TOWN AND COUNTY.

There will be a meeting of the City Council on Monday evening next.

Levy wants to sell all his tobacco before any more stamps are required.

The City Council, at its last meeting, provided for stopping the leak at the reservoir.

The Man-trap, on Main street, near the Woolen factory, was ordered to be closed, at the last meeting of the Council. It is hoped it will be done.

Miss Emma Smith will please accept the thanks of the Editor for a fine bouquet of fragrant flowers from the fields of nature, left at this office on Thursday.

Mr. Wm. Barlow has returned from a few months absence East of the Blue Mountains—none flattered with the prospects of that region. We are pleased to see him home again.

The Entertainment given on Wednesday evening at the Court House for the benefit of the M. E. Sabbath School, was well attended, and netted a nice purse for the object for which it was called.

Rev. Mr. Sellwood will officiate at Trinity Church Portland, to-morrow—and Rev. Mr. Stoy of Trinity Church, will officiate at St. Pauls Church at the same time, in this city.

The Oregon City Woolen Mills are now running full handed, manufacturing cassimere, tweeds, flannels, blankets, etc. The mill was thoroughly renovated, and is now in as good trim as when erected.

We were asked a few days since, to state how often the P. T. Company have doubled stock—and for what purposes—and how long it stuck, each time. We are compiling materials for a history of the secret workings of the P. T. Co., and may be able to state a few interesting items "on the side."

The Senator leaves Portland for Oregon City now—immediately after they let go the head lines—at least so the capting told an old gentleman at Milwaukee the other day, upon the latter inquiring, that he might know when to be at the wharf. Precious youth that!

Several ladies of this city and Canemah have exhibited to us beautiful wreaths of artificial flowers, which they have made under instructions from Mrs. M. L. McLeran of Portland, during the past ten days. They are certainly beautiful specimens of nature's hand work, and attest the admirable taste of the ladies who have produced them.

The question as to who shall keep the water works in repair came up at the last meeting of the Council. Some were liberal enough to suppose that the city can pay $250 00 in coin every three months for water, and repair the hydrants to boot—else there would have been no "question" about it.

Ackerman is receiving his new spring stock, which is greater than any previous stock ever laid in by him, and the goods are of more than ordinary good quality. Our old friend Fred Chapman is still at the counters in Ackerman's. He showed us some of the choicest wall paper ever selected for this market. Persons in want of wall paper should call upon Ackerman.

Wm. Singer of this city is manufacturing a patent clothes rack, the right of which he has purchased, which we recommend to all housewives, as a most useful article, always out of the way. It may be attached to the wall, or adjusted, and just the thing for an ironing room or nursery. Any person using this rack would never give it up.

James A. Smith Esq. filed his bonds with the County Clerk on the 6th, and has entered upon the duties of Justice of the Peace for this precinct. He will also attend to the collection of debts, conveying real estate, etc. See his Card in another column, and bear his occupation in your mind when you visit his City. Mr. Smith would make an excellent City Recorder; and as an election is pending, we nominate him, subject to a decision of the City Convention.

At the close of the Rebecca Degree Meeting on Thursday evening last, the members of the degree spent a pleasant hour with their invited guests in discussing an excellent supper. We were unable to attend, but a friend at our elbow who was present tells us that if he were he should say that "at this time we feel too full for utterance; and will merely remark that the ladies of our city, on this occasion, as is their custom, did nobly."

A small bay horse with a narrow, short white stripe in the face, two, perhaps three, white feet, left the premises of N. Andrus, on the Clackamas in this County, on the 26th ult, and has not been seen or heard of since it was at Waconda, on Tuesday following. Any person leaving information at this office that will lead to the recovery of the horse, will be suitably rewarded. When the animal left, marks of a rope were to be distinctly seen around one of its hindmost limbs. Salem, Elkhart and Valley papers generally will confer a favor on a Brother Ed., by copying this notice.

Ben. Holladay, Esq., and other gentlemen connected with the Oregon Central Railroad Company, paid us a call on Wednesday last, while here en route to Portland from the annual meeting at Salem. All of the old board of Directors were re-elected, and six additional, consisting of Messrs. Asahel Bush, George Eades, J. H. Foster, S. M. Smith, Dr. J. C. Hagthorne and Geo. W. Welder. Hon. I. B. Moore was re-elected President; Hon. Green B. Smith Vice President; and Hon. George E. Cole Secretary. Mr. Holladay is buying valuable real estate in East Portland, and at Portland proper. His purchasers there recently foot up many thousands of dollars. Congress having taken the right to build a bridge across the Wallawat away from him, and given it to the town council—he will build and equip a large steam ferry for the O. C. R. R., and make the main depot at East Portland.

The average attendance during this term is less than during last term owing to the prevalence of the measles in the city during the months of February and March.

S. D. POPE, Principal.

At the close of the exercises of Wednesday, we understand the pupils of the seminary were addressed by the Rev. Mr. Gerry, in a manner calculated to leave an impression in the minds of those present. His happy illustrations, and forcible applications of practical truths, will doubtless have the effect of awakening a deeper interest in the youthful minds of the scholars attending our city school, in the various branches of study. We were disappointed at not being able to be present, but believe that at no time in the history of our school, has more proficiency and interest on the part of the pupils been displayed, as is evident by the rolls of honor, and the number of certificates granted.

Lot 3 in block seven, sold by Mr. Warner was purchased by S. Huelat, Esq., for $665. This term decidedly cheap. It is eligibly situated, on Main street, and will be good business property within two years.

We invite special attention to the new advertisement of Mr. S. D. Francis this week. Mr. Francis has opened new diggings there sure enough, and he is ready at all times to weigh out the profits to his customers.

We observe by our San Francisco exchanges that C. C. Hastings still maintains the ascendancy as the fashionable clothier of California. The public, as well as the merchant, everybody—patronize Hastings. See advertisement.

The Annual Convention of preachers of the M. E. Church, of the Portland District, will be held at Hillsboro, May 25th. Thirty-six essays will be delivered, each to occupy 15 to 20 minutes time. These should be reported and published.

The advertisement sent to this office by S. S. Wood, Newburg, N. Y., will be inserted for three months, upon receipt of $10 00. Our terms are for transient business like this, cash with the order. If other persons would adopt that rule they would stop a great position both upon themselves and their readers.

The P. T. Co. have been talking about constructing locks around the falls—and claim to have sent an agent to the Eastern States to learn how to make 'em. Now this is all pretty well to talk, but we have an idea that the aforesaid agent had other plans in view, and will probably spend more time about Washington City, than at those places where locks and canals "do most abound." If there are any locks or canals on Salt river he may "take stock" of them.

The want of a correct and reliable Map of Oregon and the Territories of Washington and Idaho, has been long and seriously felt, both at home and abroad. It is especially this want, has been the object of Mr. Rapplere in the important and responsible enterprise which he has just completed. The map has been compiled from the last and best authorities, comprising the U. S. coast survey and northern boundary surveys, pacific railroad explorations, and data obtained by means of circular letters from the general post office department, locating post offices and post roads, and will be found in all its details the most accurate map ever published. As the scale of the Map is twelve miles to an inch, every geographical feature of importance is clearly defined. It is four feet by six feet in size. Printed in colors, in the finest style of copper-plate engraving, on the best quality of paper, and mounted on canvas and rollers. Subscriptions will be received at this office, where the map may be seen.
