

Flares and Flickers

Big Bill Hart in "The Prowlers of the Plains" will be heard at the Oregon theatre today and tomorrow.

Charlie Ray is now working on "A Nine O'clock Town," by Victor Novak, who is also directing the picture. Jane Novak, who has recently been supporting Bill Hart to much good advantage, plays the leading feminine role.

Three selected Hippodrome vaudeville acts at the Bligh today.

Dorothy Dalton is resting in San Francisco—if one can rest in Frisco.

The "Fall of the Romanoffs" is the big picture that will be shown in town. It shows the Kaiser's unshaken work for a separate peace. Russia, it features Illodor, the former confidant of Rasputin in the past, to be shown at the Liberty theatre next Thursday and Saturday.

The musical Irving a refined vaude-

Mary Pickford will be seen in her latest Artercraft production "M'Liss" at the Oregon today. It deals with gold rush days of California showing a ragged little girl battling with the shrewd, strong men of that day and winning out by the sheer loveliness of her personality.

Jack Mulhall in "Madame Spy" will be the feature at the Bligh today with the Hippodrome vaudeville show.

Marguerite Clark will score her greatest triumph at the Oregon next Sunday in her latest Paramount play "Rich Man, Poor Man". Her dainty sense of humor and an powerful art are given full play.

Charlie Chaplin will be seen at the Bligh again next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

A new Sunshine comedy, "Hungry

Lions in a Hospital," will be on the program at the Liberty today.

Jewel Carmen, who was seen with William Farnum in "The Conqueror," at the Liberty last Sunday will be seen again today in "Honor and Obey." She is featured this time with Gladys Brockwell.

Sessue Hayakawa the noted Japanese actor will be seen Wednesday and Thursday in "The White Man's Law" at the Oregon theatre. An excellent story which depicts life and character on the West Coast of Africa.

Ella Hall and Emory Johnson, two of the Bluebird favorites, will be seen in "A Mother's Secret" at the Liberty next Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Joan the Woman" has been booked for another showing in Salem. It will be at the Bligh theatre soon.

A big comedy vaudeville bill at the Bligh today.

"The Biggest Shown on Earth" at The Oregon next Friday and Saturday, featuring the beautiful Australian actress Enid Bennett.

"Over the Top," featuring Sgt. Arthur Guy Emphy himself has been booked for the Liberty theatre and will be shown at a near date.

"Anytime I'm wanted to go to war, I'm ready," says Bill Hart. "I've seen wars and I've seen Liberty Loan drives—give me war." Bill's admirers nearly banquipped him to death on his recent Loan tour, and he almost cracked under the strain.

Ambassador Gerard in "My Four Years in Germany" will be shown in Salem soon.

Leon Domque, a fine looking young chap who is a wonderful pianist presents under the title of "The Paderewski of Vaudeville," a piano number that is a remarkable exhibition of instrumentation on the Hippodrome show at the Bligh theatre today.

Jones and Johnson, two real colored comedians, will furnish an abundance of laughs in their offering, consisting of singing, talking and dancing on the Hippodrome show at the Bligh today.

Arthur and Dolly Le Roy in a comedy singing, talking and acrobatic dancing number on the Hippodrome show at the Bligh theatre today.

A big double show at the Liberty theatre today and tomorrow.

In "The Fall of the Romanoffs," which comes to the Liberty theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Herbert Brenon has an exact replica of the Russian village of Tobolsk in which Rasputin lived until he decided to become a religious preacher, and which now is the residence of the Czar in his exile. In the "Fall of the Romanoffs" Herbert Brenon shows the removal of the ex-Emperor and his family from the palace, and their transformation to a lowly estate.

One woman against the world forms the theme of the new William Fox photoplay starring Gladys Brockwell, "To Honor and Obey," which opens at the Liberty theatre today for a run of three days. In this production, Miss Brockwell, the "Girl of a Thousand Expressions," fights against heart-breaking odds and comes from the fray weary but victorious.

"Daughter of Destiny" is the title of Madame Petrova's first photoplay from her own studio. The distinguished star has created another screen notability in the person of Marion Ashley, an impulsive American girl who suffers and triumphs greatly when drawn into the web of modern secret diplomacy. At the Liberty theatre soon.

In a new million-dollar hotel just opened in Baltimore a woman presides behind the desk to welcome the arriving and speed the departing guest.

BIG CONTINGENT GOES

Board No. 1 Sends Forty-Seven Recruits to Fort McDowell

Promptly at the appointed time last night the group of forty-seven selected men called from division No. 1 to Fort McDowell were on hand at the court house, the court room and halls being filled with a crowd of friends and relatives of the drafted men. Addresses were made by Commander A. B. Hudelson and other members of the G. A. R. post and by Attorney Roy Shields and R. K. Page.

At the close of the meeting and a few minutes before the men were lined up for the march to the depot, a romantic incident broke in upon the sombre atmosphere of the building and created a ripple of smiles among the tears of relatives and sweethearts. One young couple, W. H. Haynes, of the draft contingent, and Miss Josephine Marie Troy, slipped away to the county clerk's office, secured a marriage license, and were made man and wife in the office of County Judge Bushy. A few of their friends who were "wise" to the proceedings, waited them at the foot of the stairs and as they descended they were met with a shower of rice, with an accompaniment of laughter and congratulations.

Hundreds Say Good-Bye This was the largest contingent to go from this point and a crowd of several hundred citizens were gathered about the court house to cheer them as they marched away. A larger number went with them to the depot, where they were addressed briefly by Louis Lachmund.

The young man Cratty, who had failed to turn in his report, was still missing last night and no effort on the part of the war board availed to find a clue to his whereabouts.

The departure of this group is to be accepted as only an earnest of many calls that will follow one after another, each one coming with great urgency. Yesterday there were in the hands of the war board two telegrams from Provost Marshal General Crowder. One of them announced Call No. 663, ordering that during the five-day period beginning June 24 the boards of the state were to enroll and entrain for Camp Lewis 2000 men, to be selected from Class 1, qualified for general military service. As far as possible they are to exclude those who are assiduously engaged in the planting and cultivation of crops, but if the allotment cannot be made up without drawing upon this class, the boards are instructed to use their discretion in selecting men who can best be spared. The number to be enrolled in the Salem office under this call is sixty-five men.

Machinists Are Wanted. The other telegram reads in part as follows:

"Call Number 598 upon this state is announced by the Provost Marshal General as follows: Complete the entrainment for Portland of 200 grammar school graduates who have had some experience along mechanical lines and some aptitude for mechanical work, to report to commanding officer of school district No. 1, on June 15.

"Only white men and men physically qualified for general military service are to be furnished under this call. The men received for this service will receive a course of training at government expense, fitting them to serve in army positions, requiring knowledge of auto mechanics, general mechanics, blacksmithing, sheet metal work, plumbing, carpentry and radio operating, incident to many kinds of military service, both at the front and behind the lines. This is an exceptional opportunity for energetic and ambitious men."

All young men in draft district No. 1, Marion county who are qualified to respond to his call are urged to present themselves promptly to the local registration boards, who are authorized to induct qualified men until their quotas are filled. The period for volunteering will include June 7, and after that no more volunteers will be accepted. If a sufficient number has not been enrolled by June 8, the registration boards are authorized to select in sequence of order numbers a sufficient number of qualified men from Class 1 to fill its allotment, selecting only those who have completed at least a grammar school education and have had some experience along mechanical lines, and some aptitude for mechanical work. Each man must carry with him at least two suits of underclothing, one suit of outer clothing in good condition, on sweater, a stout pair of shoes, three extra pairs of socks and two bath towels, as he will be kept in civilian clothing during the first three weeks until he can be supplied with a uniform and other clothing.

The number to be furnished by the Salem board under the call is eleven men.

COMMUNITY PIG STIES.

LONDON, April 30.—An interesting scheme for helping food production has been started in the suburb of Hampstead, one of the most desirable residential sections of London. The arrangement is for sties to be built in a field close to the suburb and the residents are to have their own pigs and maintain them there. There pigs will be far enough away from the houses not to be a nuisance and they will make good use of the food refuse of the homes. An expert is to be placed in charge of the whole enterprise.

Man Who Escaped From Hospital Very Insane

Sheriff Hurlburt of Multnomah county was yesterday notified of the escape from the state hospital for the insane of French L. Ewing, who was committed from Multnomah county March 11. While not considered dangerous Ewing is extremely insane and afflicted with delusions of hearing and imagines that he is being persecuted. He was seen near Pratum, but trace of him was lost. Ewing made his escape from a working gang. He is 38 years old and no relatives are named on the hospital records.
