WANTED, 1000 MORE FARMERS TO PLANT LOGANBERRIES

The loganberry industry is one of the most vital industries to Salem and the surrounding country.

Its growth, yes, even its perpetuity, depends upon the securing of 1000 more farmers, or more, who will plant from one to three or four acres each, THIS SPRING.

Not next spring. This spring. And this should be done in the next thirty days. Unless the plantings can be secured, the industry will not last.

The Pheasant Northwest Products Company has spent and is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars to develop loganberry markets. Every bit of the advertising of this company contributes to the building up of demand for loganberries in any shape whatsoever.

Juffy-Jell is now coming into the field as a strong specific advertiser of loganberries, a direct outcome of the work of this forward-looking local company. Extract people, numbers of them, are entering the same field.

This increased and increasing demand calls for more land devoted to loganberries.

The industry absolutely depends upon a large and still larger output.

There is a great industry, an enormous industry, within the reach of our people, with Salem as its headquarters—eventually bringing millions of dollars annually here.

But the whole industry depends upon more and still more plantings of loganberries by our farmers; and 1000 farmers are needed right now, in the Salem district, to plant more loganberries, this spring; 1000 farmers or more.

Those of us who are inclined to be despondent because of our failure to accomplish anything worth while would do well to remember Bancroft, the great American historian who died a few days ago, at the ripe age of 86. Up to his fortieth year he had never written a manuscript. His education in the public schools was extremely limited and he obtained practically all of his information by hard digging among old books. The secret of his success was not pull, but work. And yet there are young men of 25 whose constant whine is that they "never had a chance!"

There is strong intimation that the great western drive of the German forces will have to wait for a sweep into Macedonia, and then another sweep through Italy. That may sound good to German ears; to the people at home who are tired of the war and the slaughter and proposed further slaughter of their sons. But this calculation takes no account of what the allies are doing on the western front, and on the other fronts, and what they will be able to do a little later, with the more perfect organization of the American forces. The Germans will have to fight soon on the western front, either an offensive or a defensive.

How are you going to whip a nation whose men stand on the deck and sing "The Star Spangled Banner" as the vessel is swallowed in the vortex of the sea?—Exchange. You can't. That's the answer.

The questionnaire reveals the fact that there are 2,496,000 men fit for duty in the army now on the draft rolls. These, let it be remembered, are in addition to those in the service. We are not lacking the man power.

It is maple-sugar-making time back east. In the hills of that region millions of maples stand solemn and gray in the snow, but their rootlets already feel the melting warmth of the earth's heart and their twig tips answer to the caress of the sun. The sap stirs.

We are yet of the opinion that when Russia sees through it she will see it through.—Los Angeles Times. That is rather hopeful for the Times. But let us all hope. That may help.

The authorities of the United States and Canada are agreed that everything possible must be done to increase the catch of fish. Because of this has come the agreement to relax any hampering restrictions hitherto in force. Everything will be done to speed up the catching and marketing of salt water fish, and this is only good sense under existing conditions.

The manager of a luxurious New York city hotel is prepared to deal with pampered dogs as they are related to the conservation of food. He finds his kitchen catering too extravagantly to forty dogs quartered in the kennels. The hotel has been drawn upon for meat, sweets and milk, and bones which have been taken for the dogs are needed for other purposes. Therefore guests will be asked to buy food elsewhere for their pets. The hotel man sums up by saying, "The war has forced many difficult sacrifices, and although I am a lover of dogs, I do not see the purpose of surfeiting them with luxuries at this time."

of the imperial establishment for eighteen months. There is in these stores sufficient food to supply 215 persons daily with more than a pound of meat, a pound of bread and a pound of fruit for eighteen months. The kaiser is said to have personally checked all the calculations that were made in preparing the estimates for the quantities of food to be laid down in the stores, and he later visited the stores from time to time.

At each of these royal stores there is of course a system of cold storage by which food can be kept in perfect condition for years. The Frankfort store is probably the most elaborately and perfectly constructed storehouse of its kind in the world. The store was originally a mill and mill house which was purchased by the kaiser. Underneath the mill there was a very large cellar for the storage of corn. This cellar was very considerably enlarged and floored and lined throughout with white tiles. An electric generating plant was installed and the stores are electrically lighted.

The making of this and other royal stores and the storage of food could not of course be carried out secretly, but the object of them was kept a closely guarded secret. Locally it was rumored that these stores were being constructed for military purposes, that is for the storing of food for the army, and as it was well known that at this period a good deal of food was being stored for this purpose in various parts of Germany, this version of the reason of these stores was credited.

The total cost of all the private royal food stores in Germany amounted to upwards of a million dollars; fifty per cent was borne by the war office. The other fifty per cent was paid by the kaiser, the crown prince, the king of Saxony, the king of Bavaria, the king of Wurtemberg and the duke of Brunswick.

The crown prince's food store is at Dantzig and the stores were laid down under the personal supervision of the prince when he was sent there by the kaiser two years before the beginning of the war.

Thus it will be seen that whatever turn the war may take the kaiser has taken very good care that he will not have to tighten his belt. But it is likely that the precautions he has taken to meet the demands of his stomach whilst his subjects may be half starving would not strengthen his popularity if they became known.

HOOVER'S ALMA MATER

Has Faith in the Federal Food Administrator.

(William Herbert Carruth, professor of English in Stanford University.) The world is full of flounders who flop this way and yon, Who get in other people's way and ask what's to be done; So the thankful world is ready to toss its hat and shout For the man who always seems to know just what he is about.

And in this fearful crush of war all we who cannot fight, Yet want to do our honest bit, were looking for the light; A Joseph rose, and Wilson chose, the loyal heart and stout, For Wilson knew that Hoover knew what Hoover was about.

We don't pretend to understand the chemistry of food; We only know that victuals taste some bad and others good; We read the Hoover bulletins as fast as they come out, Assured that Herbert Hoover knows what Hoover is about.

We cannot join the allied drives against the German ranks, And since we cannot risk our lives in cruisers, planes and tanks, We'll diet on to victory and force a German rout, For we believe that Hoover knows what Hoover is about.

If wheatless days and meatless days, and sweetless days as well, Are followed up by catless days we vow we won't rebel, If these are not too numerous, for we will never doubt That Wilson knows that Hoover knows what Hoover is about.

This nation swears by Hoover and will join the hymn of praise For wheatless, meatless, heatless, sweetless, treatless, eatless days, Prepared, if need should be, to live the whole year through on kraut, For the nation knows that Hoover knows what Hoover is about.

Like everything the Germans do, these foods were stored on a definite and methodical plan. Before laying down the stores at Frankfort and Munich, which are reserved for the use of the kaiser and the imperial entourage, an estimate was made of the average quantity of various foods consumed daily in the imperial household by the royal family, members of the household and servants. On this basis sufficient food was stored to meet the requirements berries by the farmers; and by the farmers of the country near Salem.

Finland has "asked" the kaiser to place his son Oscar on the Finnish throne. That will eventually be the Finnish of Oscar.

Eleven killed and forty six injured by a German air raid over London, and "no objects of military importance were damaged." Just plain murder and attempted murder.

Japan and China will act together, whatever is done as to Manchuria and Siberia. And they may have already acted. The screen of the censorship in that region, when it is drawn down, hides everything from outside view.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal. These subjects to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning's inside bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily.

Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

THREE-FIFTHS OF CORN CROP MERCHANTABLE

Large Quantities to Be Fed to Livestock to Prevent Total Loss

MR. HOOVER IS ASSAILED

Senator Reed Attacks Meatless Day Plan; Fuel Order Called Idiotic

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Only about three-fifths of last year's record-breaking corn crop is merchantable, the department of agriculture's grain report today indicated. Not since 1883 has the percentage of the crop merchantable been so low.

Large quantities of the corn is so soft that it had to be fed to livestock at once to prevent total loss. About 1,905,723,000 bushels of the 3,159,494,000 bushels crop is all that could be offered for sale placing the quantity lower than that available from the smaller 1915 and 1916 crops.

While the supply of wheat last year was 100,000,000 bushels less than the previous year stocks held by farmers March 1 totalled 111,272,000 bushels.

Senator Wolcott, Democrat of Delaware, said Mr. Hoover had denied adoption of a farm product-fixing plan, disclaiming authority, but he and other senators insisted that acts of the food administration, particularly under its wholesale and retail dealers' licensing power, was having that effect in actual practice.

Food Heads Assailed

"We would not have had so many meatless days if there hadn't been so many brainless days," Senator Reed declared. "A few more acts of the food administration and we will have bread takers. I believe the efficiency of the United States has been reduced twenty per cent by ignorant interference with business methods."

In securing the so-called voluntary agreement with refiners on sugar prices, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican, remarked the food administration "managed" to fix prices.

In criticizing the fuel administration, Senator Reed commented upon Dr. Garfield's statement that as the result of the fuelless days 480 ships were released from American ports. "I am sorry that Dr. Garfield gave out that statement, because it is not true," he said, adding that shipping board figures showed that 56 less ships were released than under normal conditions.

Idiotic Logic Charged

"They stopped water power in Maine to get coal to bunker ships in New York harbor," he said. "In order to understand the logic of that you have got to be a plain idiot." Turning to what he called inefficiency in the war department, the Missouri senator said General Pershing had notified the department not to send any more shoddy uniforms for American soldiers in France.

The priority order by which coal was diverted for lake shipment to the northwest last summer was assailed by Senator Reed, who said he desired to congratulate Senator Kellogg

CHICAGO TO HEAR BILLY SUNDAY

Big Tabernacle Is Put in Shape for Great Campaign Opening Soon

CHICAGO, Ill., March 7.—A small army of cleaners and decorators are engaged in putting the finishing touches to the big tabernacle in which Billy Sunday is to conduct his Chicago campaign, opening next Sunday. The tabernacle, which is located on the lake shore at Chicago Avenue, only a stone's throw from the loop district, is one of the largest and best equipped ever built for a similar purpose in this country. The building is 374 feet by 250 feet and will accommodate 15,000 persons. Near the tabernacle has been constructed another building containing rooms for checking and caring for babies, nurses for the sick, and a restaurant. The evangelist's private room will be in the tabernacle. A large field for parking automobiles is provided.

Mr. Sunday and his party are scheduled to arrive in Chicago Saturday. The formal opening of the campaign will take place Sunday night, when the stretchout of 2,000 voices will be heard in public for the first time. The evening following the opening a great reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Sunday is to be given at the Hotel La Salle. Three hundred Chicago clergymen representing all denominations have been invited. According to present arrangements the Chicago campaign will continue three months. On Sunday three services will be held in the tabernacle and during the week two services daily.

Draft Evaders Who Shot Officers Are Captured

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 8.—According to a message received by the Douglas police department tonight, Thomas Powers, John Powers and Thomas Sission, sought for the killing on February 19 of three Graham county officers who attempted to arrest Powers brothers as alleged draft evaders, were captured late today at Hachita, N. M.
