

DAUGHTER GAVE AGED MOTHER VINOL

Now She is Strong and Better Every Way

Pitman, N. J.—"I suffered from a weak, run-down condition so I could not get around to do my usual light duties, for I am 73 years of age and past hard work. My daughter brought me a bottle of Vinol and asked me to try it, and after taking two bottles I have a good appetite, rest well at night and am stronger and better in every way."—Mrs. F. Anderson, Pitman, N. J.

We wish every feeble, aged man and woman in this vicinity would just try this constitutional cod liver and iron tonic on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit. Formula is on every bottle.

FERRIS TELLS ABOUT JOURNEY THROUGH EAST

Finds Atlantic Coast More Appreciative of War Than Western States

WASHINGTON THROGGED Fellow Travelers Cheer When Oregon Goes Over and Ferris Treats

O. L. Ferris, general sales manager of the Pheasant Northwest Products company, returned Monday night from an extended business trip throughout the United States. Commenting yesterday on his trip, he said:

"The east is feverishly busy in behalf of the war. The whole complexion of the eastern section of the country has changed in the past twelve months. Industrial plants of all kinds have completely turned from manufacturing for peace and for profit to producing war requirements at direction of the government with little or no thought of capital or profit. Railroad and hotel congestion is a problem everywhere. I met a man who had spent three and one-half hours and visited seventeen hotels in New York before he could secure accommodations.

Some Are Disappointed.

"I had to use a strong pull in order to get a room in Washington, which today has a 100,000 more population than in normal times. Cost of living is very high there. Many young women stenographers who have gone to Washington to fill positions have been forced to leave and return home, due to cost of living and the lack of accommodations.

"The chief concern of those who know is not the assembling of troops and supplies, but the securing of transportation facilities in order to transport them to the other side. I was in New York city when the government took possession of the forty Dutch boats in that harbor. My room window was located on Riverside drive along the Hudson river opposite the moorings of four of these boats, and I saw the United States Marines arrive to take charge and I saw them replace the Red, White and Blue Dutch flag with the Red, White and Blue flag of the U. S. A. Since the acquisition of these boats the troops have been handled much more rapidly, and for the most part upon arrival at eastern ports do not break camp but go at once on board the transports. I passed many troop trains, and I can easily believe that the American troops are being transported very rapidly at this time. I have found many of the army camps today with only a few thousand men where sixty day ago they were carrying their full quota of at least 10 times their present enrollment.

"From Pittsburgh to the Atlantic coast the transportation congestion is acute, and it is little wonder to me that such products as cast iron and steel, and other materials, are being shipped by rail, and are being turned out every few hours. They leave the overhead tracks as the last operation, dropping into the lake and moving off under their own power, each one maned by its permanent crew.

East Realizes Burden.

"The keen appreciation of the burden on us as a nation, seems to be more pronounced in the east than it does in the west. One meets people who have real anxiety as to the outcome of the war, and each bit of war news is read with feverish eagerness. The war chest plan of many eastern cities interested me very much and should prove available working plan for any community. A local organization is perfected, trustees are elected, offices established and executive force secured. Then a canvass of the city is made. One canvass for all the war requirements, that is, all donations, not investments, such as liberty bonds, so that as each particular campaign for funds comes along, such as Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., etc., the city's quota is met promptly without a special drive with all its grief, inconvenience, burden, and inequalities, each employee subscribes half an hour's salary a week and each employer subscribes an equal sum. The funds are collected regularly and deposited in the bank subject to withdrawal by direction of trustees. The subscriptions are made for the duration of the war.

"It was my pleasure and pride to be the only Oregonian on our observation car the other evening when the news arrived that Oregon had gone over the top and was the honor state of the Union, as the first to over-subscribe its quota of the third liberty loan. Every one on the car joined in three cheers for Oregon, and I reciprocated by treating my fellow travelers with Phez which brought forth another three cheers, this time for Oregon loganberry juice."

GOOD THIS SPRING

A Combination That is Beneficial Thousands at This Time.

A superlative blood-purifying medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, taken before meals, combined with a superlative iron tonic like Peptonin, taken after meals makes the ideal course of Spring medicine.

No other medicines accomplish so much this season as these two great restoratives working together.

They reach the impure, impoverished, poisoned, devitalized blood, and the worn, run-down, over-worked, exhausted system. They relieve rheumatism, scrofula and other humors. They awaken the appetite, aid digestion, give renewed strength and produce sound, natural sleep.

If your liver is torpid or sluggish, your tongue is coated, you have stomach-ache or bowels troubles, you should take Hood's Pills, which are gentle and work in harmony with Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptonin.

SOLDIER LIVES ON HIGH PLANE SAYS POLLING

Christian Endeavor Worker Tells of Observations on Life in France

BOSTON, April 16.—The American in uniform is living on a higher plane than the American in civil life. This is the conclusion of Dr. Daniel A. Polling, associate president and citizenship superintendent of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, who returned today after a stay of five weeks with the soldiers of the United States in France.

"The American soldier overseas is true to the finest traditions of American arms," said Dr. Polling. "The stories of wholesale drunkenness and vice are not true.

"My own investigations, conducted under every condition of army life and in every training camp of any size where American soldiers are gathered together in France, substantiate the figures of these military authorities which prove that the American in uniform is today living on a higher moral plane than the American of civil life. My word to the mothers and fathers of this country is one of reassurance and cheer.

In Front Line Trenches.

Dr. Polling visited first line trenches, was at one time under shell fire while assisting the wounded and on another occasion was gassed. When the Germans made their first gas attack on United States troops, Dr. Polling was caught in the deadly fumes.

Dr. Polling brought home a message to the young people of the United States from General Pershing, a letter from David Lloyd George, the British premier; and the first war cross awarded to an American soldier by the French government. The latter was the proud possession of Lieutenant Patterson of Indiana, who was in the thick of the fighting and, doubtful of his own fate, wished to make sure that his badge of honor found its way to the country for which it was won.

Pershing Sends Letter.

Writing under date of March 4 and addressing himself to the young people of the churches of America," General Pershing said:

"I am glad to have the opportunity of sending you greetings and hearty approval of the concerted support the church forces of the country, through you, are giving the government. The great active moral influence of the churches of America cannot fail to add power to the nation.

"After all, it is to the young people, whose vision reaches far into the future and whose aggressiveness of spirit gives force to their will, that the country looks for strength. Your efforts will serve to unite our people more closely in their determination to give the down-trodden throughout the world the same free democracy that we ourselves enjoy.

"While the young people at home may be depended upon to do their full part, the soldiers who represent you, encouraged by your loyalty, may be depended upon to give a good account of themselves in this battle for the principles of liberty."

WIDOW FINALLY WINS IN SUIT

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Cronise Gets Artisan Insurance, Says Court

Judge Galloway of the lower court for Linn county, was reversed by the supreme court yesterday in an opinion written by Justice Rees. In the opinion of the United Artisans as insurance agent, Elizabeth F. Cronise, defendant, and Mabel Cronise, Harry Cronise and Mabel Cronise, plaintiffs, defendants and respondents. The case was to determine the beneficiary under an insurance certificate in the Artisans.

Harry H. Cronise, deceased, whose insurance in the Artisans was $2000, and the son and daughter, Harry Cronise and Mabel Cronise, were first designated as beneficiaries. Then Cronise married and had the benefit certificate changed to his wife, Elizabeth F. Cronise. Some years later it was again transferred to the son and daughter. Cronise died May 2, 1916, and the next day the Artisans received through the mail the benefit certificate that had been issued payable to the son and daughter with the request that it be cancelled and a new one issued payable to Elizabeth F. Cronise. The Artisans, not knowing of the death, made the change, but the new benefit certificate was never delivered.

Because of the change and by virtue of an alleged agreement entered into at the time of their marriage that each would take out life insurance in favor of the other, the appellant claimed the fund, which the Artisans turned into court to be contested for by the litigants. The children claimed that Mrs. Cronise used undue influence over the Artisans when he was on his deathbed, that the last attempt to transfer was not in harmony with the by-laws of the Artisans and that the alleged contract between the husband and wife had not been made. Judge Galloway of the lower court for Linn county found for the children and Mrs. Cronise appealed.

Former Health Commissioner Says Nuxated Iron

Should Be Used in Every Hospital and Prescribed by Every Physician—Attributes His Own Great Physical Activity Today at Over 60 Years of Age Largely To His Personal Use of Nuxated Iron

WHAT FORMER HEALTH COMMISSIONER KERR SAYS

As Health Commissioner of the City of Chicago, I was importuned many times to recommend different medicines, mineral waters, etc. Never yet have I given my approval or any particular remedy, but I feel that in Nuxated Iron an exception should be made to the rule. I have taken Nuxated Iron myself and experienced its health-giving, strength-building effect, and in the interests of the public welfare, I feel it my duty to make known the results of its use. I am well past my three-score years and want to say that I believe that my own great activity is due largely today to my personal use of Nuxated Iron, and if my endorsement shall induce anemic, nervous, rundown men and women to take Nuxated Iron, and receive the wonderful tonic benefits which I have received, I shall feel greatly gratified that I made an exception to my life-long rule in recommending it.

From my own experience with Nuxated Iron I feel that it is such a valuable remedy that it ought to be used in every hospital and prescribed by every physician in this country.

Former Health Commissioner, City of Chicago

MANUFACTURERS NOTE—Nuxated Iron, which has been used by Former Health Commissioner Kerr with such surprising results is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to all everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the stomach, and does not upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or physician who will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by Daniel J. Fry, Fry's Drug Store and all other druggists.

BETTER ADDRESS ABROAD ASKED

Postal Agent With U. S. Army Tells Reason Why Much Mail Is Slow

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 1.—More complete addresses on mail for soldiers will insure prompt delivery, according to a statement issued today at the request of John Clark, postal agent in charge of the handling of the American expeditionary forces. There have been many complaints from officers and men about the time it takes for letters and packages from home to reach them.

The greatest cause of delay is said to be improper or insufficient addresses. All letters to American troops in France should be legibly addressed and the addresses should contain the rank, full name and initials of the addressee as well as organization, regiment and company.

It should be remembered that there are many men of the same name in France and there is no assurance that a letter improperly or insufficiently addressed will reach the man for whom it is intended, even if it passes through the military statistical division. The delay is bound to be great if quantities of letters constantly are passing through the statistical division, the records being searched for each one. All letters and packages also should have upon them a return address.

It is explained that there is certain to be some delay in mail delivery, because of disturbed sea and land traffic conditions, but proper addressing, it is said, will eliminate much cause for complaint in the future.

VOLCANO MAY BE ACTIVE AGAIN

Halemaumau Presents Most Spectacular Appearance in Many Years

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 13.—Activity in the fiery pit of Halemaumau, volcano of Kilauea, has drawn the attention of the people of the possibilities of another serious eruption.

Careful study of the history of the volcanoes of Kilauea and Mauna Loa by volcanologist T. A. Jaggar, in charge of the Kilauea Observatory, has developed the fact that great eruptions occur in cycles of approximately 130 years, which may effect several volcanoes at the same time.

This 130 year period seems to be definitely established, but there is also a secondary period of accumulation and discharge of lava every nine or ten years, alternating in Kilauea and Mauna Loa, with marked rise of the lava column in each volcano, about every three years.

The present great rise of the lava in Kilauea is a little ahead of schedule. The year 1920 would be the end of 130-year and 65-year cycles, but a matter of two years is considered close enough approximation by scientists.

The volcano presents a more spectacular appearance now than for many years previously.

LITTLE SIDELIGHTS ON THE WAR

The war is costing Australia over $600,000,000 a year.

Great Britain now has 123,500 war widows on her pension list.

Soldiers in the Italian army are given cigars as part of their daily rations.

The Overseas Club of London has collected nearly $5,000,000 for war purposes.

Dogs in Milan, Italy, are on ration tickets for biscuits.

The military surgeons have found creped paper a very satisfactory substitute for cotton gauze bandages.

The Germans have made almost 100 aeroplane raids over London during the three and one-half years of the war.

Human hair is being extensively used by the Germans for belting and strapping, owing to the scarcity of leather and textile fibers.

Babies, Tourists, Chocolate Soldiers, Hard Thinkers, and Neutrals are some of the nicknames borne by different contingents of the Australian forces fighting in Europe.

Germany's newest war department is an Imperial Clogs Office. It is to deal exclusively with the acquisition and distribution of wood suitable for use as soles for boots and shoes.

The war has created a great boom in the fishing industry of the British Isles. Some of the old fishing skippers are said to have paid taxes this year on income amounting to $35,000 and over.

Sir Douglas Haig, commander of the British forces on the Continent; Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, First Lord of the British Admiralty, and Sir Eric Geddes, directing head of the British navy, are all Scotchmen.

Exploration parties to discover the wealth lost under the waves are being organized in England to begin work immediately the war is ended. The route from England to India is strewn with treasure of lost vessels estimated to total $400,000,000.

Many chaplains with the allied forces in France make it a point of writing to the parents or relations of every man killed in action in their brigade, a labor of love which is
