Latest Election Returns.

In another part of this issue we publish the returns officially received for the candidates on the State ticket. All the counties but Baker, Grant, Josephine, Union, Coos and Curry are officially reported on.

To the Readers of the Enterprise.

With the present issue the undersigned assumes the proprietorship and editorial control of this paper. It has been customary on assuming the control of a paper to give a long address, promising what the editor proposes doing, and what he will not do. We will deviate from this practice, and simply say that the paper has been under our control for the past six weeks, and we propose to keep it in the same line as long as it remains in our charge.

Coming out on the Chinese Question.

The Oregonian is becoming more bold in its advocacy of the Chinese rights since the election. In its issue of the 13th it says:

In the Pacific States and Territories it has been the fashion to tax and otherwise oppress one class of foreigners—the Chinese—in an unconstitutional manner, and to deny them all means of redress for any wrongs that might be inflicted on them.

Judge Thayer goes to Coos and Curry with 114 majority, which those counties cannot possibly overcome, giving us three out of the five Seaside Judges.

The Oregonian comes to the rescue of its Celestial friends, knowing that the Democracy of this State will make an effort to protect the white men from this influx of the heathen rat-catchers into our State.

Frands.

The Radical press has much to say about frands perpetrated at the late election. It is notorious fact that there never was a party in this State or any other that has been guilty of as much rapacity, illegal voting, purchasing, importing, etc.

Official Vote of the State—1870.

The following is the official vote of the State as far as received. The Radical candidates are marked with a *.

Judge Shattuck's Letter.

Last week we published a letter from Judge Shattuck, in which he takes the ground that the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments are "settled facts."

Aburd Figuring.

The Radical papers just now are doing any amount of absurd and ridiculous figuring about the election, and what a "glorious victory" they have won.

TO RETURN.

It is stated that the Radical candidate for State Printer, who made a short visit to this State to see himself defeated will soon return to Washington to take his place on the police.

STOPPED.

It was started for the campaign, and fully sustained itself in all its promises given at the outset. It dealt heavy and fearless blows to the Radicals. We have no knowledge who was its editor, but as a campaign writer, he is a success.

HAVE SPOKEN.

New York, Connecticut and Oregon have spoken their sentiments against the Radicals. The Western States will follow in mass this fall.

SPRINGFIELD (MO.) LEADER.

We have received the daily edition of this paper. It is a very neat five column paper, and we have regarded its weekly issue as one of our best exchanges.

Idaho Elected.

Idaho has been elected Delegate to Congress from Idaho Territory.

On Wednesday night we were visited by a terrific storm. The lightning continued almost an hour, many trees on the surrounding hills were struck and set on fire. We have heard of no damage done. The "Oldest Inhabitant" does not recollect anything that would compare favorably in point of magnitude to this display of nature's fire-works.

The election throughout the county passed off quietly. There was no disturbance of any kind at any of the precincts. The partisan of the different parties were active and vigilant throughout the entire day, but notwithstanding the excitement of the occasion, every one preserved order and decorum. The day proved to be quite as large as at the Presidential Election.

We have noticed during the past month that a large number of wagons, loaded with green hides, on their way down toward the Columbia river. We presume they are shipped to the tanneries in the Willamette valley. Quite a lucrative trade in the hide business has sprung up within the past few years, and we would suggest to our farmers and breeders that they carefully preserve all their green hides, and when they have accumulated a sufficient quantity, to ship them below where they bring a good price.
