OUR SNAP, SCHNAPPY AD. TOOK well last week, and we had three buyers, for the property, and who each said they would take the bungalow at the price advertised $1500. So we labeled them first, chance—second chance—third chance of course one was all we needed, and it is sold without a dollar of reduction. Now we have two parties who want like props, and we nave not got them, because we doubt if they are to be found in Salem. Thats what we get for telling the exact and strict facts and that is wnat we are after namely that when we say we have a bargain, you can depend on it. That is our aim and policy. Now here is one for a poorer client, but as good proportionately as last weeks snappy snap. A 4-room house with a bara that carpenter says can't be built for less than $150, several fruit trees, a 5ex100 lot for $375, half cash. G) to it. See me at 311 State street. William Fleming.

HAVE A 50 ACRE FARM THAT strikes me as a good buy, and if any-body reads this who is on the buy for such a thing, I wish he would come and see me. It is a little over $100 (a mere trifle), and I will gladly show it to you (except on Tuesday) early in the week, near school, running water, good seil, fair buildings, close to Electric, $1000 tash will handle it. William Fleming of Fleming Realty Co.

GOING FORWARD-THE FOLOWING is an extract from a letter just re-ceived from W. C. Hagerty, Secretary of the Oregon Fire Relief Association of McMinnville: "It is with a great deal of pleasure that we congratulate our agents on the start they have made in 1918. We wrote m excess of $3,000,000 insurance during the first three months or the year. The greatest amount of insurance written during the first three months of any year during our entire history This is a gain of nearly 25 per cent over last year. Our losses so far this year have been 25% less than last year." The people of Oregon have been coming to the O. F. R. A. for insurance in still increasing numbers during the past few years, 1917 was a hunner year for hysters. a banner year for business for this company but the present year seems destined to break all previous records and set new record notch.
