How essential that we give them proper consideration which most of us do not. We work them 15 to 16 hours a day, and after years of such abuse we are annoyed because we cannot see as well as we once could. The right pair of glasses will help the eyes greatly and the glasses are here.

SOLDIERS HAVE EVERY COMFORT
Major George A. White Writes Letter to Governor Withycombe

The old Third Oregon infantry, now the 162nd United States infantry, has every necessary comfort in France, from food, fuel and quarters to medical attention and proper moral safeguards, asserts Major George A. White, formerly adjutant general of Oregon, in a letter to Governor Withycombe. "This is positively true," he adds, and underscores the sentence.

Major White is with the headquarters corps artillery, first artillery corps of the American expeditionary force. Writing of other Oregon officers, Major White says they are all hard at work, making good and are a credit to their state and country. Further, the major says he is proud that circumstances have given his old troop, now converted into artillery officers, an opportunity to get into the thick of things without delay. Major White writes in part:

Artillery Is Busy.
 "I have to work just as hard here as in the Morgan building, but am ready to believe I was needed over here worse than anywhere else. In fact we all are. One fortunate thing is that I do not have to drive away half or two-thirds the night as in Portland, although that will follow as soon as we go into battle, no doubt. Am settled in the field artillery now and the artillery is a busy section of the army in Europe these days.
 "I am proud that circumstances have given my old troop, long since converted into artillery officers, an opportunity to get into the real thing without delay. I am glad of their presence for, having been separated from the division I was first sent to, do not get an opportunity for anything more than an occasional week-end visit with John May et al. Saw Abrams when I first came over but not since. Sorry I cannot tell you where he is and what he is doing. In fact what all the others are doing. But it is permissible to say that they are all hard at work and making good and are a credit to the state and country.
Oregonians Are Comfortable.
 "As for camp conditions at Mills—well, there is none of that here. I wish to say in all sincerity and as a result of direct personal knowledge, that the old Third, and all the others are amply supplied with every necessary comfort, from food, fuel and quarters to medical attention and proper moral safeguards. This is positively true. And they are a happy, contented, hard working lot. Sorry I can't give details but what I have said in this connection is 100 per cent true."

LA FOLLETT AND LACHMUND FILE
Two Candidates for State Senator Recorded by Secretary Olcott

Louis Lachmund and Alex. M. La Follett, two of the candidates for state senator from Marion county, filed their declarations of candidacy at the office of Secretary of State Olcott yesterday.

Mr. Lachmund has never been a candidate for any other public office except that of mayor, where he formerly served. His election is generally predicted. Mr. Lachmund submits no platform with his declaration but his slogan is: "Will serve the best interests of my state and country."

Mr. La Follett has been a farmer in Marion county for forty-eight years. He served in the lower house of the legislature in 1887 and in the regular and special session of 1902, and was a member of the state senate at the sessions of 1915 and 1917. He is a cousin of Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin and of Congressman La Follette of Washington, but unlike his cousins, long since dropped the final "e" from his name.
