AN APPEAL. BY FRANCIS L. KEELER.

Fellow-mortals! do not linger Weeping o'er what might have been ; Progress points with jeweled finger To the battles yet to win.

Yes, to-day Life's conflict rages, And we need not turn the leaves Backward through the book of Ages For the lesson that it gives.

There are wrongs that must be righted Even in this land of ours ; There are other lands benighted, Yet to feel Truth's sacred showers.

Let us toil to heal the nations, Waiting for the dawning, when We shall read in deeds and actions-" Peace on earth, good-will to men."
