YOUR LIVER NEEDS

Stirring Up and Stimulating in the Spring.

Its sluggish lack of vigor is a large factor in causing the dullness, depression and weakness that hang on to you like lead in your shoes from morning till night. Hood's Pills are the best liver stimulant and family cathartic—best because they do their work well and do not deplete the blood like purgative salts and waters, which often leave a woful train of catarrhal discharges that are unnatural and weakening. Then you may get the splendid blood-enriching qualities of Hood's Sarsaparilla and the iron-building effects of Pepsin into the combination, and the three medicines working together give the grandest health-uplift it is possible to have from medicine. Any one of the three medicines will do you good—the use of all three will accomplish wonderful results for you. Try this treatment this Spring.

LEMONS BRING OUT THE HIDDEN BEAUTY

Make this lotion for very little cost and just see for yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart of skin and complexion lotion for about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the cold cream. The juice will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin. Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

C. E. ALBIN IS OUT FOR MAYOR

Candidacy Is Announced and Declaration Filed With City Recorder

C. A. Albin yesterday filed with City Recorder Race declaration of his candidacy for mayor. He will be an opponent of Frank S. Ward for the nomination and has the support of citizens who were urging W. T. Rigdon to make a run for the nomination. Mr. Rigdon announced his decision yesterday not to become a candidate.

City Recorder Race and City Treasurer C. O. Rice announced themselves as candidates for reelection.

Rigdon Is Not Running, Albin May Be Candidate

W. T. Rigdon yesterday announced that he will not be a candidate for mayor, and in offering his declination he suggests to the seventy-six persons who signed the petition asking him to run, that they urge the candidacy of C. E. Albin.

CAMP LEWIS NOTES

CAMP LEWIS, TACOMA, Wash., April 11.—With the arrival of the first increment of the next draft, which will start coming to camp April 26, Camp Lewis will have to provide for the housing and training of men unfit for general military service, but qualified for limited service. Arrangements for these men so far contemplate the construction of special quarters in the depot brigade, near the casual office. The buildings are under construction and are designed to accommodate 1500, about the percentage of such men expected in the next increment.

Thus far all men found physically unfit for military service have been given an honorable discharge because of physical disability, but under the regulations through which the questionnaire came into existence, special arrangements are made for putting a large part of this class in limited military service, thereby releasing an equal number of men from this duty for active field service.

That the Wild West division of the national army has a thoroughly trained body of soldiers was demonstrated when the entire division passed a review before Major General H. A. Greene, commander, and staff and a group of allied officers. It took the division one hour and forty-five minutes to pass the reviewing stand on the parade grounds and the infantry, mounted men, artillery, machine gun battalions, and trains marched by with a precision that brought cheers from the crowd of spectators who lined the field from one end to the other. More than 20,000 men participated in the review with bayonets fixed and carrying their full equipment.

There was not an upward incident to mar the exhibition, the sun shining brightly most of the time and imparting a warmth which brought out the largest crowd which ever attended a review at Camp Lewis. It was the first time that the division has passed in review with full equipment and military authorities were well pleased with the showing made.

Brigadier General Frederick S. Foltz, commander of the 182nd infantry brigade, commanded the division and brought up before the reviewing stand shortly after 2 o'clock. For an hour previously the great crowd had waited and they remained standing patiently throughout the review as regiment after regiment passed in perfect unison with its regimental band which halted before the reviewing stand and played continuously until the next regiment brought up by the stand. A great improvement in the precision with which the men marched was shown since the last review in February and the organizations went off the field in double time with a regularity of step that brought forth frequent applause from the side line.

Bread pudding will not meet with official favor at Camp Lewis hereafter. The discontinuance of the practice of serving stale bread and crusts as sudsing has not been ordered, but it is suggested to the mess sergeants, in a special memorandum from the quartermaster general's department, that bread pudding is not the way to conserve dried bits of bread. The bread should be ground up and used with corn meal for making corn bread and with Graham flour for biscuits, the memorandum says.

The army is urged to co-operate with the civilian population in saving wheat so that a larger amount may be shipped to the allies overseas. Corn cakes and corn muffins are suggested as a substitute for wheat cakes and white bread for breakfast two days a week. Serving of wheat cereals for breakfast is discouraged. Bread should be cut in uniform slices, not more than one-half inch thick, and the portion not used at any meal must be saved, covered with a damp cloth and served first at the next meal.

The memorandum closes with a statement that Camp Lewis' white flour consumption compares favorably with that of the other national army cantonments.

Camp Lewis commanding officers were notified in a bulletin from headquarters today that the 91st division is allowed to send fifty men to the engineer training camp at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., for a three months' course designed to fit them as officers of engineer units. There is a provision that the men must be members of units not scheduled for overseas service within the next three months.

BRITISH THRUST IS GRATIFYING

Much of Initial Advantage Gained by Germans Declared Overcome

WASHINGTON, April 11.—In today's reports from France on the battle in the Armentieres region military observers here read with satisfaction of the successful British counter-attacks which overcame much of the initial advantage gained by the Germans in their first rush. The situation was not sufficiently clarified, it was said, however, to determine whether the effort was a separate movement aimed at the channel ports or an extension of the Amiens onslaught designed to widen the base of the wedge aimed at that town.

In any case, the British have not allowed the new thrust to gain any great momentum, despite the evacuation of Armentieres itself. The town has been under gunfire constantly and had no strategic advantage. Its evacuation was made certain by the extent of the initial penetration of the British lines on both sides, leaving it at the apex of a narrow and dangerous wedge.

Some officers believe the whole movement in this region is designed by German strategists to offset a similar danger on a far greater scale to their own main front of operations to the south. The advanced German troops in the Amiens action are roughly twenty-five to thirty miles beyond the general trend of the line, which they assaulted when the drive began three weeks ago. The width of the break in that line is from fifty to sixty miles.

The SPINAL CORD

Carries the messages from the brain to all parts of the body. These messages tell each part of the body how to perform its functions.

If this line of communication (the spinal cord) be interfered with, the messages do not reach their destination and that part of the body does not function normally. This is called disease. Pressure of a vertebra on the spinal cord produces this result. Chiropractic remove this pressure and health is the result.
