HUTCHASON'S INSURANCE STORY

Sixth Installment.

See that old gentleman going down the street? Do you know him? Yes that's James Withers. I've known him for 25 years. He has always worked for a small salary and never accumulated anything that I know of. He has, however, raised and educated a family of six children, all of whom are doing fairly well. What makes him walk so proudly? I don't know. Looks like a winner, doesn't he? Yes, he is a winner.

He insured his life 20 years ago today for a substantial amount and has just received notice that the policy has matured. The old gentleman is on his way from the local insurance office where he has completed arrangements to have his policy paid to himself as a monthly income for the balance of his life. He has no fears for the future.

Irrigation for 1918—For the purpose of trying to make the irrigation service more satisfactory the city will be divided into two districts so that each district will get the full service of the plant upon the day it irrigates.

The plan is to have the houses which bear even numbers on the streets irrigate only on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday, and the houses which bear odd numbers on the streets irrigate only on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. This plan will permit every house to irrigate four days out of each week.

The purpose of the Water Company in furnishing water for irrigation is not to furnish all the water a person can run through the hose in the six irrigation hours every day, but to furnish enough water to keep the lawn in condition. To use more than enough is a waste. We will pump the usual amount of water and hope to furnish it more satisfactorily. —Salem Water Light & Power Co.

WOMAN ELUDES HER ATTENDANT

Mrs. Comstock, Nearly Cured of Malady, Disappears on Crowded Street

Mrs. G. R. Comstock, a patient at the state hospital for the insane, escaped in the crowd while down town with a nurse yesterday and has not been seen since. Mrs. Comstock was almost ready to be pronounced cured and to be discharged from the hospital. She was to return in a few days to her husband in Lincoln, Neb., and had come down town accompanied with a nurse, for the purpose of purchasing some new clothes. Watching her opportunity, apparently, Mrs. Comstock eluded the nurse, took advantage of an unusually large crowd on the street and made her escape.

EDITORIALS OF THE PEOPLE

(The Statesman is pleased to print communications upon topics of general interest at any time. There is scarcely any limit to the topics of general interest which it is asked only that correspondents refrain from personalities and use care that nothing be written of a libelous nature. Letters must have writer's name and address, though not necessarily for publication.—Ed.)

Tribute To Young Citizens
Editor Statesman:
A pleasing feature of Memorial Day is the help given the women of the Relief Corps by some of the pupils of the Lincoln school.

In honor of their comrades sleeping on the hillside, a committee from the post goes out the day before Memorial day and places a new flag in the marker that designates every soldier's grave. In the evening of the 29th a committee of W. R. C. workers, follows to place flowers on every flag marked grave.

To share this work for two years past, some pupils from Lincoln school have been asked. Last year their commander detailed a squad of Boy Scouts to lead them. Wednesday, about a score of from Lincoln joined at the cemetery, where we were making bouquets from flower contributed by the Highland school and brought by Post commander Hudelson. The children brought the flowers gathered by their school and the McKinley, in memory of our soldier dead. As we worked busily tying up bouquets for near 200 graves the children with willing eager feet chased up and down the long aisles of the two cemeteries and it is very seldom that marked grave escapes their bright eyes.

We praise the loyalty and patriotism of our brave boys and our nurses at the front, but we have lots more of the same material here at home in the boys and girls of our public schools.

We praise them and thank them and their faithful teachers for their loyal service in the observance of Memorial Day, 1918.

—Alice E. Caldwell,
—Sarah Drager,
—Mary E. Watson,
Committee on Decorations.

BIG PROJECTS ARE APPROVED

P. R. L. & P. Co. to Increase Facilities at Cost of $1,550,000

Projects of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company estimated at a total cost of $1,550,000 to increase power facilities in Portland were approved relative to water rights on the Clackamas river by State Engineer Lewis yesterday. One of the applications approved is for an appropriation of 67 second feet of stored water together with the water of Clackamas river for the development of 10,000 horsepower. The development will involve construction of a flume four miles long which, together with the power plant, will cost approximately $1,250,000.

Another application receiving approval is for construction of the Timothy meadows reservoir on Oak creek in Clackamas county for the storage of 40,400 acre feet of water. The project involves the building of a dam eighty feet high and 442 feet long and the estimated cost is $300,000.

Terms of agreement with the engineer's office require that the company begin construction within a year and complete the projects within five years. The projects were started by the company several years ago and later dropped. Increased demand for power in Portland and the probability that the demand will continue to increase presumably is the reason for renewing work on the projects.

HOFF EXPRESSES HIS GRATITUDE

Successful Candidate for Treasurer Thanks Friends and Workers

Gratitude for the support given him in the primary election of May 17 is expressed by O. P. Hoff, successful candidate for the Republican nomination for state treasurer, in a statement issued Saturday. He said:

"To all who manifested their confidence in me to the extent of supporting me in the primary campaign, which has resulted in my nomination for the office of state treasurer on the Republican ticket, I desire to express my thanks and assurances of appreciation. I am particularly grateful to my personal friends, those who know me best, for their loyal support and efforts in my behalf and to the press of the state for the spirit of fairness manifested in the recent campaign.

"While it was impossible for all candidates to have been successful and some disappointment must necessarily have been felt on that account, I feel sure that all accept the verdict of the people in the spirit of true democracy and citizenship and that all will stand shoulder to shoulder for a united Republican ticket at the general election in November.

"I am especially grateful for the spirit of friendship and assistance of loyal support conveyed to me in messages and congratulations from friends the state and, when elected to the office of state treasurer, I can assure one and all that I shall serve all of the people with the same measure of justice, fairness and equality."
