Nothing good shall ever perish, Only the corrupt shall die; Truth, which men and angels cherish, Flourishes eternally.

None are wholly God forsaken; All his sacred image wear ; None so lost but should awaken In our hearts a brother's care.

P No mind but what has its mission-Power of working woe or weal; So degraded none's condition, But the world his weight may feel.

Words of kindness, words of warning, Deem not thou may'st speak in vain ; Even those thy counsel scorning, Of shall they return again.

Though the mind, absorbed in pleasure, Holds the voice of counsel light, Yet doth faithful memory treasure What at first it seemed to slight.

Words of kindness we have spoken, May, when we have passed away, Heal, perhaps, some spirit broken, Guide a brother led estray.

Thus our very thoughts are living, Even when we are not here; Joy and consolation giving To the friends who hold us dear.
