Wells' Ruling Directed Against Enemy Espionage
Until the Oregon insurance rating bureau is in possession of the name of the person or concern wishing the information, it is to give out no information relative to shipyards or other manufacturing plants in Oregon. This is by direction of State Insurance Commissioner Harvey Wells. It is believed that enemy espionage has spread to the state and the ruling is directed against that menace. The commissioner further orders that no insurance survey copies or other information relative to industrial plants shall be sent out of the state except with the approval of his department.

A WORD TO MOTHERS.
Mrs. E. J. Bedard, Covick, Wash., says: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best I ever used. I always keep a bottle in the house for children. A quick cure for coughs and colds." It heals raw, inflamed surfaces, loosens phlegm, eases hoarseness and difficult breathing, checks racking coughs. J. C. Perry.

GILE LOOKS FOR BIG PRODUCTION
Little Damage to Fruits by Weather Expected by Manufacturer
Speaking of the present cold snap and the fall of snow Thursday night, H. S. Gile says that in his opinion very little damage, if any, has been done to the loganberry vines in the valley, or the prunes and apples, although a sudden colder snap of weather would probably entail much loss in case moisture gathered and froze on the limbs of fruit trees.
"Growers are always panicky about this season of the year, but they generally find that, except in extreme cases, nature will take care of the fruits, large or small," he continued. "The short crops of fruits last year were due to other causes than cold weather, although in some parts of the valley cold weather, added to an unusually heavy fall of rain, did much damage to prunes in some sections of the valley, while the long drought of later spring and summer did the rest."

"Barring any unforeseen and sudden changes, I look forward to a very large crop of all kinds of fruit for 1918, and I know that many hundreds of acres of loganberry vines have already been contracted by growers in excess of last year."
"Growers of other fruits, both large and small, as well as vegetables of every description, I understand, are making arrangements for bumper crops already contracted for with the various factories.
"So far as the Pheasant Northwest Products company's output is concerned, I shall be greatly disappointed if we do not more than double our business for the current year."

Lay-off of Half Day Each Week for Assistance of Food Administration
In compliance with their policy of cooperation with the national food administration and with the Salem Commercial club in its efforts to see that the food rules are enforced in Marion county, operators of Salem meat markets have agreed to close their places of business at noon on Tuesdays of each week, opening again on Wednesday mornings. Later it is possible that the shops will be closed all day on Tuesdays.
Salem butchers are the first in the state to take this step. Those who are familiar with the requirements of the food administration believe the plan will later be adopted generally in Oregon.

Moore and Connor Out for Clerk's Job in Polk
DALLAS, Or., Feb. 1.—(Special to The Statesman.)—George Connor, a prominent citizen of the Perrydale community and one of the best known men throughout the county, has announced that he will become a candidate for the office of county clerk on the Republican ticket at the coming primary election. Another aspirant for the position is Floyd D. Moore, who for the past several years has been rural school supervisor for Polk county. The race between the two men promises to be one of the warmest witnessed in political circles in years.

MARK SIDDALL LEAVES SALEM

of the Astoria Sports company. He will carry sporting goods and automobiles.
Mr. Siddall will be missed keenly in Salem because of his affiliation with the Capital City Rod & Gun club of which he is an official. He is a frequent prize winner in shoots in all parts of the state, and recently represented the club in California shoots. He declares that he will continue active in this sport after going to Astoria.
Mr. Siddall also has been one of the leading spirits in the promotion of a fish hatchery on the Santiam and was instrumental in getting the needed legislation, appropriating $10,000 for the purpose, through the last legislature. He says his removal to Astoria will not cause him to quit working for the hatchery and that he hopes to see it an early realization.
Mr. Siddall has property interests in Salem. He owns the plant of the Salem Fuel yards which is leased. He expects later to change the location of the business he has bought in Astoria.
