DISAPPOINTMENT.-If a person is desirons to have their patience tested, let them go to Portland and set a time to return : stop with a friend in the back part of town, and then rush to be at the cars by the time advertised; find that the time and been clareged and the cars left about a half an hour before. This was our condirion last week. We felt as though we didn't care whether we had a railroad or not. Would it not be well when a change. of time is made to give notice a day or Awo in advance?
