Statesman Files Bring Passport for Chinese

LUNG JOHN—In West Salem, Monday, April 8, 1898, to Mr. and Mrs. Lung John, a son.

"The father is the Chinese gardener on the Matheny farm just across the river. Dr. S. R. Jessup was the obstetrician."

The above birth notice, which appeared in The Statesman of Tuesday, April 5, 1898, will allow a passport to be issued to Charlie Chung, whose Chinese name is Ng Tin Yee, whose father's Chinese name is Ng Lung Chung, but who is well known to all old residents and many new ones as "Gong," and who lives at 305 South Eighteenth street, Salem.

Raphael P. Bonham, inspector in charge of the United States immigration service, district of Oregon, under the department of labor, was in Salem yesterday from Portland, accompanied by the secretary in that office, Henry Switzer.

They were investigating the matter of the application of Ng Tin Yee, or Charlie Chung, for a passport, to go to China and look up some business matters in that country for his father.

The claim was that Charlie Chung was born in Oregon, and therefore a citizen of the United States, and thus entitled to the passport.

But the question was to establish this beyond doubt.

It could not be done, it seemed, because Dr. Jessup died long since, and there was no American willing to testify as to the birth. It looked like a hopeless case.

But the Statesman revealed the news item at the opening of this article; and that settled it.

There could be no doubt concerning the truth of the news item.

No one would doubt that Dr. Jessup gave, in the item, and that some Statesman reporter of that date wrote it down as given in.

Charlie Chung, who wishes to go to China on business for his father, is a bright boy. He has a sister, Alice, who is a bright young woman, and who recently graduated from the Salem high school.

The passport will of course be issued.

BIOLOGY CLUB AFTER FLIES

High School Students Determined to Eliminate Pest From Asylum

Early in the year a new club was organized at the senior high school known as The Biology or Fly club. The purpose of organizing was to foster interest in making Salem "the Flyless City." The students are very much interested in the cause and have the support of the commercial club, the school board and others but will not be satisfied until they have the loyal cooperation of every citizen of Salem.

"We have been asked to plant war gardens," said a member yesterday. By doing this we will accomplish many things for the benefit of our country. We as members of the club also urge people to plant more

"He That Bloweth Not His Own Horn The Same Shall Not Be Blown."

I make my own ballyhoos and pay for them with cash. I have no cappers to shill for me in the by-ways of society. Mine is a simple open and shut proposition. You know whether your teeth ache, are in poor repair, have unsightly spaces, or sore, tender, bleeding gums between them.

I know that specialists, skill, know-how and the Painless Parker System of dentistry will relieve your troubles. The only one that can prevent your benefitting from my services is you. Let's reason it out. You want relief. I want your patronage. We both lose by putting off, so I throw overboard the old time ideas of professional aloofness, and instead thereof, invite your attention to my services.

Get this: If you observe other people's defective teeth, be sure your own won't go unnoticed. If you secretly deride other people's looks because of their stained or missing teeth, don't forget you may be criticized likewise for conditions quite as repellant to beholders.

The mirror pays no compliments—hides no defects—covers no imperfections, never flatters. You can deceive yourself as to your looks, but you can't fool the mirror.

If you have defective teeth unfavorably affecting your appearance repaired you'll please yourself and reflect improved looks into the bargain.

It costs money, trouble and—teeth, to put off dental work from day to day and no one suffers for it but yourself.

There are thirty-two good reasons for saving your teeth and you should carry them all in your mouth.

Good digestion and good health wait on appetite, and appetite is assisted by good teeth.

Good teeth are the first thing noted when you face a stranger.

If you are in business they affect "the front you put up" either favorably or unfavorably. First impressions are hard to overcome.

I can tell you of my methods of dentistry, but you cannot realize their benefits unless you try me out, for I do not conduct a correspondence school in painless dentistry, nor do I perform absent treatment.

It's up to you. I invite your critical investigation. The more people there are who know about me and my system of standardized dentistry by skilled specialists, the better it is for me. An examination and estimate cost you nothing and invite no obligation to have work done.

Skill, courtesy, promptness, know-how, painless work, moderate fees make a combination ideal and hard to excel. There is no time like NOW. Prompt attention any day 8:30 to 6:00. Closed Sundays.
