Who Will Care ! Who will care?

When we lay beneath the daisies. Underneath the churchyard mold. And the long grasses o'er our faces Lay their fingers damp and cold : When we sleep from care and sorrow, And the ills of earthly life-Sleep, to know no sad to-morrow. With the bitterness of strife -

Who will care?

Who will care? Who will come to weep above us, Lying, ch! so white and still, Underneath the skies of summer. When all nature's pulses thrill To a new life, glad and tender. Full of beauty, rich and sweet, And the world is clad in splender That the years shall eer repeat-Who will care?

Who will care? Who will think of white hands lying On a still and silent breest. Nevermore to know of sighing, Evermore to know of rest? Who will care? No one can tell us. But if rest and peace befall,
