CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Renewal of peace gossip more than offset in the corn market this afternoon some about in the oats market. At first, however, corn had a downward slant, due to warmer weather that pointed to an increase of arrivals. Aside from the effect of the strength of oats, the corn market was in a condition to respond readily to selling which after midday was based principally on London reports giving Munich authority for the assertion that within the next ten days the Central Powers would make a new declaration regarding peace.

Export purchasing of oats aggre gated about 700,000 bushels. It was said though, that the seaboard demand had now been filled for the time being. Holders of provisions realized. The outlook was for a bearish showing in warehouse stocks.
