

The Weekly Enterprise. TOWN AND COUNTY.

Mr. Thomas Charman has gone below to lay in his fall and winter stock of goods.

We learn incidentally that Mr. Elliott, of O. C. R. Co., has purchased the mill of the Canemah Lumbering Company, on a private venture.

Rev. J. W. Sellwood will preach as usual on Sunday next at the Episcopal Church. In the evening he will deliver an address on the subject of missions.

Mr. Dan. O'Neil of this city, on last Wednesday presented Mr. J. M. Bacon with several Roman, French, and German coins which will add materially to the collection of old and unique coins being made by Mr. Bacon.

Judge Kelley, who was here with the House Committee on Ways and Means recently, wrote a long account of what he saw during his trip to this coast, which is published in Forney's Press of August 27th.

It will be seen by advertisement that on the 20th Wilson's Great World Circus will exhibit in Oregon City. It is highly recommended by both the press and the public, where it has been.

Thomas G. Young, United States Marshall for the District of Oregon, will sail on the steamer Ana, late steamer Leola, for an infringement of the United States Revenue Laws, in Corvallis, on the 22d instant, to the highest bidder in currency.

APRICES.—This week Mr. B. R. Mael left on our table four apples of the talpachokin variety, which weighed a little over six pounds, or a little more than a pound and a half each. They were raised on his farm a few miles from this city. Who can show larger ones?

No.—Several of our friends have inquired of us if we had quit the practice of the law, since we took charge of the Enterprise. We answer No; the day time is devoted to our professional business, and our leisure hours of evenings to the paper.

Through mistake we last week mentioned that Rebecca Degree Lodge No. 2 of this city, had selected the first and fourth Tuesday evenings, of each month, for the regular meetings. The paragraph should have read, second and fourth Tuesday, etc. There will be a meeting on Tuesday evening next.

The ship Norway, 157 days from Cardiff, arrived in San Francisco harbor on Saturday. This is the ship which brings Holladay & Co.'s iron for the first twenty miles of the Oregon Central Railroad. Nothing short of an earthquake at the bay, or a ship wreck on the coast, can prevent the iron from reaching its destination in time.

PRINTERS REMEMBERED.—We are under many obligations to Mr. Samuel Hughes for a box of splendid apples and pears left at our office last week. At the same time he left a beautiful specimen of silicified fir of which quite an abundance exists in his neighborhood, about 18 miles east of this place.

The Oregonian says real estate transactions are becoming frequent, showing quite a change for the better. Farming lands are now beginning to move. This is as it should be. Better for Portland and the State at large, were one half the real property to change hands. In this way much improvement would be made which in present hands would not be thought of.

We have received a copy of the minutes of the twenty-first Anniversary of the Willamette Baptist Association, held with the West Union Baptist Church, Oregon, June 25, 1869. The minutes show an accession of 18 members since the last annual meeting. The present membership is 322, with ten churches, two of which are in this county.

The Commercial says that the completion of two superb passenger cars at East Portland, the arrival of iron for the road, etc., begins to look like a partial fulfillment of the sanguinary predictions so long and so often indulged in. The Unionist refers to the fact that four locomotives are now on the way, consigned to Ben. Holladay & Co., two of which are coming across the continent by rail.

The steamer Ranger was totally destroyed, at Sauvie's Island, on Saturday night last, by fire occasioned, it is thought, by imperfect "banking" of her fires after she laid up for the night. Her passengers and crew were barely saved, and that is all. This is the first steamer destroyed by fire on Oregon waters, that we have yet deemed of.

Ruby Gray's Strategy, by Mrs. Ann Stephens, is the title of an entire new novel from the pen of this talented American authoress, now in press, and to be published in a few days by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. The novels of Mrs. Stephens are productive of both pleasure and excitement. They are, moreover, always successful, for the reason that while this gifted author is a conscientious follower of nature, she has also that fine artistic sense which teaches that nature, when shown within the lines of art, must be measurably heightened, colored, and enlarged. This is the real secret of successful writing—a secret appreciated by such masters of fiction as Dickens and Thackeray. There is no previous work of Mrs. Stephens so full of her peculiar power and genius—none so absorbing in conception and development as "Ruby Gray's Strategy." It is fully equal to her "Fashion and Fame." The price is only $1.75, bound in cloth.

On last Thursday we passed over that portion of the route of the Oregon Central Railroad, lying between this place and Salem. The work of grading is progressing rapidly, and we were informed by one of the Superintendents of the work that the Company would have the grading of twenty miles finished by the middle of week after next. From present indications we would not be surprised to find it so.

Our attention has been attracted by a beautiful bouquet of wax-flowers, ornamenting the parlor at the Cliff House, which were wrought by the fair hands of Miss Mollie Barlow. The flowers were fashioned from nature's own models, and they are of exquisite taste. Mollie certainly deserves a premium for the care she has bestowed upon that bouquet. We learn that Mrs. John F. Miller has a similar one, but much larger, just completed, which is greatly admired. It will indeed be singular if Oregon City is not represented by the "fair" at the approaching State Fair.

Rev. J. W. Sellwood returned to this city on Thursday morning last, after an absence of several weeks, during which time he has traveled, with his wife, as far south as Jacksonville, preaching in most places of importance on the way. He attended Convocation at Portland. We to welcome him back to this parish, where he has been missed by his many parishioners during his absence.

As we go to press with our paper on Friday afternoon, in order to meet the mails for our county towns, we are denied the pleasure, this week, of giving proper notice of the doings of the Fire Department today, September 10th, in housing their new machines in their new houses. The procession formed at three o'clock, p. m. and proceeded by the Oregon City Brass Band, marched through the principal streets, presenting a very fine appearance. The cere- monies close with dancing in the evening, at the Court House, and a Festival at the hall of Columbia Hook & Ladder Company. The proceeds of these entertainments are to be devoted toward the purchase of an alarm bell.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Vice President of the United States, made many friendly calls upon our citizens on Tuesday last, among whom he seemed to be quite at home. The Editor was absent, but Mr. Colfax paid the Financial Agent a visit and was cordially received. He was accompanied to this place by Senator Corbett. The party left Portland for Sacramento yesterday, and from there will return to the east as rapidly as possible. The Herald, speaking of Mr. Colfax, says: "He looks fresh and youthful, and his mental vision is as keen as ever. It is said that as presiding officer of the Senate he carries the same steady and even hand that he did as Speaker of the House of Representatives. His urbanity certainly has not abandoned him, as we can testify. The interview was exceedingly pleasant, and our high regard for him as a man greatly augmented. The editorial staff of the Herald are pleased to acknowledge the honor of a visit from the next highest officer of the American Republic."

The Seventeenth Annual Convocation of the Protestant Episcopal Church convened in Trinity Church, Portland on Friday September 3rd, Right Rev. B. Wistar Morris presiding. All the clergy of this diocese were present, and a goodly number of the laity. Much business of importance was transacted pertaining to the work of the church. The Bishop's address, delivered at the opening of the convocation, was able and exhibited the true missionary ring. The religious services formed a very interesting and profitable feature of the Convocation. Rev. Mr. Bonnell of Salem, preached on Thursday evening, Rev. Mr. Hyland of Olympia on Friday evening, Rev. Mr. Sellwood of Oregon City, on Saturday evening. On Sunday morning the Bishop preached a most able and deeply interesting sermon to a very large congregation. In the evening a missionary meeting was held and addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs. Bonnell, J. W. Sellwood, P. E. Hyland and Dr. Johnson. This ended one of the most pleasant Convocations ever held in Oregon, and full of the most cheering prospects for the future. On the Monday following St. Helen's Hall opened with fifty pupils.

SALEM.—We spent a portion of this week in Salem and must say that we were a little surprised at the number of substantial and beautiful brick buildings that have been erected in that city during the past year, and still the work goes steadily on. General Reed is now putting up a three story brick building, which, when finished would be an ornament to any city. But the improvements are not in buildings alone, the people have so beautified their grounds with evergreens and other shade trees that in a few years our State Capital will be the most beautiful inland city on the Pacific coast.

He uses both Oregon and California leather in his establishment, and his work bears a most excellent reputation abroad. We hope that citizens of our own county will think of this, when they want any articles in his line.
