Orders are in for Fertilizer
 Six and One-Half Tons of Nitrate of Soda Coming to Valley

Manager R. C. Paulus of the Salem Fruit union, speaking of the amount of nitrate of soda ordered by growers in Marion county, said that only six and one-half tons had been ordered in lots of from 200 pounds up to one ton. The orders are for experimental purposes.

"The nitrate of soda comes from Chile," said Mr. Paulus, "and the distance from here, and cost of transportation makes it a little difficult to handle just at present. The government has bought 100,000 tons of it, and as it is used very extensively throughout the east there may not be enough to go around."

"Nitrate of soda, with phosphoric acid and potash is essential to all plant life, and where the soil has been denuded of these elements, it must be put back. Nitrate of soda is the principal element needed here in the valley just now. Lime is used for counteracting the acidity of the soil, and we will probably have plenty of that this season from the new state lime board."

"I am just sending out in this mail what will prove to be a great big surprise to our loganberry five-year men, and it is a pleasure on my part to do it."

"Last year we shipped to certain large firms a large tonnage of fresh loganberries for manufacturing purposes, and the market being pretty well supplied, 300 tons were shipped back to us. I said nothing, but put these berries, still in good condition on the dryers, and in a course of time sold them at a profit of $5.40 a ton, and this amount I am now distributing to the five-year growers who will receive now all the way from $1 to $356, the latter sum going to one of the largest growers. We had already paid these growers 3 cents per pound—the regular price—and as they were all satisfied at the time, these dividends will look like getting money from home to them, as no one knew of the results of the dryers."

SHORTAGE OF TEACHERS SEEN
 Government to Send Questionnaire Asking Information on Supply

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Faced by prospects of an increasing demand for and diminishing supply of school teachers for 1918-19, the employment service of the federal department of labor is sending to every state superintendent of education in the country a questionnaire seeking accurate information as to the number of teachers available for next year and possible sources of supply for vacancies.

The Chicago branch of the service has let it be known that the greatest difficulty thus far in obtaining instructors for high schools, the greater part of whose teaching forces have hitherto been composed of young men. Numbers of these instructors have been called to the national army or have enlisted, he said, and many special services which the government has been organizing have also drawn heavily on this class of teachers; and on senior college students from among whom are usually recruited the annual additions to the school staffs.

Educational authorities have viewed with some concern the growing inroads on their profession which the war is making. They have, in many instances, started organized efforts to fill the gaps in their ranks and have emphasized the importance of maintaining high standards of instruction in the public schools. At this connection Mary C. Bradford of Denver, president of the National Educational Association, has addressed an appeal to the teachers of the country, in which she said, in part:

"The school teachers of the United States are hereby called to the colors of the American republic. The schools are the laboratory of good citizenship. The children are little citizens and must be guided in such present experiences as will make certain their future dedication to the welfare of the republic. The Junior Membership of the Red Cross, through the School Auxiliary, offers an unmeasurable medium through which the patriotic activities of the children can make themselves felt. Beginning with Lincoln's birthday and lasting until Washington's birthday a nation-wide effort is to be made in behalf of increasing the Junior Membership."

"The National Education Association offers every teacher in the land the high privilege of participating in this great campaign. The school organization of each state needs your help in this form of character education."

Registration for Primary Election Now Is Opened

"It is a little early yet," said Judge Earl Race yesterday afternoon in his office. "But you might as well tell the people of Salem that registration books for the primary election to be held on the 17th of May, are now open, and that they will be closed 14 days before the election."

"Some people always forget, until it is too late, that they have to register before they can vote, and it only requires a 30-day residence in the city, in any one precinct, to entitle any one to vote."

Examination of the big books yesterday showed that only one man had registered, so there is plenty of room for others in the same books.

In the sixth series of games of the Commercial Basketball league at the Y. M. C. A. the bankers continued their unbroken chain of victories by defeating the Bishops in the opening game of the evening by the very close score of 11 to 5.

The game was close throughout as the score indicates. The first half ended with a tie score of 5 to 5. Several open opportunities to score on the part of the Bishops near the close of the game and their failure to take advantage of them was responsible for their defeat.

The second game between the Shipp's and the Hausers was rough and fast. Referee Gregg was called upon frequently to penalize the players for rough tactics each side fouling frequently. The Shipp's seemed to have slightly the better of the

GRANGE BACK OF PRESIDENT KERR
 Columbia County Organization Disproves Resolution of Marion

GORLE, Or., Feb. 2.—At a meeting of the Columbia County Pomona Grange here today, the recent action of the Marion County Pomona Grange provoked hot discussion over offer made by Dr. W. J. Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural college.

Approval by the grange of the services of Dr. Kerr came in the form of a resolution passed by a unanimous vote, as follows:

"Be it resolved, that Pomona Grange of Columbia county, Oregon, do hereby express our utmost confidence in Dr. Kerr and the Board of Regents of the Oregon Agricultural College, and"

"Be it further resolved, that we condemn as malicious and uncalled for the recent action of the Marion County Pomona Grange in their disloyal and scurrilous attack and criticism of said Board of Regents and the president of the Oregon Agricultural college, and."

It further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the press of the state and to the president of said board of regents."

Banker Will Manage Red Cross in Europe

Major James H. Perkins, vice-president of the National City Bank in New York City, perhaps the strongest bank in the world, has been selected to succeed Grayson Murphy in charge of the Red Cross in Europe. Mr. Perkins had been a banker in Albany, and some time ago he attracted the attention of Frank A. Vanderbilt, president of the big bank, who is always hunting for new talent. Major Perkins, it is understood, was picked out for the place by Henry P. Davison, who is in general command of the Red Cross here.

I decided to try STUMEZE in two days I was feeling relieved of my suffering. I now have a good appetite and can eat anything I like without suffering in the least. I have been able to give this great remedy a trial, and have found it to be a true blessing. Howard L. Bolan, 718 N. Second St., Tacoma, Washington. STUMEZE is for sale and guaranteed by all druggists."

 Says Indigestion Comes from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases, which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

Save your Hands

It is good advice, especially at this time of year when we say: "Save your hands." For all housework you should wear a pair of our guaranteed household rubber gloves. Especially in washing dishes the alkali in the soap roughens the skin of the hands, and causes chapping in even mild weather. You can save yourself this discomfort, and can keep your hands white and soft by wearing rubber gloves.

Mrs. Ralph Smith is the first woman candidate for the British Columbia legislature. The by-election will take place in Vancouver, which is her husband's constituency. The soldiers from the vicinity of Moore Mo., in training at Camp Funston are receiving the home paper regularly through the generosity of a prominent clubwoman of their town.

No legal execution of a woman has been recorded in Massachusetts since July 2, 1878, when Bathsheba Rugles was hanged in Worcester for the murder of her husband.

One of the highest salaried women holding public office in New York city is Miss Mary Catharine Tinney, who receives $2000 a year as general inspector of the department of public charities.

One thousand two hundred miles by water were covered during the summer by the first river postwoman in England in delivering letters and packages to the bungalow and houseboat dwellers along the Staines river.

One of the earliest patriotic societies of American women was the "American Daughters of Liberty," which was organized by the women of Philadelphia in 1780 to provide clothing for the suffering soldiers.

The only woman attending the recent national food conference called in Washington by Herbert C. Hoover, national administrator, was Mrs. Wynn Coman Schramm, of Salt Lake City, who was present as the official representative of Utah.

Significant of the importance of women in industry in wartime is the appointment of Miss Hulda Mullhauser of Cleveland as assistant manager of the newly organized employment service of the United States department of labor. Miss Mullhauser's work will concern the placing of women in positions previously held by men now in the military service as well as the placing of wage earners made idle through industrial changes.

In view of the strenuous efforts now making by the various departments in Washington to secure women to fill clerical positions, it is interesting to recall that on Dec. 27, 1881, an official order was issued for the exclusion of women from the employment of the government.

Women are to be employed as "rush hour" conductors on the street railways in St. Louis.
