

The Weekly Enterprise.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL STYLES OF TYPE ARE BEING CONSTANTLY ADDED TO THE MATERIALS OF THIS OFFICE...

On Thursday next the Congregational Association of Oregon, will meet at Salem.

Senator Williams will return to Oregon on the next steamer from San Francisco.

Leopold Wolfe, Esq., whose ill health drove him from Portland some years ago, died at Honolulu on the 10th of May.

Mr. J. M. Bacon is collecting a fine lot of old edgers. He has one silver piece coined in the time of Henry VIII.

The election of Mr. Garfield in Washington Territory, on Monday last, as Delegate to Congress, is a signal triumph of principle over treason.

J. M. Bacon has for sale Harper's School and family state, which is furnished with cards of lessons in drawing—free thing.

The Flourer office was the recipient of a beautiful bouquet, last week, presented by Mrs. Belle W. Cooke. It contained twenty-six different varieties of roses.

We are glad to learn that the reason why the water works appeared to fall in the vicinity of the Congregational church recently, was because of a plug in the main having blown out.

The Dummet Guard of Portland will have an excursion and picnic on the 29th, at Pleasant Grove, in this county. The usual exercises will be had, and a pleasant time may be anticipated.

The Wallcut Falls Canal and Lock Company have deposited the funds to pay for the entire right of way—and we are assured that work will be speedily commenced. Mr. Goldsmith, President of the Company, is now at home in Portland.

The Harvest of 1893, according to all accounts will be greatly in excess of any previous year in Oregon. It has already commenced in Clackamas county, as may be learned by reference to the new advertisement of Mr. Sellig.

The Recorder, Esq., tells of an Oregon Heroine, in the Empire, who proposed to carry out the words of Dixie to shoot him on the spot, when a man named Mulkey offered to take down the Stars and Stripes in front of her house, and trail the same in the dust.

If we cannot get on a celebration in this city for Saturday, June 24, let us all go to Portland on Monday, and then, about the 20th of October, or sooner, invite all Portland to come here, on our Railroad Opening Celebration. The affair at Portland this month (5th) of July will be decidedly the best.

Everybody's friend—Mr. Paul Richter, long with Walter Bros. Portland, has established in business on his own account, having purchased the stock and trade of Mr. G. C. Rider, at the corner of Salmon and First streets, in the furniture and building line, since 1884. Portland. The author of this book is Mr. D. W. Frary, of East Portland—proprietor for this State, and adjacent territory, of "Perkins Patent Process" for cutting eggs, meat, etc., by which the same is kept in good condition for a great length of time. Mr. Frary is anxious to get a good reliable man to canvass for the sale of rights to parties in this country to use the "Process."

The Herald speaking of its evening contemporary says: "Our neighbor appears to take a special delight in showing up the shortcomings of our railroad companies, and never finds rooms for a word of encouragement. These repeated attacks on the enterprise of the men who propose to build the roads come with bad grace from any paper that professes to have an interest in the commercial prosperity of our city, county and State. We want the good will and wishes of all who contribute to its enterprise or money for that purpose should receive the encouragement and approbation of the press, and not its censure. Don't throw any stones in the way, neighbor."

Certain leading members of Oregon Lodge No. 3, I. O. O. F., deserve the hearty thanks of the fraternity at large, for having devised a method of practical work for the Daughters of Rebecca. As a result of their labors, and the sanction of the Grand Lodge for Oregon, which was held at Salem last month, we have now in this jurisdiction Colfax Rebecca Degree No. 1, at Salem; and Schuyler Rebecca Degree No. 2, at Oregon City. This city is really deserving of No. 1, but about this we do not propose to raise a question. We should like to see the next three succeeding Lodges, however, named after Bros. Apperson, Randall and Pope.

As we have been assailed for stating that Mr. Huntington died from the effects of excessive drink, (and been accused of malicious intent,) we have concluded to notice the paragraph just so far as to contradict the assertions that enemy ever existed between us and Mr. H. We were his friend, and he was a friend to us, in life, so far as we know. The last interview with him in our office was a pleasant one—and the regrets we felt for him, which have followed him to his grave, would then have been personally expressed. No doubt, but we have known of certain relations existing between him and us, which have since been ascertained. We never felt a disposition to hate Mr. H.; never had the least occasion for such feeling. We have differed in matters of political economy—but never set down anything in malice, and no man, not kindred has greater respect for his memory than we. Words of wrath on such occasions are not calculated to soften hearts—but if our contemporaries have made any capital out of their personal abuse of the Editor of this paper, for what was said last week, they are welcome to it.

Absence of the Editor for several days this week, has prevented the usual attention to the Editorial work, hence, if this number should not be quite up to the standard, we beg to be excused for it.

The claims of the Enterprise to a support from the citizens of Oregon generally, will be presented by Capt. Wm. Barlow, of this city, and Mr. S. E. Stone, also of this city, who are now traveling in the Wallamet Valley. Receipts given by them will be held valid at this office.

A society for mutual benefit and relief has organized on the 6th inst., among the Hebrews of Portland, with the following officers: President, L. Goodman; Vice President, L. Cohn; Secretary, P. Levin; Treasurer, R. Pragg; Trustees, C. Goldstein, J. Harris, J. Batt and M. Franklin. Section, N. Solomon. At the meeting of organization the sum of $3000 was subscribed to make a beginning for a fund.

The Favorite Religious Family Journal.—With the completion of the Pacific Railroad and the revolution in the transmission of mails, thousands of families will wish to supply themselves with some leading religious paper published East of the Rocky Mountains. The Advance, published at Chicago, has no superior as a Religious Family newspaper. It is a noble prayer or sentiment, but still, wide-awake, and aggressive, and while not neglecting the needs of the world, is chiefly devoted to the interests of the Human Soul. The Advance commends itself especially to the people of Oregon by the fact that it will reach us by the Pacific slope two days earlier than any other National Religious journal of the East. The subscription of the Advance is $2.50 (currency) per year, but in order to give our people an opportunity to judge of its quality the publisher offers to send it during the remainder of the present year—from June 1st to January 1st, for $1.00, or one month for to any one making the request. Letters should be addressed to the Advance Co., Chicago, Ill.

The Oregonian for June, is the closing number of the first year, and the second volume. It has been successful in winning its way to popular favor, not only on this side of the Continent, but the highest praises have been accorded to it in the East. To the people on the Atlantic border it has become literally an "overland" monthly, as the Editor informs us that it goes to America by Red, Taylor's route, containing choice religious literature, life and manners on this Coast, with something more about the Chinese. In short, the Magazine is deserving of liberal patronage, and we hope it will receive it. Now is the time to receive our copy. Send to A. Korman & Co., San Francisco.

Harper's Monthly for June contains a series of articles of scientific and popular interest. It opens with an illustrated article on the "Anaxora Borealis or Polar Lights," followed by two others—"Life on the Moon" and "The Future of the Human Race." The latter is a very interesting and original article, with short sketches of historical events, poetry, etc. make up a number which will afford much instruction as well as entertainment. Harper holds the even honor of its way, notwithstanding the numerous magazines competing with it, and we still regard it as good in its kind.

Hours of Honor for June contains some excellent reading. We have been specially interested in Dr. Frazar's articles on "Honor and Healing." In the present number he discusses the relation of religious life to "Honor," by Prof. Evans, is a brief sketch of the rise of one of the greatest empires of modern Europe, together with a condensed list of some of the greatest names which its growth has produced. The other articles are of interest, though we have only had time to glance at them. This Magazine is still one of the most valuable contributions to modern periodical literature.

Pulman's for June opens with an interesting account of Lesseps and the Suez Canal. Surely this man has met with the same treatment, as most who have sought to benefit the world, in the inappreciation and carrying out of this greatest undertaking of modern times. We have been interested in many of the other articles, especially in one written by the Editor himself, wherein he tells us some things about London and Paris, as seen now and in 1852. The Table Talk is interesting, and adds much to the value of this Magazine. Who shall say that this does not fill an important place in our literature.

We have received No. 22, of "Earth and Home," a weekly journal for the farm and household. This contains many interesting articles for both old and young. It is published by Peering, Jones & Co., of Park Row, New York.

The Pharmacological Journal for June contains portraits of Purdee and Harper, with sketches of character etc. This journal contains many curious items, and although we take little stock in the principles it advocates, yet we must confess that it is ably conducted.

We have received several copies of "Sprague's Speeches." They are orations in their way. They can be seen by calling at this office.

Peter's Medical Monthly, published in New York, will keep one thoroughly posted, concerning what is "doing" in the line of new medicine.

We find Every Saturday, with its choice selections of Foreign Literature, an almost indispensable addition to our stock of literary journals.

The May No. of the Manufacturer & Builder, contains many excellent things for mechanics of every class. It is printed on good paper and finely illustrated.

MARRIED. On board the steamer George S. M. Light by Capt. Henry Lassop, at sea, in latitude 37° 30' north, longitude 124° 30' west, at six o'clock, on Wednesday, June 9th, 1893, of Miss MELISSA J. MILLER, daughter of Capt. S. E. Miller, all of Clatsop, State of Oregon, United States of America.

Some say that it is no use for them to advertise, that they have been in the place in business all their lives, and everybody knows them. Such people seem to forget to take in consideration that our country is increasing in population nearly 40 per cent, every ten years, and no matter how old the place may be, there are constant changes taking place; some move to other parts, and strangers fill their places. In this age of the world, no man ever lost money by judicious advertising.

Newspapers, by enhancing the value of property in their neighborhood, and giving the locality in which they are published a reputation abroad, benefit all particularly if they are merchants or real estate owners, whose amount yearly of the sum they pay for their support. Besides, every spirited citizen has a laudable pride in having a paper of which he is not ashamed, even though he should pick it up in New York or Washington. A good looking, thriving, live newspaper helps to sell property, gives character to the locality, and in all respects is a desirable public convenience. If, from any cause, no paper is published in the local or editorial columns should not be left blank, but should be filled with news, and should not be left blank, but should be filled with news, and should not be left blank, but should be filled with news.

Protection to Newspaper Publishers.—The following are the laws of Congress touching the liability of subscribers to newspapers: 1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscription.
