Simpson, of extended over too much territory, and head. The message contains many suggestions we regard worthy of the attention of the Legislature. The portion which alludes to the breaking up of the Legislature of 1868 is very smoothly worded, and left so as not to leave the slightest impression that he was the chief actor in that diabolical transaction. He suggests many public improvements, which we regard as necessary and essential, yet we cannot help cautioning the Legislature against rushing heedlessly into the expenditure of the public money. The Radicals have had charge of our State affairs for the past eight years, and on a tax as Comegys and Hussey. Printing—Fulton, E. S. McComas, of Union, Chief Clerk; W. aded, and addressed a large crowd in a high as the people of our State can bear, bave been unable to make any of these needed improvements, and no money on hand to commence upon. In order to carry out the Pecommendations of the Governor, it would require several hundred thousand dollars, and if it took the entire revenue of the State under Radical rule, and if the Democracy proceed with these improvements and keep the State credit as it should be, these additional expenditures would necessarily increase the taxes on the people. We are of the opinion that the Democracy had better se where the taxes can be reduced on an over-burdened people, than to seek places

The Senatorial Contest.

On next Tuesday, in accordance with the law, the two Houses of the Oregon Legislature will meet in joint convention to elect a United States Senator to succeed Geo. H. Williams. It is expected of the members of the Legislature that they will carry out, the plain and expressed will of the party which elected them, and cause them to betray the trust which an honest people has placed in their hands.
