A shipment of surgical gauze that has been expected for several days by the surgical dressing department of Willamette chapter, American Red Cross, arrived late yesterday afternoon, and there will be plenty of work for some time for those who are contributing their time to this department. It was feared that because of lack of material the surgical dressing department would have to close down today, but the arrival of the shipment late yesterday makes it possible to continue the work with out interruption. The surgical dressing department is located in the post office building.

Tacoma's report that but two schools lacked 100 per cent enrollment of the Junior Red Cross, struck amazement in Portland, but also a determination to "go and do likewise." The Portland committee only organized January 12, yet on January 14 five schools were 100 per cent, four of them grade schools and one parochial school. Probably rain in west, fair in east portion.

Marriage Licenses— County Clerk Boyer yesterday took a little time by the forelock and stole away from the war department just long enough to issue a couple of marriage licenses, one to Frank D. Bowman, 52, and Mabel E. James, 38, both of Salem, and E. L. Brant, 38, of Harrisburg, and Katherine J. Nademans, 30, of Turner. Scalds Hold Steady— County Clerk Boyer yesterday excused himself from his duties on the war board long enough to make another dig into his big iron-bound chest, where he keeps a lot of nickels, and paid out of its store for 430 varmint hides, a very good beginning, he said, for a dull, blue Monday.

Wood-Pile at Roth Store Catches Fire From Wire. It was not exactly a case of spontaneous combustion, nor was it a case of incendiarism, but just the same the big woodpile in the rear of the Roth Grocery store, in the alley between State and Court streets, was ablaze, and had commenced to burn fiercely before the fire department could get around the corner last night, and they were "Johnny-on-the-spot" at that.

Car Shortage in Eastern Part of State Relieved. The Oregon public service commission yesterday informed lumber companies in Baker county that the Oregon Short Line railroad has agreed to contribute cars to alleviate the car shortage existing on the O. W. R. & N. road. At last reports the shortage of the O. W. R. & N. Co. was 464. The Spokane, Portland & Seattle road has reported a surplus of 59 cars. The Southern Pacific company today reported a shortage of 137 closed cars, but did not report on open cars.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Changes in the fundamental principles of railroad operation under government control will make it inadvisable to turn the roads back to private owners immediately after the end of the war, Director General McAdoo declared today before the senate interstate commerce committee.

W. H. Kelly, who with Jack Ryan of Albany, was held in the Polk county jail at Dallas for a little more than a month on a charge of robbing the store of the Falls City Mercantile company at Falls City, and who was released last week after his trial before Circuit Judge Harry H. Belt, at which he was fined in the sum of $250, has been arrested again by the sheriff of Marion county on a charge of having stolen goods in his possession. Kelly is in the second hand and junk business at Albany, and is thought to have been identified with the robbery of a store at Aumsville a short time ago.

Chess and Checker Players Accept Oregon City Banter. At the regular Monday night meeting of the Commercial Club Chess and Checker club it was decided by the members present last night to accept the challenge issued by the Oregon City Chess club, to play for the championship. Much rivalry has existed between them for some time past. George Griffith of the Oregon City club says he has six players in his town who can beat any six the Commercial club of Salem can put up against them. The crack players of the Salem club are Dr. W. H. Byrd, C. G. Given, Paul Plants, Will Evans, Joseph N. Smith and Judge T. R. Ryan. It is not known just when the match game will be pulled off, but it will probably occur soon, and in Salem, as has been the custom in the past.

R. C. Paulus Invited to Make Address at Prosser. Robert C. Paulus of the Salem Fruit union is in receipt of an invitation from farmers and business men of Prosser, Wn., to address a mass meeting at that place on the night of January 23 relative to the contemplated establishment of a fruit evaporating plant. The citizens of the community have incorporated to build a plant. Mr. Paulus has accepted the invitation.

Salem One of Four Points for Potato Inspections. An order was issued by the Oregon public service commission yesterday designating Portland, Salem, Albany and Eugene as potato inspection points for Oregon, with the provision that other points may be designated as necessary. It is held that the four points named serve adequately at present the convenience of the public and the commission. Inspections are to be made by the service commission through its grain inspection department. The chief grain inspector Porter of the commission is empowered to appoint deputy inspectors at the designated points.
