22 Million Families in the United States

4 CUPS OF WHEAT FLOUR TO THE POUND

If each family used 4 cups of flour less per week, the saving would be 22 million pounds or 112,244 barrels every week.

The greatest help housekeepers can give to win the war is to make this saving and it can be done by using this recipe in place of white flour bread.

Corn Meal Biscuits

cup scalded milk 1 cup corn meal 2 tablespoons shorter

Save 1 cup of the measured flour for board. Pour milk over corn meal, add shortening and salt. When cold, add sifted flour and baking powder. Roll out lightly on floured board. Cut with biscuit cutter and bake in greased pan fifteen to twenty minutes.

The Pacific International league baseball will be a weekly feature of camp athletic life, it was announced today. Games will be played Saturdays, Sundays and Wednesdays with league teams and other teams of the northwest and a small admission charge will be made to pay necessary expenses and keep up the equipment for the Camp Lewis team. The team will be called the Camp Lewis team rather than the 91st division team, because several o fthe players are members of organizations not a part of the 91st division but who are stationed at camp. Twilight games will be played later in the season, the games starting at 6 o'clock. The daylight saving law makes this easily accomplished.

Lientenant George Lacombe, chap- Salem Man Holds Important Position in France—Tells Experiences

One of the most venturesome spirits among the Americans in France today is George E. Halvorsen old pet of the 91st division, who has of Salem, who is head of the supply and maintenance division of motor transportation for the whole of France. Halvorsen enlisted for Y. M. C. A. work and his ability as a motor expert landed the important position almost as soon as he arrived overseas. He has been under shell fire and gas attacks and writes as if he enjoyed it all. Halvorsen has wide authority and has had the experience of assigning several men of wealth and distinction to ordinary positions.

in a letter to O. B. Gingrich, Halvorsen expresses his admiration for the American soldier, who, he thinks, will give a great account of himself as soon as he is given an opportunity. He writes as follows:

'Am ashamed to think that haven't written you before but know that you will forgive me. You have likely heard from Watson and Elvin and they, I am sure, have told you of my work here so you will know that I am a pretty busy person, to say the least. We got along fine in New York city and were surely treated fine. Helped in the office there all we could so got quite an 'nsight of the working of the war council. Were assigned to good places here by them, better than we had expected, then after a rather rough and strenuous journey across the pond landed in England and were received very kindly there and had a chance to visit a good many places of note, all very interesting to us westerners.

"Wouldn't want to trade any good Oregon property for any we saw in England, though, at that. They are too many years behind the times to suit me. After staying in Enge land several days we crossed the channel and arrived at our destination somewhere in France, finding conditions very much better in every way here than we had expected, especially much better than in England. Got our first square meal the day we landed in France that we had since on ship board, so you will understand what I mean.

"Found this part of the world uite to our liking and our first impression was better than we had expected it to be. The climate here is much like our own except in the mountains where of course it is much colder and find it quite a hardship muddy quarters, but they are soldiers of the highest degree and hear but to do their part and do it gladly Never saw a better bunch of fellows enywhere and Old William will know they are here before very long. Germans fear our men more than any of the rest if the truth were

"On arriving in Paris found our headquarters to be much to our likng, good substantial business-like quarters in charge of men of the 'or the splendid way that they are carrying out the great work, especially when we consider that we are so far away from our base of supplies and the gain in growth that has taken place over here. Eight months ago they started in with twenty-three office rooms and have grown until now we are using 130 offices and still crowded for room for it surely takes a large organization to handle all thhat is required of us to keep hings going in a business way. You can feel assured that the money given to the Y. M. C. A. is carefully handled and is doing the very best kind of service to our boys that is possible under existing conditions. Don't know what our soldier laddies would do if it were not for the Y. M C. A. and all have a good word and cheer for the work. They consider that we are part of the regular army here for we wear the regular army clothes and are under army regula-

"Our commander-in-chief, Mr. Carter, is one of the most upright men that I have ever met and has a wonderful influence over all the situation. Also Mr. Shipp, the treasurer, is a splendid man and very capable of handling the affairs of the institution. I know both men personally, having to consult with them quite often. My position here s the head of the supply and maination, so you can imagine the job ! have, not only for one division as had expected, but for all of France, and it surely keeps me busy first figuring out what was needed then conditions existing and how things were done in a strange country with a strange tongue, but am glad to say that we have things quite well in charge to date and the last orm a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain. Instead of trimming your corns which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of freezone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all, up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug never ineven irritates rounding tissue or skin.

all motor transportation also as our chief had to go away for a vacation. in idleness. I am very proud to be here and know that I may have at least a part in the great fight for the freedom of the world. It surely is a great game, this war game, for we have to move our men about like men on a checker board.

"Are using now nearly 300 trucks are getting more all the time and every day some being wrecked or blown up. So it goes. Our greatest things that they possibly can to help of the highest degree and hear but out without grumbling. So many little complaining. All are striving come over here for, I don't know what, seemingly just to see the sights or to get a soft job so they won't have to dirty their hands, but we need more men to be willing to go wher sent and do what is asked of them. Never saw a better melting filed with the public service pot of men than this. We soon find out what a man is made of and if he has a yellow streak or not, for wealth or distinction don't count over here. As soon as a fellow gets on the uniform and is assigned to a lepartment he looks just like any other person and is expected to do his part like a man. I have had the leasure of assigning men of great realth and distinciton to just ordinary positions, and in most cases they have made good. Some we have to send back. I would like to ell you more about this, but had setier not just now. My first job here was to go to the different camps and check up all stocks on hand, supplies of all sorts, and to get a general idea of the workings of our department for future use. Was out just ten days doing this. Visited thirty-five different places, saw our men under all conditions and in all tinds of places, was up as near to the German lines as any of our men are possibly permitted to go, and saw Why I Believe one Y camp in a dugout, the only one that is close enough to hear our men talk in the front line outpost. So you can imagine how close it is and it surely is a great blessing to the soldiers, for as each shift of guard is made they go out from there after getting a good hot dring and something to eat. We wer shelled while I was there, so I know how the rest feel now from actual experience. Have also been gassed several times and can put ou a gos mask as quick as any one. Our boys in the front trenches are a great lot, one can't help but just love them all, big, brave, manly fellows, not complaining and going ahead just ike there was no sign of an enemy, unafraid and trusting for the best.

"These trips with provisions have to be made after dark to the outpost camps, and one has to wonder how they are made each time without some bad fatality, but so far have not lost a man. On one occasion a large shell burst right behind us, but we were unaurt so thought nothing of it. Surely was a great experience for me, one that I shall never forget.

"I am sending you a few clippings that will speak for themselves and perhaps will be of interest to you. Will give you an idea of what the Y is doing over here. Mr. Watson is Will give you an idea of what the Y is doing over here. Mr. Watson is still in Paris at his job getting our movement orders and Elvin is in the field, both getting on very well and foing very good work and are well. Saw Dr. Doney when he arrived and enjoyed a good visit with him but have not seen him lately. Have seen a good many of the Salem boys but will not take time to write about them this time. They were well, though, and getting along nicely."
