

The Girl with the Calico Dress.
A fig for your upper ten girls,
With their velvets and satins and laces, Their diamonds, rubies and pearls,
And their milliner figures and faces, They may shine at a party or ball, Embossed with half they possess, But give me in place of them all,
My girl with the calico dress.

She is plump as a partridge, and fair As the rose in its richest bloom; Her teeth with ivory compare,
And her breath with the clover perfume.
Her step is as free and as light As the fawn's, whom the hunters hard press, And her eye is as soft and as bright,
My girl with the calico dress.

She is cheerful, warm-hearted and true,
And kind to her father and mother;
She studies how much she can do For her sweet little sisters and brother.
If you want a companion for life,
To comfort, enliven and bless,
She is just the right sort for a wife,
My girl with the calico dress.

Hired "Help" in California.
The Sacramento Bee, in commenting upon the indisposition of servant girls to leave the cities, and of the airs put on by them when they have situations either in town or country, makes the following very just and sensible remarks: The fact is, a great many people, both women and men, who are looking for work don't want it. They are not anxious to work when they have it, or to keep places when they obtain them.
Numerous wives able to hire help prefer to do their own work rather than have in the house with them girls who will not strive to do anything tidily, and if spoken to on the subject and shown how to do it, toss their heads in disgust and talk as if they were not the servants, but the mistresses! And this is one reason why many families who ought to have and can well afford to have girls are obliged to do without them or take the next best substitute that offers, which is a Chinaman. The reason that Chinamen are supplanting girls in household work is not because any one prefers the Mongolian to the Caucasian—for such is not a fact—but because it is a necessity to have the work done, and but too many girls either will not do it, or do it in such a way as to keep the house in an uproar and the inmates in a fidget all the time, whereas the Chinaman will do as he is told, the mistress is not at all to instruct him or to order him to do this or that—he gives no trouble to anybody, but does his work, gets money, and there is an end of it.
Families want peace in their homes, and there is more of it, they say, with Chinamen than with girls; although as a general thing, that family is best off that is not obliged to have either.

BUTTER THAT WILL KEEP.—We have seen the statement that a dairy in Broome county, New York, was sold in St. Croix, in 1839, to the Governor, for 75 cents per pound.
In 1840 the same dairy was sold in New Bedford, Massachusetts, and went on a whaling voyage. I saw some of it after the expiration of nearly four years, as sweet and in good condition as when made. The same dairy has since been sold in New Orleans, in Natchez, and Mobile, and there has never been any complaint as to its quality. I shipped some butter made in that county to Canton, in 1846, which opened as fresh as when made, and was so good that shippers here each year since applied me for butter for cabin stores. I broke up the firkins, and procured small white oak kegs containing from fifteen to twenty-five pounds each, re-packing the butter.
These kegs were put into large hogsheads and filled in the interstices with rock salt, and placed in the hold of the vessel. The small kegs were used merely with reference to the convenience of retailing at Canton.
Orange county butter is now understood to have reference to the mode of manufacturing rather than to the locality where made. In making this butter the milk is churned and rock salt is used. If every butter maker in the United States would learn and practice this method of making butter, it would be worth $75,000,000 a year to the agriculture of the nation. More than this amount is wasted every year by stupid butter makers. Behold how profitable are good sense and a small increase of useful knowledge.

—If every horticulturalist and farmer would think for a moment on the nature of fallen leaves—which contain not only the vegetable matter, but the earthy salts, lime, potash, etc., needed for the next season's growth and fertility—and that, too, exactly in the proportion required by the very tree and plant from which they fall; may, more, if they would consider that it is exactly in this way, by the decomposition of these fallen leaves, that nature enriches the soil, year after year, in her great forests, it would hardly be possible for such a reflecting horticulturalist or farmer to allow these leaves to be swept away by every wind that blows, and finally collected, from week to week, the leaves that fall under each tree, and by digging them under the soil about the roots, where they will decay and provide in the cheapest manner possible food for that tree. If this plan should be tried we should not see old orchards dying out for want of nourishment; but they would, in this simple manner, receive all the enriching they required. Pear trees, and doubtless by this procedure. In certain vineyards in France and Italy, the vines are kept in the highest condition by simply burying at their roots every leaf and branch that is pruned off, or falls from the vines at the close of the season. Will not some of our farmers of inquiring minds give this simple process a trial this season? It is a well known fact that no weaver is more eagerly sought for by the florist than the weaver. It enters largely into the compost prepared for potting. Leaves, collected and mixed with barnyard manure, greatly enhance its value.

WORTH KNOWING.—A correspondent of the Maine Farmer says:
"Many a housewife may be glad to know when she has a piece of fresh meat, she wishes to keep a few days, that it can be successfully done by placing it in a dish, and covering it with milk. Sour milk or buttermilk will do as well. I have practised the plan for years."

—A correspondent of the American Institute Farmer's Club gives the following explanation of the names of Timothy and "Hurd's" grass: He says it was called foxtail in England, and was brought from England to Rhode Island by Timothy Hurd. The Quakers called it Timothy grass, and others Hurd's grass.

—The Devons are natives of Devonshire, England, from which they take their name. This breed is one among, if not the oldest of the improved English cattle, and until the present century, was bred with greater purity than any other breed.

Newspapers, by enhancing the value of property in their neighborhood, and giving the locality in which they are published a reputation abroad, benefit all, particularly if they are merchants or real estate owners, whose interests are as a rule to be promoted. It is not, however, the salutary, even though he should pick it up in New York or Washington. A good-looking, thriving, live newspaper helps to sell property, gives character to the locality, and, in respect to a desirable public convenience. If, from any cause, the matter in the local or editorial columns should not be quite up to your standard, do not cast it aside and pronounce it no account, until you are satisfied that there has been no more labor bestowed upon it than is paid for. If you want a good reading sheet, it must be supported. The local press is the "power that moves the people."

AMERICAN WATCHES
Proof of their Superiority.
Pennsylvania Railroad Company,
OFFICE OF THE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT, ALTON, PA., Dec. 15, 1867.
Gentlemen: The watches manufactured by you have been in use on this Railroad for several years by our engineers, to whom we furnish watches as part of our equipment. There are now some three hundred of these watches in use, and we consider them good and reliable time keepers. Indeed, I have great satisfaction in saying your watches give us less trouble, and are more accurate, than any other watches we use on this road. As your watches are merely trusted to those of English manufacture, of acknowledged good reputation, as a class they never kept time as correctly, nor have they done as good service as yours.
In these statements I am sustained by my predecessor, Mr. Lewis, whose experience extended over a series of years.
Respectfully,
EDWARD WILLIAMS,
General Superintendent,
American Watch Company, Waltham.

New-York Central Railroad, Locomotive Department, Boston Division, Boston, Dec. 24, 1867.
Gentlemen: I have no hesitation in saying that I believe the great majority of locomotive engineers have found by experience that Waltham Watches are the most satisfactory and reliable watches they have ever used.
The greatest accuracy and steadiness, withstanding the rough riding of an engine, and as they have never known any other watch must be durable. I hope to see the time when railway companies will generally adopt your watches, and furnish them to their engineers and conductors. In my opinion it would greatly tend to promote regularity and safety.
Yours respectfully,
CHARLES WILSON, G. Chief Engineer, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers,
American Watch Company, Waltham.

PREMIUM
GANG PLOWS.
As the age in which we live demands progress in Farming Implements as well as in all other branches of industry, we have determined to enter extensively upon the manufacture of the celebrated

Pfeil Gang Plow!
Better known in Oregon as the WOL-GAMOT PLOW. This Plow combines all the desirable points of a perfect implement, being simple in construction, cheap, durable, and of light draft. The only Premiums which were awarded to Gang Plows at the great Implement trial at Matton, Sept. 4, 1866, by the State Agricultural Society of Illinois, were awarded to this Plow. The following is an extract from the Report of the Commissioner of Agriculture, for the year 1866, and may be found on page 246 of that report:—

"The Gang Plow made by J. C. Pfeil, Arenville, Cass county, Illinois, is received with little favor in the west. Almost incredible stories are told of its excellence and efficiency in plowing the prairie fields of Illinois and other States, and may be found on page 246 of that report:—

"The depth of the furrow is regulated by the crank axle, which is so arranged that the plowman can regulate the depth of the furrow at the pleasure of the driver, when the team is moving by means of the lever.
We also manufacture sulley plows for small boys, or infirm persons who are unable to manage a team of three or four horses.
This gang or sulley plow, will cut a furrow from 2 to 10 inches deep.
The committee who tested the draught of this plow with a dynamometer state, that it ran lighter by 140 pounds, than other plows when running at the same depth, and held by the plowman while on foot."

With this Plow one man can do more work than two men can do with walking Plows, and the same amount of team. Hence, it will be seen that it will more than pay for itself in one season's plowing.

In addition to the above, John W. Lewis will also manufacture the WEB-FOOT GANG PLOW!
—AND THE—
Web-Foot Walking Plow!

Both patterns of his own invention, for which patents have been applied for, and which have withstood practical tests with the best results, receiving flattering testimonials wherever seen or tried.

Now, the Farmers of Oregon are invited to give the Oregon City Manufactory a trial. Do not purchase a Plow of any description until you have examined our make and prices, as we are determined to sell at less than importer's rates, by giving you a more durable article, and a guarantee warranting the same.

CHANGE OF NAME!
MERCADO & COMPANY, Successors to
MERCADO & SELLY, Have been obliged, for their own protection and the safety of the public, to change the name of their celebrated Bitters to

Mercado's Native
California Wine Bitters.

We submit the following affidavit in an injunction suit formerly pending between Mercado & Selly plaintiffs, and G. A. Simon, defendant.—P. Sainevain, is duly sworn, says:
"That the article known as Sainevain's California Wine Bitters, was manufactured by Mercado & Selly, in the month of March, 1867, without the said Sainevain's consent, having any concern in the manufacture thereof. That Sainevain is a native born citizen, considered and known as such, and is the sole proprietor of the Sainevain's California Wine Bitters."
