Pressure Against Industrials and Specialties Renewed-Market Unstable

NEW YORK, May 28. - The strength of rails and renewal of pressure against industrials and specialties were the sharply defined features of today's active but unstable stock market. These divergent movements were regarded as the direct result of such recent developments as the railroad rate increase and the government's proposed taxation program, the latter bearing most heavily upon war shares and kindred issues. Over all, however, hung the foreign situation, bulletins from the western battle front contributing to the scattered liquidation and giving further encouragement to the short Selling was at its height just before noon when steel, equipments
