

Vote 12 X C. E. ALBIN

Salem has been my residence for eight years and I have at all times taken an active part in the things designed to promote the interest of the citizens of the Capital city.

If elected mayor I shall perform the duties of that office and see that the laws and ordinances are enforced, and use every effort to make and keep this a city the reputation of which will be clean in every respect, and the pride of those who reside and carry on business within its limits.

I shall assist in every possible way in securing for Salem new enterprises, and urge and work for civic improvements, in my judgment extreme care and economy should be used during the period of the war, our first duty as citizens of these great United States being to assist those in charge of governmental affairs, and our boys at the front in making the world safe for democracy.

I will at all times guard the interest of the tax payer and see that the citizens of Salem receive full value for every dollar of expenditure in public improvements, upkeep and administration of the affairs of the city.

68 X Ballot Number X 68

Republican Candidate FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

Ben E. Robertson

Turner, Oregon.

For Strict Business Administration.

Ben E. Robertson has always been 100 per cent Republican and 100 per cent patriotic; has always been loyal to the Republican party; has been County Chairman for four years; worked hand in hand with Senator C. L. McNary during the last campaign—McNary as State Chairman, Robertson as County Chairman. His opponent is seeking a fourth term. Will the Republicans forget the good work done by the County Chairman?

Z. J. RIGGS

CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE OF MARION COUNTY

If nominated and elected I shall work for every measure which appeals to me to be for the good of Marion County and the State at large.

I favor the strictest economy in all expenses connected with the Legislative session so that all funds possible can be used toward the winning of the war.

A vote for Z. J. Riggs will be a vote for economy and efficiency.

BRUCE DENNIS

For REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN

I believe a political committee should elect candidates, not select them.

The Republican party is 100 per cent American. Its business now is to help win the war. Let us join together and make the Republican party in Oregon a real, live, active institution for all members—instead of a closely woven Personal Machine.

55 X IVAN G. MARTIN

Republican, Candidate for

REPRESENTATIVE

Legislate for Economy, Home-Production, Soldiers Voting, National Unity, and Reduce Profit-taking.

Born 1881. Related to money family of Marion county—the Watts, 1845. Moderate taxpayer in three counties of Oregon. Was a member of 1917 session.

Educated in the country public schools, Business College, Willamette University and University of California. Farmer boy, store clerk, reporter on newspaper, lawyer since 1912. Member of 1917 session of legislature.

Having had the experience of one session, I feel that my record and your interests justify my re-election. I have no interest to serve other than the interest of our country, state and nation. If elected, I will serve that interest only.

GUARD FIRES AT LOG IN STREAM

Hint of Thrill Caused By Incident in Search for Jeff Baldwin

Major Deleh said late last night that Jeff Baldwin undoubtedly has been seen in the north part of the county. Citizens living between Woodburn and Broadacres reported seeing at close range a suspicious appearing stranger, and when shown photographs of Baldwin identified them as likeness of the man they had seen.

A rifle shot fired at a floating log in the Willamette river by a guard from the state military police at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, is the only incident in the last forty-eight hours to cause any hint of a thrill in the man hunt for Jeff Baldwin, escaped convict. The guard was stationed on the Salem river front and saw an object floating in the middle of the stream. In the darkness the object had the appearance of a canoe and the guard thought he heard the splash of an oar. He fired one shot and when the object floated nearer he was able to determine that it was a log. The officers defend the action of the guard in firing the shot and persons living along the river are warned not to use boats at night without a light, while the man hunt is on.

May Be Going North.

A sergeant of the state police who is stationed at Wilsonville reported in yesterday afternoon that a man had been seen on the Oregon Electric between that place and Malloy and that motorcycles had been sent to intercept him. The incident serves to strengthen the belief that Baldwin is making his way north.

The state police and penitentiary posse yesterday were working on a clew at Woodburn. It has developed that a house near that place was entered by burglars Monday night, clothing exchanged by the intruder and food taken from the dwelling. A brown coat was found near the place. The importance of the clew is diminished somewhat by the fact that a prisoner was released from the county jail here recently and given a brown coat when he left the prison. Some of Baldwin's pursuers believe it was the released prisoner who entered the house near Woodburn, not the fugitive convict.

Not Afraid of Rain.

The officers do not believe the inclement weather of the last several days will discourage Baldwin in his effort to get out of the state. He encountered similar weather when he escaped before and after his capture to the guard he was in better condition after being soaked by the rain than before. Baldwin is sometimes troubled with rheumatism in his feet. This was partially responsible for his capture at the time of the former break from the prison and the officers believe it may impede his progress now.

After the previous break Baldwin and another fugitive lived mainly on chickens stolen from farmyards, but were compelled to eat them half cooked over meager fires, because of danger of being betrayed by light or smoke from their hidden camps. It is believed Baldwin is now sustaining himself in a similar manner.

SHERIFF FOLLOWS CLEW.

Woodburn, Or., May 15.—Sheriff Needham with a posse and bloodhounds were here this morning from Salem looking for the escaped convict Jeff Baldwin. Word had reached the sheriff that a house had been broken into in East Woodburn and a bicycle and coat stolen. While here he heard of a breakfast being stolen from a residence Tuesday morning and eaten in a basement of a vacant building.

Olcott Predicts He Will Take Big Lead in State

Ben W. Olcott, in a statement issued yesterday, predicts that he will carry the state for the Republican gubernatorial nomination by a lead of from 5000 to 10,000 votes. He declares that he expects to carry not less than twenty-two counties and that Multnomah county will give him a handsome lead.

Olcott says he is basing his statement upon a systematic survey made of nearly every precinct in the state, and asserts that the reports reaching him are more favorable for his success than pre-election reports in any other campaign in which he has been a participant.

PROMINENT MEN OF TUCSON HELD

Twenty Citizens Must Face Charges in Connection With Deportation of Miners

BISBEE, Ariz., May 15.—Twenty of the most prominent citizens of the Bisbee mining district were arrested today on indictments returned by the United States grand jury at Tucson last week in connection with the deportation, July 12, last, of 1186 copper miners and others from Bisbee and the Warren district.

The men are charged with "conspiracy to deprive a citizen of the United States of his rights in violation of section 19 of penal code." The men appeared before an acting United States commissioner and gave bond of $5000 each to appear before Judge William H. Sawtelle at Tucson, May 25, for preliminary hearing.

Another man for whom the officers had a warrant tonight, was reported to be in New York city. He is said to be a man prominent in mining and financial circles throughout the country.

The arrests were accomplished without excitement. U. S. Marshal Dillon, who served the warrants, sent word to all the men to call on him. They responded quickly and within half an hour all had been served.

Novel School Conducted For Army Photographers

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 12.—With more than 800 men enrolled representing every state in the Union, the army school of aerial photography here recently finished its first term of instruction, and the men who have taken the course of intensified training are anticipating an early assignment as members of the signal corps, to one of the fighting flying divisions abroad.

More than 200 men for whom accommodations could not be found here, have been sent to Madison barracks, Sackett harbor, N. Y., for a period of military training before they begin their photographic work here.

All of the facilities of a large factory here have been placed at the disposal of Captain C. F. Betz, the school commandant and his assistants. Officers from the allied armies, who have seen actual service in the flying zone, have been detailed to the school to instruct those whose task it will be to operate and maintain the photographic devices of the scouting airman.

Details of the course of instruction naturally have not been made public. When the men first arrived in Rochester and were taken to barracks the process of enrollment and classification was the same as that at any army post. The post surgeon passed on their physical qualifications, vaccinated them and gave them the customary paratyphoid inoculations.

Several days of military training followed so that the men now present the appearance of trained soldiers. Then they were taken into the laboratories where the latest and most approved methods of photographic processes were taught them. They were shown not only how to operate the cameras used by the airman, but also how to repair them. The graduated student will know how to develop and print the negatives he takes.

The assurance is given that the training at this school will result in the graduation of a new type of soldier, who will be in great demand in the fighting zone.

Plans are formulating to give the men practical experience aloft. Arrangements are being made to have a detail of army flyers sent to Rochester. If they come, hangars will be built for their use south of the city, and the photographers will be taken up with the necessary apparatus to photograph the country over which flight is made.

The opportunity to benefit by the training at the school has been much sought after. Little difficulty is expected in obtaining enough recruits for the next several more classes to come.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary unsulfated cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get unsulfated cocoanut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Another North Ender.

Editor Statesman:

I note the appeal, in yesterday's paper, of the north enders to the people of Salem to support our candidate for county commissioner, W. H. Goulet.

I think this appeal ought to go to the people of all the county, for Mr. Goulet is not a sectional candidate, and has not been a sectional commissioner.

He has been a commissioner for the whole of Marion county, and will

GAS RATE TALK NO. 7

The following extract from the Annual Report of John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency, to Congress, has an important bearing on the subject of these Talks:

"Corporations proved by their own figures to be approaching bankruptcy can not obtain money for improvements or maintenance. On the other hand, banks and citizens suffering severe losses from investments in the securities of these entirely legitimate and once promising enterprises will be discouraged from lending money to the Government or deprived of the means to lend.

The first and most direct relief to the public utilities corporations can be given by the State public utilities commissions and municipal and local authorities, with the broad-minded co-operation of the people generally, understanding the necessities of war and realizing that the more promptly its burdens are accepted the sooner they will be lifted. It is essential that forbearance and consideration be exercised by the State Commissions and municipal authorities, and that the corporations also be permitted to make such additions to their charges for service as will keep in them the breath of solvency, protect their owners against unjust loss, and give them a basis of credit on which they may obtain the funds with which to meet the strain put on them by the Government's needs. The breaking down of these Corporations would be a national calamity.

Because of the gravity of the situation in this regard, I am moved to ask for it the careful attention of the Congress and the public."
