Carpenter's Camp is Calm Once More

Heavy Work Over, Challenges Coming, Camp Begins Saturday.

By W. T. Moris

The long-expected quiet that was supposed to come with the conclusion of the construction work at the naval station began to be more noticeable yesterday afternoon. Early this morning the camp was still alive with bustle and noise, but as the day wore on the change was a marked one. The workmen, who have been working overtime for the last several months, were content to relax and give their attention to the approaching cattle drives.

The cattle drive is expected to begin at four o'clock this afternoon, when the herd will be driven from the ranch to the camp. The drive, which is expected to last until late in the evening, will be followed by a large picnic, which will be held at the camp.

The camp is expected to be in full swing by next week, when the workmen will be able to relax and enjoy the pleasures of the outdoors.

The long-expected quiet that was supposed to come with the conclusion of the construction work at the naval station began to be more noticeable yesterday afternoon. Early this morning the camp was still alive with bustle and noise, but as the day wore on the change was a marked one. The workmen, who have been working overtime for the last several months, were content to relax and give their attention to the approaching cattle drives.

The cattle drive is expected to begin at four o'clock this afternoon, when the herd will be driven from the ranch to the camp. The drive, which is expected to last until late in the evening, will be followed by a large picnic, which will be held at the camp.

The camp is expected to be in full swing by next week, when the workmen will be able to relax and enjoy the pleasures of the outdoors.

The long-expected quiet that was supposed to come with the conclusion of the construction work at the naval station began to be more noticeable yesterday afternoon. Early this morning the camp was still alive with bustle and noise, but as the day wore on the change was a marked one. The workmen, who have been working overtime for the last several months, were content to relax and give their attention to the approaching cattle drives.

The cattle drive is expected to begin at four o'clock this afternoon, when the herd will be driven from the ranch to the camp. The drive, which is expected to last until late in the evening, will be followed by a large picnic, which will be held at the camp.

The camp is expected to be in full swing by next week, when the workmen will be able to relax and enjoy the pleasures of the outdoors.

The long-expected quiet that was supposed to come with the conclusion of the construction work at the naval station began to be more noticeable yesterday afternoon. Early this morning the camp was still alive with bustle and noise, but as the day wore on the change was a marked one. The workmen, who have been working overtime for the last several months, were content to relax and give their attention to the approaching cattle drives.

The cattle drive is expected to begin at four o'clock this afternoon, when the herd will be driven from the ranch to the camp. The drive, which is expected to last until late in the evening, will be followed by a large picnic, which will be held at the camp.

The camp is expected to be in full swing by next week, when the workmen will be able to relax and enjoy the pleasures of the outdoors.

The long-expected quiet that was supposed to come with the conclusion of the construction work at the naval station began to be more noticeable yesterday afternoon. Early this morning the camp was still alive with bustle and noise, but as the day wore on the change was a marked one. The workmen, who have been working overtime for the last several months, were content to relax and give their attention to the approaching cattle drives.

The cattle drive is expected to begin at four o'clock this afternoon, when the herd will be driven from the ranch to the camp. The drive, which is expected to last until late in the evening, will be followed by a large picnic, which will be held at the camp.

The camp is expected to be in full swing by next week, when the workmen will be able to relax and enjoy the pleasures of the outdoors.

The long-expected quiet that was supposed to come with the conclusion of the construction work at the naval station began to be more noticeable yesterday afternoon. Early this morning the camp was still alive with bustle and noise, but as the day wore on the change was a marked one. The workmen, who have been working overtime for the last several months, were content to relax and give their attention to the approaching cattle drives.

The cattle drive is expected to begin at four o'clock this afternoon, when the herd will be driven from the ranch to the camp. The drive, which is expected to last until late in the evening, will be followed by a large picnic, which will be held at the camp.

The camp is expected to be in full swing by next week, when the workmen will be able to relax and enjoy the pleasures of the outdoors.

The long-expected quiet that was supposed to come with the conclusion of the construction work at the naval station began to be more noticeable yesterday afternoon. Early this morning the camp was still alive with bustle and noise, but as the day wore on the change was a marked one. The workmen, who have been working overtime for the last several months, were content to relax and give their attention to the approaching cattle drives.

The cattle drive is expected to begin at four o'clock this afternoon, when the herd will be driven from the ranch to the camp. The drive, which is expected to last until late in the evening, will be followed by a large picnic, which will be held at the camp.

The camp is expected to be in full swing by next week, when the workmen will be able to relax and enjoy the pleasures of the outdoors.