Elevator News Hardens Chicago Corn Market CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Although corn prices at first eased down a little today influenced by likelihood that traffic congestion would be relieved, the market later hardened owing to uncertainty as to whether elevators and dryers would be permitted to continue operation despite restrictive rules as to coal. Quotations closed steady at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-8c higher, with January $1.27 5-8 and May $1.24 1-2. Oats gained 1-4 to 3-8 to 1-2c. The outcome in provisions varied from unchanged to 15c advance.

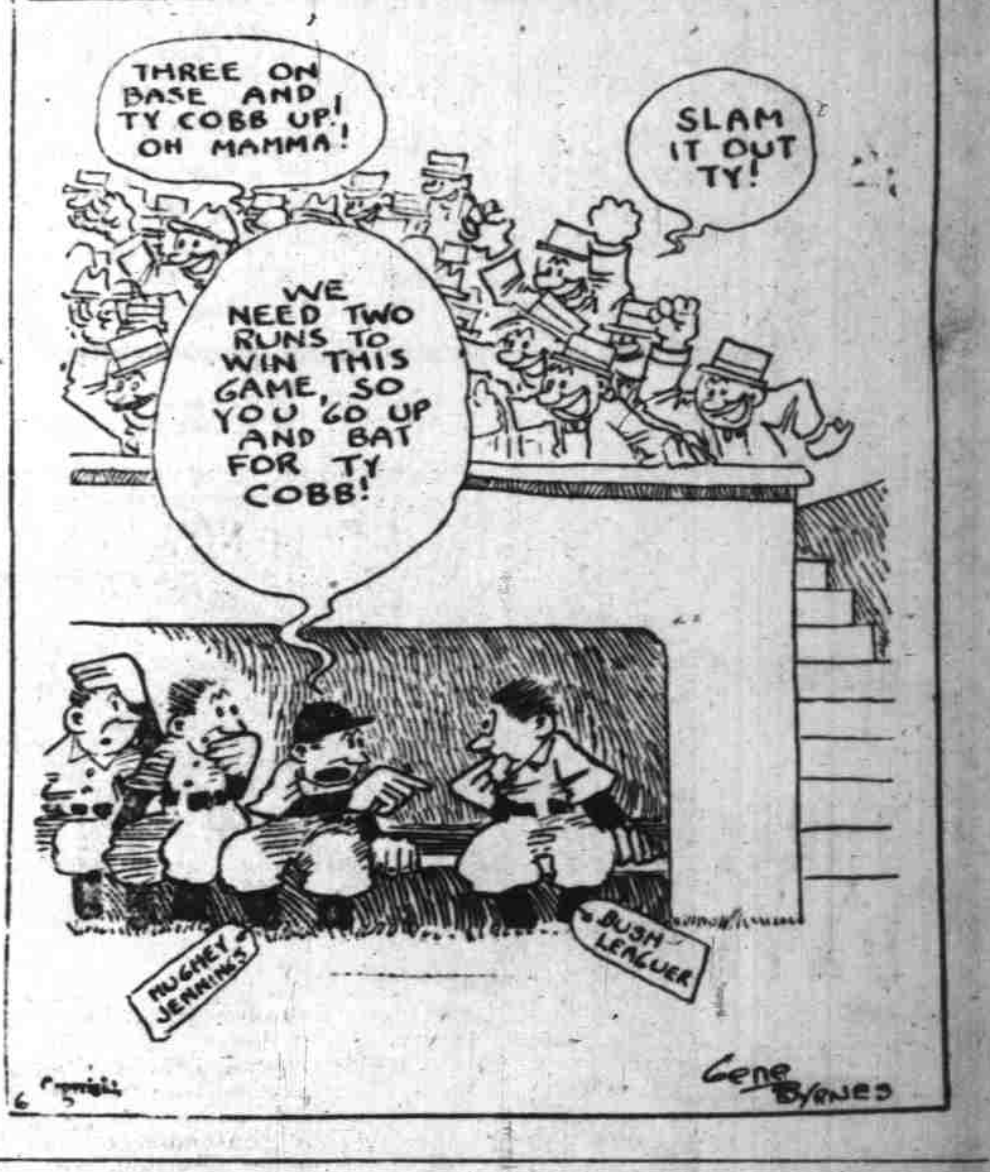

Advances in oats resulted largely from strength shown by prices at Winnipeg. Besides, receipts here were very small. Higher prices on hogs gave firmness to provisions. Arrivals of hogs here were inadequate.

FREEDOM FOR MINISTER; AIM Premier Lenine To Be Asked to Release Constantine Diamandi

PETROGRAD, Jan. 14.—The entire diplomatic corps, including the American embassy this morning and determined to go in a body to Premier Lenine and demand the immediate release of Constantine Diamandi, the Roumanian minister.

The diplomatic corps has been unable to ascertain the reasons for and the details concerning M. Diamandi's arrest, and is taking the position that the cause of his arrest is of no consequence.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN By GENE BYRNES

able to ascertain the reasons for and the details concerning M. Diamandi's arrest, and is taking the position that the cause of his arrest is of no consequence.

The Holshaviki government authorities declined to explain the arrest of the Roumanian minister to The Associated Press, saying that details would be given out later.

The receipt of a telephone call from the American embassy, together with the promise of the appearance at the Smoly institute of the entire diplomatic corps, which up to this time has scrupulously avoided any semblance of recognition, has created a stir and caused unusual activity on the day set aside for the celebration of the Russian new year.

Foreign Minister Trotzkys' absence at Brest-Litovsk caused the diplomats to appeal to Premier Lenine, instead of the deputy minister of foreign affairs. After a long conference with his subordinates Premier Lenine agreed to receive the corps.

COUNTY AGENT BEGINS IN POLK J. E. Larsen to Organize Agricultural Council to Help Farmers

DALLAS, Ore., Jan. 17.—(Special to the Statesman.)—J. E. Larsen, the newly-appointed agricultural agent for Polk county, has opened up headquarters in the old Burk restaurant building on Mill street across from the Court house.

Mr. Larsen's first work will be that of organizing a county agricultural council which will decide upon a program of work for the coming year and which will aid and direct him in carrying it out.

Mr. Larsen has a broad, practical and technical training in the agricultural profession, having been born and raised on a farm in Iowa. His education at the South Dakota States College and served two years as livestock field man and associate editor of the Northwest Farmer and for a term of one year was county agent of Spink county, South Dakota.

Thms county was one of the first counties in the Mississippi valley to take up the county agricultural agent plan and Mr. Larsen made a decided success in the new adventure. For the past four years he has been field specialist in soil and crop at the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis and comes to Polk county at the earnest request of a number of influential farmers of the "Blue Ribbon county."

Jr. Larsen expects to keep his office open at all times and cordially invites the public to bring all their agricultural troubles and problems to him.

Rodgers to Launch First Government Boat in June

George F. Rodgers' shipbuilding plant at Astoria is employing at present 203 men and Mr. Rodgers expects to double his force of workers in a short time, according to Mark Siddall, who returned to Salem yesterday after spending several days in that city.

"The Rodgers plant has four shigs under construction now," said Mr. Siddall, "and he expects to stage his first launching in June. The boats are for the government. They measure 287 feet in length and are fine looking craft. The Rodgers plant is well appointed in every way."
