Burlesque.

We supposed from the beginning that the ticket placed in nomination by the Radicals was a burlesque, but did not think the Radical organs would make an acknowledgement of the fact, at least until after the election.

INSURE.—The P. T. Co., have two boats per day running between this place and Portland, yet their warehouses in this city are crowded, these boats not being able to move the freight forward as fast as it is brought down the river.

Twelve Hundred Chinamen.

Under this title the Oakland Transcript contains a very remarkable article from a correspondent, from which we make the following quotations.

Democracy.

You have a solemn and heavy responsibility to meet on next Monday. To your efforts is given the choice whether you will relieve this county from the rule of an extravagant, dishonest and worthless party, and install honest, competent men—

History Repeating.

In 1862, the Federal scoundrels in this State, prominent among which was B. J. Pengra, then Surveyor General of Oregon, wrote letters to intimidate voters from voting the Democratic ticket, stating that if they (the pap suckers) would confiscate the property of all who did vote the Democratic ticket, the same thing is being done this year.

Just So.

Judge Caples, in his speech last Wednesday, said that there was a poster up in Portland for 500 laborers. Just so. And now the wages will be cut down, and then the 500 cannot be had, and the Chinamen who were brought here by Holladay, will be put to work. If he is so anxious to get 500 white men to work on the road, why does he not bring up this number on his steamers, who are in a starving condition in San Francisco.

His Death Knell.

The expose of Williams' treachery in the Humboldt Railroad bill has caused the honest people of Portland and the west side, to emphatically renounce against him. If the people knew one-half of his infamy since he has been in the Senate not a county in the State would elect Radical members to the Oregon Legislature. They have all sold themselves to Williams and Holladay.
