End of the Thieves' Carnival. The "carnival of thieves," as the last session of Congress was very properly called by the New York Tribune, ended last Friday by a general departure of the members for their homes and stumping grounds. The session was one of the most worthless, corrupt and disgraceful ever held in Washington. Its legislation was controlled by thieves and rings-by party or individual interests, and not by the public Protracted from Hidden Causes, good. Jobs, jobs, jobs-this ery constituted the emotto and moral of all that was done; and grand and petit larceny was the order of the day from the first to the last hour of the session. The loyal patriots assembled in the capitol were not fastidious in their larcenies, and were equally prompt and efficient in stealing millions of public lands, or prigging soap, stationery and tooth brushes. In produce upon your general health? Do you tell weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a petty meanness this Congress exeeeded all its predecessors. Whitewashing committees were paid enormous sums to prepare NOW, READER, reports screening notorious rogues from punishment for infamous crimes, and to save the party from | self-a'ure, venereal d'seases badly cured, and merited disgrace. Jobbers, monopolists and fanatics directed the organs of generation, when in perfect health, votes of the loyal members upon all questions, and their decisions were invariably against the interests of the masses and in favor of capitalists and the shoddy aristoeracy. In no single instance did the wishes and interests of the people prevail against the commands of the land grabbers, the whose generative organs are in perfect ling and never wearying much ne may be money sharks and the lobby bealth thieves. It seems incredible that an intelligent people should tolerate such a body of legislators for any such robbery, corruption and gen- the right one. eral infamy for a single season. The American people have this autumn an opportunity to change this state of affairs, and they owe it to themselves and the good name of the country to effect that change without mercy or remorse. The jackals and the thieves who have been fattening at the public crib at Washington, and who now come impudently asking a popular endorsement of their many crimes, should be spotted by the people everywhere, and everywhere depolls, and show the upstart dema-gogues that they have trespassed too far and too long upon the patience of constituents. Offenses against the Constitution, against the laws, against decency, against the peace and happiness of the country, such as these Congres- EXTRACT BUCHU. sional Jacobins have repeatedly committed, would excite the disgust and resentment of barbarians.
