which are held for the older children in the city park draws considerable attention from passersby. Two picnics are announced for the school next week, one for the girls on Tuesday afternoon and one for the boys Wednesday.

Merrifield's Auto Recove ad—One of the two automobiles stolen in The Dalles during the last week was recovered last night near Hood River, where it had been abandoned by the thieves. The car recovered belongs to Ed Merrifield, and was stolen Thursday from where it was parked at the curb near Second and Washington streets. Patrolman McCaskey went to Hood River last night and drove the car back to The Dalles. Aside from running down the battery the joyriders did no damage to the car. It is now thought that the theft was the work of boys, who stole the automobile in order to get to Hood River. John Wernmark's automobile, also stolen, has not been recovered as yet.

County Chambers Are Meeting—Secretary E. F. Van Schoick of The Dalles-Wasco County Chamber of Commerce, left today for Maupin where a joint meeting of the commercial clubs of Maupin and Wapinitia is being held. N. G. Hedin of Wapinitia, expected to head a delegation of about 15 men from the reservation country to the Maupin gathering. The Maupin club has been inactive for some time, and an effort will be made today to reorganize it on a more substantial basis. The principal subject under discussion this afternoon will be entertainment of the party of prospective home-seekers and business men from the middle west who are going to look over Oregon next month under the auspices of the state chamber of commerce.

Loganberries Sent to The Dalles—The Oregon Growers' Cooperative association is sending more than 400 tons of loganberries from Willamette valley to The Dalles, for dehydration in the Dalles King's Products company's plant, according to M. O. Evans, field manager of the association, who is in The Dalles today upon a trip of inspection of local activities. In addition to this, the association has marketed more than 1000 tons of Willamette valley loganberries and 200 tons of strawberries. Of the Willamette valley cherry crop, approximately 600 tons will be marketed through the cooperative association, according to Evans. This is about 50 percent more than will be marketed through the local branch of the association, he explained. Evans expects to return to Salem tomorrow.

Tractors Damage Paving—Hot weather, asphalt pavement and farm tractors without protecting covers over their steel tire cleats, are a bad combination as far as paved roads are concerned, according to J. E. Peck, resident engineer working out of the local state highway office. The sun starts the damage by heating the asphalt pavement until it becomes soft and then the unshod tractors with their long spikes, intended to give traction in the field, complete the destruction. Tractors driven over sun-heated pavement seriously damage the surface of the road, often tearing out slices of asphalt several inches in depth, according to Peck. Complaint has been made that Wasco county farmers have been driving their tractors to The Dalles over the paved road extending to Three Mile without protecting steel covering over the cleats. The following paragraph from the Oregon motor vehicle law defines the only legal manner in which a tractor may be driven over pavement: "Tire Cleats—No tire on any motor vehicle of any other vehicle, except such vehicle be actually engaged at the time in construction or repair work on public roads or highways of this state, shall have on the periphery of its wheels any block, stud, cleat, bead, chain or any other protuberance of metal which projects more than one-fourth of an inch beyond the tread or traction surface of the tire; but this section shall not be so construed as to prohibit the use of chains or reasonable proportions on motor vehicles when required for safety because of snow, ice or other conditions tending to cause such vehicle to slide or slip, nor as to prevent the use of traction engines with cleats on the driving wheels thereof on dirt or unimproved roads."
