WHAT I LIVE FOR.

I live for those who love me, Whose hearts are kind and true: For the heaven that smiles above me, And awaits my spirit, too; For all human ties that bind me. For the task by God assigned me,

For the bright hopes left behind me, And the good that I can do. I live to learn their story Who suffered for my sake :

To emulate their glory, And follow in their wake : Bards, patriots, martyrs, sages, The noble of all ages, Whose deeds crown history's pages, And Time's great volume fills.

I live to hold communion With all that is divine, To feel there is a union "Twixt Nature's heart and mine; To profit by affliction. Reap truth from fields of fiction, Grow wiser from conviction.

I live to hail that season By gifted minds foretold. When men should live by reason, And not alone by gold; When man to man united. And every wrong thing righted. The whole world shall be lighted

As Eden was of old.

And fulfill each grand design.

I live for those who love me. For those who know me true : For the heaven that smiles above me, And awaits my spirit, too; For the cause that lacks assistance, For the wrong that needs resistance, For the future in the distance.

If you are suffering or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary or-gans, or your kidneys frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or doea thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sedi ment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody?
