

THE UNFINISHED PRAYER.

"Now I lay"—repeat it darling; "Lay me" I gently added, "O'er her folded finger tips."

"Down to sleep"—"To sleep," she murmured, "And the curly head dropped low; I pray the Lord," I gently added, "You can say it all I know."

"Pray the Lord"—the words came faintly, fainter still—"My soul to keep;" The tired head then fairly nodded, "And the child was fast asleep."

But the dewy eyes half opened, When I clasped her to my breast, And the dear voice softly whispered, "Mama dear, God knows the rest."

Cultivate your heart aright, as well as your farm; and remember, "whatsoever a man soweth that shall he reap."

Horse-radish root is valuable for cattle. It creates an appetite, and is good for various diseases. Some give it to any animal that is unwell. It is good for oxen troubled with the heat. If animals will not eat it voluntarily, cut it up fine and mix it with potatoes or meal.

In a dry time, see that animals have a good supply of pure water. When the fountains are low, they drink the draining of fountains, streams, and passages of water which are unwholesome. If it rains and stables are very tight and warm, ventilate in mild weather, even in winter.

In feeding animals on apples or roots, begin with a very small quantity, and gradually increase it. It would be better to have all changes in food made gradually, when there is a material difference in the nature of the food; as from hay to grass, and the reverse; from much fodder to much grain, and the reverse.

"PELVIAL"—The Oregonian probably means by the following to convey the idea that it rained; "The fogs sucked up from the multitudinous seas during the hot days lately experienced were precipitated from the sweet heavens in good style last evening." Why didn't it say:

The thunder roared From pool 2 pool; The lightning got All-fired hot, And then it flash'd—Some.

The rain it came, The catlet ran, (With tails on hi), And so did I, But I got splash'd—Some.

NEW POULTRY BOOK.—A small work entitled "New Poultry Book for Oregon and Washington"—a brief and practical treatise on the history, breeding and successful management of domestic fowls, has been given to the Oregonian. It gives an estimate which may be surprising to many, of the value of the poultry business in this State and Washington Territory. The 100,000 people are supposed to have every year, in the aggregate, 250,000 hens, worth thirty cents apiece (a low estimate) or a total of $75,000. Four chickens for the table are raised each season, worth $30,000. The product of eggs is put down at 3,000,000 dozens per year, worth $250,000, after deducting one-half the value for feeding and care of hens. The net total profit of chickens raised and eggs sold as stated at $265,000 annually. This is a very considerable sum for an interest to which so little attention is paid. The book lays down very clear and apparently good rules to be observed in the selection of both cocks and hens; choice of feed; manner of breeding; management of the young chickens; construction of poultry houses; treatment of diseases, etc., etc. It designates the Brahma and white-faced Spanish fowls as the most profitable, under all circumstances, as fowls are usually managed. It was printed by A. G. Walling, at Portland.

The Crown Point, Yellow Jacket and Kentuck mines in Gold Hill, which have been on fire for the last three weeks, have again commenced hoisting ore. The air in some of the levels however, is so bad that no one can live in them. A few bodies yet remain in the mines and it is thought they are covered by the caved debris. The water last Friday has been reduced from 200 to but 70 feet deep and it is thought in a short time they will all be in complete working order again.

The city of Cheyenne, on the line of the Union Pacific Railroad, was destroyed by fire, April 18th. The total losses estimated at $500,000. Ninety-eight business houses were burned.

It is said that General Tom Thumb and lady, Commodore Nutt and Miss Minnie Warren, propose visiting the Pacific Coast this coming summer.

A greater portion of Helena, Montana, was buried in ashes on the 28th ult. The estimated loss is half a million of dollars.

A decoction of the leaves of common camomile will destroy all species of insect, and nothing contributes so much to the health of a garden as a number of camomile plants disposed through it. No green-house or hot-house should ever be without it, in a green or dried state; either the stalks or the flowers will answer. It is a singular fact that, if a plant is drooping and apparently dying, in nine cases out of ten it will recover if you plant camomile near it.
